Hallo Laserdisc- und DVD-Fans, liebe Filmfreunde!

Die schlechte Nachricht gleich vorweg: unsere Versandkostenpauschale für Standard-Pakete erhöht sich zum 01. Juli 2008. Ein gewöhnliches Paket kostet dann EUR 6,- (bisher: EUR 4,-), eine Nachnahmesendung erhöht sich auf EUR 13,- (bisher: EUR 9,50). Diese Preiserhöhung ist leider notwendig geworden, da unser Vertriebspartner DHL die Transportkosten zum 01. Juli 2008 anheben wird. Immerhin konnten wir unsere Versandkosten über viele Jahre hinweg konstant halten. Und das trotz drastischer Erhöhung der Mehrwertsteuer. Man möge uns diese unpopuläre Entscheidung daher verzeihen. Aber das war's dann auch schon mit den schlechten Nachrichten.

Nun zu der guten Nachricht. Ein Festivalbesuch beschert einem nicht nur schöne Filme, sondern oft auch interessante Begegnungen. Und von einer solchen Begegnung werden Sie als Leser unseres Newsletters bereits ab der nächsten Ausgabe profitieren. Frei nach dem Motto "Hallo Hollywood – hier spricht Anna!" wird sich Anna Rudschies dann für Sie in ihrer eigenen Kolumne die Finger wund schreiben.

Ob es nun um aktuelle Kinofilme, um besuchte Filmfestivals oder gar um einen nostalgischen Blick zurück auf die liebgewonnene LaserDisc geht – die angehende Journalistin weiß, wo von sie schreibt. Kennengelernt haben wir Anna während ihres Besuchs beim 1. Widescreen-Weekend in der Karlsruher Schauburg. Ein Wort ergab das andere – und schon war die junge Frau Feuer und Flamme, für den Laser Hotline Newsletter zu schreiben. Wir freuen uns jetzt schon sehr auf diese Zusammenarbeit und sind uns ganz sicher, dass sie dem redaktionellen Teil gut bekommen wird. Halten Sie also Ausschau nach Anna, wenn sie in Ausgabe 232 erstmals mit Hollywood sprechen wird...

Ansonsten bereiten wir uns schon wieder auf das nächste Filmfestival vor. Denn "Bollywood and Beyond" lädt Mitte Juli bereits zum fünften Male in die Landeshauptstadt Stuttgart, um das größte indische Filmfestival Deutschlands zu feiern. Passend dazu wird die vorliegende Ausgabe des Newsletters auf der Titelseite vom Plakatmotiv des Films OUTSOURCED geziert. Mit John Jeffcoats wunderbarer Komödie wurde das Bollywood-Festival im vergange-nen Jahr eröffnet und gelangte vor ein paar Wochen sogar ganz regulär in die deutschen Kinos. Wer den Film dort verpasst hat oder ihn (verständlicherweise) einfach noch einmal sehen möchte, der kann die US-DVD des Titels ab September in seine Filmsammlung integrieren. Der Termin für eine deutsche Veröffentlichung wurde zwar noch nicht bekanntgegeben, doch wird OUTSOURCED mit Sicherheit auch noch in diesem Jahr in Deutschland vermarktet werden. So oder so – OUTSOURCED gilt als unser Geheimtipp für einen schönen Filmabend jenseits der Mainstream-Ware.

Da wir gerade von Geheimtipps reden: sind Sie Schnäppchenjäger? Dann sollten Sie unbedingt die entsprechende Rubrik auf unserer Website besuchen. Dort haben wir unlängst über 800 weitere Titel eingestellt, die wir paketweise zu Sonderpreisen abgeben. Bei fast allen Titeln handelt es sich um original verpackte Einzelstücke. Hier gilt wieder das Prinzip "Wer zuerst kommt...". In diesem Sinne wünschen wir viel Spaß bei der Jagd!

Ihr Laser Hotline Team

Für alle Cinerama-Fans und Western-Freunde haben wir auf der nächsten Seite ein paar interessante Details zu der im August in den USA erscheinenden Neuauflage des Epos HOW THE WEST WAS WON (DAS WAR DER WILDE WESTEN) abgedruckt. Die Infos haben wir dabei im englischen Original belassen. Zur Stunde steht leider noch nicht endgültig fest, ob es diese DVD auch in einer deutschen Version geben wird.

Restoration shows how ‘West’ was done

Warner Home Video gears up to release the classic

By Thomas K. Arnold

April 30, 2008, 05:29 PM

„How The West Was Won“
Warner Home Video is gearing up for one of its most ambitious catalog releases ever.

„How the West Was Won,“ the sprawling 1962 MGM Western epic boasting an ensemble cast that includes Henry Fonda, John Wayne, Gregory Peck and James Stewart, will be released Aug. 26 in three newly restored and remastered versions.

What made the project a bit more cumbersome than others is the fact that „West“ is one of just two narrative feature films produced in the original Cinerama three-panel widescreen process, a costly proposition abandoned after just one other simultaneously shot MGM feature, „The Wonderful World of the Brothers Grimm.“

During its initial theatrical run, „West“ — a winner of three Oscars, including best original screenplay — was shown in theaters specially equipped with three synchronized projectors on extra-wide, slightly curved screens. Later, it was presented on traditional screens with the three separate panels optically joined to form a standard widescreen image, leaving two vertical „join lines“ clearly visible on the screen.

The join lines are noticeable as well on the original DVD edition of the film that Warner released in July 1998, barely a year into the format’s life cycle.

The film has been a consistent seller for Warner, and George Feltenstein, the division’s senior vp classic catalog marketing, has long wanted to produce a special edition. But he didn’t want one with those nasty join lines, he said, so he went to the technicians at Warner Bros. Motion Picture Imaging for help.

That was about five years ago. Technicians did, in fact, develop a complicated software program to eliminate the lines, and about 18 months ago they began an exhaustive frame-by-frame restoration only now being finished.

„The film has always been extraordinarily successful and popular, with the cast being what it is and the story being so inspiring,“ Feltenstein said. „But we always felt that to really do it justice we had to find a way to bring the panels together and eliminate those join lines so it looks gorgeous. We tried and tried, and ultimately we found a way. The results are truly astounding.“

Feltenstein noted that in all showings subsequent to the film’s original theatrical run, whether in regular theaters or on television or home video, „people have had to put up with those awful join lines. It was a fact of life; no one ever bothered to fix it or even make any attempt to explain to audiences why the picture looked funny.“

The new and improved „West,“ sans annoying lines, will be presented on all three editions of the film: a special edition DVD, an „ultimate collector’s edition“ DVD and a Blu-ray Disc edition. Additionally, the Blu-ray edition will come with a second version of the film that replicates the original Cinerama experience.

„Dave Strohmaier, considered the world’s foremost expert on all things Cinerama, calls it the ‘smile box’ version because it uses the shape of the original Cinerama screen and expands out with a curve so it looks like a frown on the bottom and a smile on the top,“ Feltenstein said. „It’s almost 3-D, and it allows anyone who has a home theater system to re-create the Cinerama experience.“

Feltenstein said that Strohmaier, whose 90-minute documentary „Cinerama Adventure“ is featured on all three editions of „West,“ has been intimately involved in the production of the packages.

In addition to the documentary, other special features include a film historian commentary, a vintage making-of feature and the original theatrical trailer. The collector’s edition comes with a 20-page theatrical press book reproduction, 10 behind-the-scenes photos and 10 postcards. The Blu-ray edition is packaged in a „Digi-book“ that resembles a small hardcover book and includes 32 page of press materials and behind-the-scenes photos.

Auf den Hund gekommen

Die Woche fing recht tierisch an...

UNDERDOGS (1:1.85, DD 5.1 EX)

Ein deutscher Spielfilm, in dem ein paar Strafgefangene unverhofft plötzlich Blindenhunde ausbilden müssen. Einer der sechs Auserwählten sträubt sich anfangs recht heftig, baut dann aber im Verlauf des Films eine innige Beziehung zu seinem Hundebaby auf. Zwar gut gespielt und mit ein paar Klischees ausgestattet wirkt das Werk aber eher wie eine TV-Produktion denn wie großes Kino. Wer Hunde mag, dem sei's empfohlen. Ab 24. Juli im Kino.

Donnerstag, 05. Juni 2008

Deutsche Filmgeschichte

Heute gab es einen Höhepunkt...einen filmischen zumindest ;-) ...

AUGE IN AUGE (1:1.85, D 5.1)

Dokumentarfilmen steht man ja oft skeptisch gegenüber. Speziell, wenn sie aus Deutschland stammen. Doch in dem Film von Michael Althen und Helmut Prinzler geht es um das Thema Film. Und da horcht man als Fan immer auf. Und es hat sich gelohnt. AUGE IN AUGE ist eine gelungene Hommage auf die deutsche Filmgeschichte. Sehr unterhaltsam montiert und mit hochinteressanten Statements zeitgenössischer Filmemacher. Das Ganze dann noch unterlegt mit einer Musik, die ich einem deutschen Film nicht zugetraut hätte: großes Orchester und großer Chor! Den Komponisten Robert Papst und Christian Birawsky gebührt Respekt. Also: reingehen und anschauen. Kinostart ist der 3. Juli 2008.

Der neue Coppolla und ein Franzose

Meine ersten beiden Film am heutigen Freitag:

YOUTH WITHOUT YOUTH (JUGEND OHNE JUGEND) (1:2.35, DD 51)

Was hat sich wohl Meisterregisseur Francis Ford Coppolla gedacht, als er diesen Film konzipierte? Nun, es blieb der gesamten versammelten Kritikerschaft leider verschlossen. Immerhin liefert der Film atemberaubende Bilder (digital aufgenommen und in brillanter Qualität bei der vorliegenden 35mm-Kopie) und einen winzig kleinen Guestauftritt von Matt Damon. Ab 10. Juli im Kino. Oder auch nicht ;-)

PARIS (SO IST PARIS) (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

Als Entschädigung für das erste Werk gab es Witziges, Melancholisches, Sinnliches und Besinnliches aus Frankreich. Wieder einmal kreuzen sich viele parallel laufende Handlungsstränge und ergeben einen großen, ganz passablen Film. Juliette Binoche brilliert in ihrer Rolle. Sehenswertes Kino ab 17. Juli 2008.

So, und jetzt geht's ab zum Widescreen-Festival nach Karlsruhe. Wider Erwarten ist die BLUES BROTHERS Kopie doch noch aufgetaucht und wird uns bis Mitternacht bei Laune halten.

Bis nächste Woche dann!

Schöne bunte Werbewelt

Die Woche begann mit einem optischen Overkill:

99 FRANCS (39,90 - NEUNUNDREISSIG NEUNZIG) (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

Der neue Film von Jan Kounen (DO-BERMANN, BLUEBERRY) lässt einen fast nicht zur Ruhe kommen. So überbordend sind seine Bilder, mit der er uns seine schwarzhumorige Kritik an der nur oberflächlich heilen Werbewelt auftischt. Seine stets koksende Hauptfigur wird hervorragend ekelig gespielt von Jean Dujardin (OSS 117). Der Film hat durchaus Potenzial, schöpft dieses aber leider nicht ganz aus. Ich persönlich hätte mir das etwas morbider und splatteriger gewünscht. Kinostart ist der 31. Juli 2008.

Donnerstag, 12. Juni 2008

Kontrastprogramm

Hier mein Donnerstagsmenü:

ELEGY (ELEGY ODER DIE KUNST ZU LIEBEN) (1:1.85, DD 5.1)

Ben Kingsley in der Rolle eines alten Professors, der sich in seine Studentin (sehr freizügig: Penelope Cruz) verliebt, obgleich er nur Sex haben wollte. Ein Film über das Älterwerden und Männer, die sich diesem „Problem“ nicht stellen wollen. Ein Depri-Film mit hervorragenden Schauspielern. Ab 14. August im Kino.

FRECHE MÄDCHEN (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

Eine recht flott inszenierte Teeny-Komödie aus heimischer Produktion. Ohne Ansprüche, aber trotzdem unterhaltsam und ganz sicher perfekt für die Zielgruppe, die sich mit der ersten Liebe und den verrückt spielenden Hormonen herumplagen muss. Ab 17. Juli darf man sich wieder jung fühlen.

Und jetzt geht's noch kurz in den neuen M.Night Shyamalan - auch wenn Deutschland heute Abend auf dem Rasen steht. Da hat man dann wenigstens ein leeres Kino zur Verfügung :-)

Freitag, 13. Juni 2008

Von Prinzen und Panda-Bären

Kein Horror am Freitag, dem 13. - dafür Mainstream satt.

THE CHRONICLES OF NARNIA: PRINCE CASPIAN (DIE CHRONIKEN VON NARNIA): PRINZ KASPIAN VON NARNIA) (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

Da ich den ersten Teil der Saga nicht gesehen habe, drücke ich mich mal vorsichtig aus: HERR DER RINGE für Kinder mit einem Schuss HARRY POTTER. Die beeindruckenden visuellen Effekte täuschen nicht darüber hinweg, dass die Story zu oberflächlich ist. Ab 31. Juli bundesweit. Aber Sitzfleisch mitbringen: das Werk läuft 144 Minuten lang (FSK ab 12 Jahren).

KUNG FU PANDA (KUNG FU PANDA) (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

Endlich mal wieder ein höchst vergnüglicher Spaß direkt aus dem Computer. In perfekter Animation wird die Geschichte eines fetten Pandabären erzählt, der Kung Fu Meister werden möchte. Hans Zimmer und John Powell steuerten einen recht passablen Score bei. Die ganze Familie darf ab 3. Juli im Kino anrücken ;-)

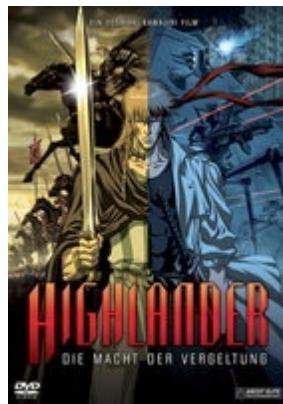

Beide Filme wurden überraschenderweise in hervorragenden 35mm-Kopien gezeigt. Also - geht doch!

Cromartie High School - The Complete Collection

Like a testosterone-laden version of AZUMANGA DAIOH, the quirky comedy anime series CROMARTIE HIGH SCHOOL chronicles the rough-and-tumble hijinks at a school for male juvenile delinquents. The series centers on Takashi Kamiyama, a normal 16-year-old with average grades who somehow ends up at the infamous academy and is forced to navigate its brutal social hierarchy of jiffies, outlaws, bullies, and thugs—as well as a 400-pound gorilla, a robot who thinks he's human, and a Freddie Mercury wannabe. Based on a hugely popular manga, CROMARTIE HIGH SCHOOL parodies the world of boy-school anime with meta style, tongue-in-cheek humor, and plenty of references to the operatic rock band Queen. This collection presents the series in its entirety.

Full Metal Panic? FUMOFFU - The Complete Collection

As a reworking of the anime series FULL METAL PANIC!, FUMOFFU follows its predecessor's basic fish-out-of-water premise with the same zany blend of action and comedy. But while popular teenage schoolgirl Kaname Chidori is still being protected from the machinations of an evil terrorist organization by undercover secret agent Sousuke Sagara, this time around the emphasis is on the series' comedic, rather than action-oriented, elements. The main thrust of the comedy stems from the military-trained Sagara's inability to blend into normal teenage society, his overzealous protection of Kaname (everything from impromptu gunfights to poorly-planned explosions), and a strangely sweet romance between the disastrously mismatched couple. This collection presents the anime series in its entirety for a total of 12 episodes.

The Return of the Joker / Batman: Mystery of the Batwoman

BATMAN BEYOND: RETURN OF THE JOKER: This feature-length animated adventure finds Terry McGinnis (the new Batman) in a treacherous battle against the seemingly immortal Joker. More dangerous than ever, the „Clown Prince of Crime“ is back to terrorize Gotham, but his primary target is the aging Bruce Wayne. When Terry unlocks the secrets of what truly happened the last time his mentor fought the Joker, he learns how to beat him at his own twisted game. And he might even be able to save Bruce Wayne before it's too late! BATMAN BEYOND: RETURN OF THE JOKER includes flashback sequences that help bridge the gap between the new animated series and the previous one, and features the voices of Will Friedle (BOY MEETS WORLD) as Terry McGinnis and Mark Hamill (STAR WARS) as the Joker. ## Samurai Gun - The Complete Collection

Based on a manga by Kazuhiro Kumagai, the extremely violent and strangely anachronistic anime series SAMURAI GUN reimagines the pivotal moment when ancient Japan first confronted the changing winds of Western modernity. In the mid-19th century, Japan is still awash in its feudal customs, with lawless and corrupt samurai marauders roaming the nocturnal countryside, brutally slaughtering innocent (and mostly female) victims with traditional swords and spears. Enter lone wolf Ichimatsu, a moody young man who decides to battle the evil shogunate with a newly invented weapon: guns. The ensuing gunfight action sequences play out against a dusty backdrop of saloons and brothels for a decidedly spaghetti Western-like feel—albeit one with copious amounts of graphic violence and sadism toward women. The 13-part series is presented in its entirety with this collection of episodes.

Almost an Angel

Paul Hogan, Linda Kozlowski, Elias Koteas, Charlton Heston - Dir. John Cornell
A man is released from prison only to begin a new career as a bank robber. In between heists, he uncharacteristically saves a man from being run over, but is himself struck by a car. After the fatal accident, he ends up in heaven, where he's made a temporary angel—with the possibility of getting permanent status if he does enough good deeds. Skeptical, and uncertain that he really is dead, he carries on with his criminal career... until a series of coincidences convince him that he really has left this world. So he turns over a new leaf and vows to help people, in particular a sick young man and his mother.

Beaufort

Oshri Cohen, Itay Tiran, Eli Eltonyo, Itay Turgeeman, Ohad Knoller - Dir. Joseph Cedar

Lebanon War veteran Joseph Cedar (CAMPFIRE) directs a harrowing, often haunting account of Israel's 2000 withdrawal from Lebanon and the Beaufort („Good Fort“) mountain fortress. Built by Crusaders in the 12th century, the fort was captured by the Israeli Defense Forces (IDF) in 1982 at the start of the Lebanon War. Eighteen years later, increasing criticism at home and abroad has led to Israel's decision to withdraw completely from Lebanon. Charged with managing the fort's defense and its evacuation is 22-year-old commander Liraz Liberti (Oshri Cohen). Eager to lead but emotionally untested, Liraz must maintain his bare-bones troop's discipline between bouts of claustrophobic tedium and increasing harassment by Hezbollah mortar attacks. That tenuous balance threatens to unravel with the arrival of bomb-disposal specialist Ziv (Ohad Knoller), as well as an unexpectedly sophisticated Hezbollah strike that reveals the limits of Liraz's abilities. Director Cedar and co-screenwriter Ron Leshem (on whose novel the film is based) eschew political statements and side-taking to instead examine the complexities

BROTHERHOOD OF THE WOLF is a wild mix of martial arts, horror, and French period drama. Grégoire de Fronsac (Samuel Le Bihan), a charming naturalist and libertine, arrives in Gevaudan with his companion, Mani (Mark Dacascos), a taciturn Mohawk Iroquois Indian with amazing fighting skills. Fronsac has been sent by the king to investigate a mysterious beast that is slaughtering women and children across the countryside. The local gentry include the friendly Marquis Thomas D'Apcher (Jérémie Rénier), Jean-François de Morangias (Vincent Cassel), a one-armed adventurer with a suspicious nature, and his beautiful sister, Marianne (Emilie Dequenne of ROSETTA). Though Fronsac is immediately attracted to Marianne, he still finds time to visit Sylvia (Monica Bellucci), a mysterious prostitute with a penchant for sharp objects. Fronsac and Mani quickly realize that the killer is not a wolf, but something bigger and far more deadly. As they attempt to track the beast, they encounter unexpected resistance from the locals, and find themselves in grave danger. BROTHERHOOD, a huge hit in France, is a uniquely enter

Ryan Reynolds stars as an uptight family man whose careful life is suddenly thrown into upheaval in this quirky romantic comedy. Directed by Marco Siega (PRETTY PERSUASION), the film opens with Frank (Reynolds) counseling his daughter's fiancé (Mike Erwin) about the highs and lows of married life. The film quickly fades into flashback, and we see Frank as a tightly wound young man who has his life organized down to the minute. Frank has a beautiful wife, Susan (Emily Mortimer), and daughter, Jesse (Matreya Fedor), and he travels around delivering motivational speeches on time efficiency. When Susan accidentally throws off one of Frank's carefully planned days, he falls victim to a bizarre contagion of mishaps and inadvertently learns a life-altering secret that forever changes how he views himself and his loved ones. He then sets off on a whimsical odyssey, and vows to get rid of his rigid plans and live his life with wild abandon. But when he faces a fork in the road, he must decide between his newfound freedom and his old life with his family.

Chapter 27

Jared Leto, Lindsay Lohan, Judah Friedlander - Dir. J.P. Schaefer
Jared Leto (REQUIEM FOR A DREAM, ALEXANDER) takes us down the rabbit hole and into the mind of John Lennon murderer Mark David Chapman, in the effectively unsettling CHAPTER 27. Inspired by Jack Jones' sensationalist biography of Chapman, LET ME TAKE YOU DOWN, CHAPTER 27 dramatizes three fateful days leading up to the shooting. The year is 1980. Mark David Chapman arrives in wintery New York City, where he quickly assumes the identity of THE CATCHER IN THE RYE protagonist Holden Caulfield, eager to cleanse a world filled with „phonies.“ Chapman makes his way to the tony Dakota apartment building where Lennon lives, and strikes up a tentative friendship with a sweetly naive groupie named Jude (Lindsay Lohan). Chapman becomes increasingly torn by his avenging impulses, losing himself further and further in Holden Caulfield's character, until an initial encounter with Lennon seals the fates of both men. Leto, who gained more than 60 pounds for the part, immerses himself completely in the role of the mercurial Chapman, whose bulky exterior concealed a troubled soul and conflicted motivations towards the world Dramas Ltbx 84min.

Paul Newman, George Kennedy, Jo Van Fleet, J.D. Cannon, Strother Martin, Lou Antonio, Robert Drivas, Clifton James, Morgan Woodward, Luke Askew, Dennis

Hopper, Harry Dean Stanton, Joe Don Baker - Dir. Stuart Rosenberg
In this classic Southern prison drama, social misfit Lucas „Luke“ Jackson (Paul Newman) is incarcerated for a petty crime and sentenced to a chain gang. Luke is a sullen and laconic young man whose cool defiance of the sadistic warden and bullying inmates earns him the title „Cool Hand Luke.“ But as the prisoners' respect for Luke grows into hero worship, he finds that he must risk everything in order to live up to their expectations. Filled with dozens of memorable scenes (Luke eating 50 eggs) and quotable lines („What we have here is a failure to communicate.“), COOL HAND LUKE is a testament to excellent screenwriting (Donn Pearce and Frank Pierson) and Newman's charm and skill as an actor. The film also features an outstanding supporting cast that includes George Kennedy, Strother Martin, and early screen appearances by Dennis Hopper and Harry Dean Stanton.

Curious George

Will Ferrell, Joan Plowright, David Cross, Eugene Levy, Drew Barrymore - Dir. Jun Falkenstein

Resisting the temptations that so many recent kids' movies have succumbed to, CURIOUS GEORGE stays true to the innocently playful spirit of the beloved, brilliantly simple children's books by H.A. Rey, eschewing ironic asides, gross-out comedy, and pop culture references. Barely acknowledging the parents and guardians in the audience, the filmmakers talk directly—and effectively—to their target viewers: young children. And much like the tone and story it complements, the bright and colorful animation is distinctly old-fashioned, paying tribute to the books, appealing to kids, and adding to the movie's retro charms.

Gokusen - Complete Series

This anime program follows in the tradition of schoolyard action-comedies, its most direct inspiration being the popular GREAT TEACHER ONIZUKA. With a bit of homage to THE GODFATHER and THE UNTOUCHABLES, THE GOKUSEN (based on a manga of the same title) shows the double life of 23-year-old Kumiko, an heir to the Oedo Yakuza family. Amid flying bullets and the constant presence of hit men, the hardheaded Kumiko manages to pursue her dream of teaching and leading the youth of Japan. With her identity completely concealed, Kumiko takes a job as a math teacher for grades two to four, where the worst of the class bullies and rebels are amazed that they are completely unable to unnerve her with their outbursts. Kumiko does have some interesting quirks, such as launching into street-speak when she becomes enraged, a habit that risks getting her in trouble. This program has been discussed as the female counterpart to GTO, a manga (and anime) about a reformed biker dude who tries to provide guidance to his troubled students while not falling back into his own old habits. This release gathers all three volumes of

Harold & Kumar Escape from Guantanamo Bay

Kal Penn, John Cho, Rob Corddry, Neil Patrick Harris, Roger Bart - Dir. Jon Hurwitz, Hayden Schlossberg
America's favorite pothead pals, Harold (John Cho) and Kumar (Kal Penn), return with an uproariously un-PC sequel that skewers everything from racial prejudice to the president of the United States. HAROLD & KUMAR ESCAPE FROM GUANTANAMO BAY picks up shortly after the first film, cult favorite HAROLD & KUMAR GO TO WHITE CASTLE, as the boys plan an impromptu trip to the Mecca of Marijuana: Amsterdam. There, Harold will unite with the love of his life and Kumar will achieve cannabis bliss. The two soon find themselves in hot water when Kumar sneaks a bong onto the flight and is mistaken for a bomb-wielding terrorist. Indeed, after a run-in with racist Homeland Security agent Ron Fox (Rob Corddry of THE DAILY SHOW), the two land in the hottest water of all: Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. After escaping from prison and fleeing back to the U.S., the two set out across country to get help from Harold's politically connected former classmate, who is also marrying the girl that Kumar let get away. How can a woman's charms compare to a dog's downy fur and wet tongue? When Charlie first started dating Daphne, her pooch Babydoll seemed to be an obstacle. But slowly Charlie realized that it was really the canine he had eyes for. Now, as the bond between man and dog blossoms, Charlie has to figure out a way to juggle the two relationships—or risk losing them both. This unique romantic comedy is sure to leave viewers howling and be a hit with dog lovers (platonic ones, that is).

Houdini
 Tony Curtis, Janet Leigh, Torin Thatcher, Ian Wolfe, Sig Ruman, Angela Clarke, Stefan Schnabel, Michael Pate, Connie Gilchrist - Dir. George Marshall
Tony Curtis and Janet Leigh star in this film biography of the great magician Harry Houdini (Curtis), spanning the years from age 21 to his death. The movie chronicles his beginnings as an illusionist in New York City, his quick courtship and marriage to wife Bess (Leigh), and his subsequent trip to Europe where his escape artistry brought him fame. Upon his return to the USA, Houdini began performing death-defying acts across the country, and soon became a household name. When his mother dies, Houdini retires to spend two years trying to contact her soul—an effort which leads him to publicly denounce mediums as con artists. Houdini returned to the stage, where fate awaited him. On Halloween night, 1926, he succumbed when attempting to escape from a water tank while constrained by a straight jacket. While far from being historically accurate, HOUDINI is an entertaining and revealing motion picture, and includes close to a dozen death-defying recreations of Houdini's magic.

Stephen King's The Mist

Thomas Jane, Marcia Gay Harden, Andre Braugher, Laurie Holden, Toby Jones - Dir. Frank Darabont
Frank Darabont (THE SHAWSHANK REDEMPTION, THE GREEN MILE) serves as director, writer, and producer of THE MIST, an adaptation of Stephen King's classic novella.

The Mummy Returns (Blu-ray)

Brendan Fraser, Rachel Weisz, John Hannah, Oded Fehr, Arnold Vosloo, Patricia Velasquez, Rock, Freddie Boath - Dir.

Stephen Sommers

*Flanked by fabulous computer-generated battle scenes that would make BRAVEHEART proud, THE MUMMY RETURNS is a fast-paced sequel that surpasses the hit 1999 original, both directed by Stephen Sommers. Virtually the entire cast has come back for another exciting go-round, this time trying to prevent Imhotep (Arnold Vosloo) from gaining control of the Bracelet of Anubis and taking on the Scorpion King (the Rock) for control of the world. But to gain that power, Imhotep and his vicious true love, Anck-Su-Namun (Patricia Velasquez), must get to the Oasis of Ahm Shere before Rick O'Connell (Brendan Fraser), his wife, Evie (Rachel Weisz), their son, Alex (Freddie Boath), the mysterious Ardet Bay (Oded Fehr), and Evie's brother, Jonathan (John Hannah, who provides much of the comic relief). Set in 1933, THE MUMMY RETURNS combines elements of the STAR WARS and INDIANA JONES films in letting loose a scintillating thrill-ride of a movie, chock-full of terrific special effects and marvelous locations (Morocco, Jordan, and London), erupting in a spirited tale of flight and fantasy, sword and sorcery. *Using a nonchronological narrative style à la CITIZEN KANE (from which he quotes), director Oliver Stone explores former president Richard Nixon's strict Quaker upbringing, his nascent political strivings in law school, and his strangely self-effacing courtship of his wife, Pat (played by Joan Allen). The contradictions in his character are revealed early, in the vicious campaign against Helen Gahagan Douglas and the oddly masochistic Checkers speech. His defeat at the hands of the hated and envied John F. Kennedy in the 1960 presidential election, followed by the loss of the 1962 California gubernatorial race, seem to signal the end of his career. ## One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest (Blu-ray)

Milos Forman's ONE FLEW OVER THE CUCKOO'S NEST, based on the novel by Ken Kesey and the play by Dale Wasserman, presents a biting and ultimately tragic satire about mental institutions and the human spirit. A disturbing, witty, and electrifying drama, the film won the 1975 Academy Award for Best Picture. R.P. McMurphy (Jack Nicholson), a misbehaved con who shirks authority, finds himself in an asylum after faking insanity to get out of work detail in prison. The vivacious troublemaker soon finds himself in a worse kind of prison—one presided over by the repressed, terrifyingly quiet Nurse Ratched (Louise Fletcher), whose set of rules and regulations are meant to suppress patients' psychotic outbursts, and their spirits. It's not long before McMurphy is reaching out to his new inmates, trying desperately to bring life to an otherwise dead atmosphere. To Ratched, however, Nicholson's free spirit is as dangerous as a schizophrenic impulse. ONE FLEW OVER THE CUCKOO'S NEST is brilliantly acted by an ensemble that includes Brad Dourif, Christopher Lloyd, Vincent Schiavelli, and Danny DeVito.

The Scorpion King (Blu-ray)

Rock, Michael Clarke Duncan, Grant Heslov, The Rock, Steven Brand, Kelly Hu, Bernard Hill - Dir. Chuck Russell
Wrestler-turned-actor The Rock gets his first starring role with THE SCORPION KING. A prequel to Stephen Sommers' wildly successful THE MUMMY (1999) and THE MUMMY RETURNS (2001), THE SCORPION KING tells the action-packed story of Mathayus (Rock), an Akkadian assassin who is the only man strong enough to destroy the vile Memnon (Steven Brand). Memnon, a power hungry warlord, uses the prescience of Cassandra (Kelly Hu), a beautiful seer, to ensure an endless succession of victories. Understanding that to defeat Memnon one must first eliminate Cassandra, Mathayus journeys to Gomorrah to infiltrate Memnon's palace and kill Cassandra. But when he lays eyes on the sultry beauty, he is unable to take her life. It isn't long before sparks begin flying and Cassandra is using her powers to aid Mathayus and his cohorts, including the bumbling Arpid (Grant Heslov), and Balthazar (Michael Clark Duncan), a powerful tribe leader who is also looking for a way to end Memnon's reign. Ignoring a vision from Cassandra that predicts his death, Mathayus charges into battle nonetheless, hoping to silence Memnon once and for all.

Stanley Cuba

Mike Birbiglia, Bill Barnett - Dir. Per Anderson

Humble comedian Mike Birbiglia stars as Stanley Cuba, a man whose life and art, like his name, seem to imitate those of legendary filmmaker Stanley Kubrick. While in the midst of recovering from a breakup with his girlfriend, Cuba learns he is being pursued by intellectual property lawyers over issues with his photography work. He accidentally knocks himself over the head with a black monolith—er, obelisk—and flashes forward to the future to discover many important things, not least of which is the recipe of painter Jackson Pollock's success and the secret behind room 237. Can Cuba grasp the true meaning of these things without having to kiss his girlfriend's mom? This deadpan satire is both a parody of Kubrick's work and an examination of parody itself.

Supernatural: The Complete Third Season

Jared Padalecki, Jensen Ackles
Dean (Jensen Ackles) and Sam Winchester (Jared Padalecki) are two brothers with a special talent. Well-versed in the supernatural after their father became convinced that their mother was captured by unholy spirits, Dean and Sam dedicated their young lives to hunting down these otherworldly terrors. But adulthood saw Sam drift away from these preternatural activities, instead choosing to settle down in a life of domestic bliss with his girlfriend. But when the Winchesters' dad goes missing, both Dean and Sam know what they have to do—leading to some epic cross-country trips as the brothers try to find their father. The third season of the show follows up after the brothers finally destroy the demon that possessed their mother. Unfortunately, completing this quest had some devastating consequences: it killed Sam and brought a horde of demons to Earth. This tense season follows Dean as he makes a deal with the devil to bring Sam back to life—at the cost of his own—and tries to find a way to get out of this deadly predicament with his resurrected brother.

Vantage Point

Dennis Quaid, Forest Whitaker, Matthew Fox, Sigourney Weaver, William Hurt, Zoe Saldana - Dir. Pete Travis

A presidential assassination attempt is told from multiple points of view in Pete Travis's directorial debut, VANTAGE POINT. U.S. president Ashton (William Hurt) is in Salamanca, Spain (though much of the film was actually shot in Mexico), to announce plans for a major global summit on terrorism. But as he stands behind the podium in front of an adoring crowd (with protesters blocked off from the stage), he is shot twice, followed shortly by a small explosion and then a massive blast. Secret Service Agents Barnes (Dennis Quaid), Taylor (Matthew Fox), and Holden (Richard T. Jones) immediately jump into action, trying to find the terrorists responsible amid all the chaos. The thriller first shows the events through the eyes of television news producer Rex Brooks (Sigourney Weaver), and then the film rewinds, replaying the action from a different point of view. Each perspective reveals a few more clues, then rewinds again, taking the audience through the assassination attempt and its aftermath again. VANTAGE POINT has the feel of the 1950 Akira Kurosawa classic RASHOMON, told with the speed of the television Action/Adventure 90min.

John Cusack, Samuel L. Jackson, Mary McCormack, Tony Shalhoub - Dir. Mikael Häfström

The PG-13 rating given to 1408 belies this film's truly terrifying effects on its audience. Though it's far less gory than its peers, it has frightening moments and a creepy mood throughout. John Cusack (IDENTITY) plays Mike Enslin, a gifted writer who has turned his talents to paranormal travel books. His stays in haunted hotels never shake him, but he's intrigued by New York's Dolphin Hotel. Room 1408 has been the site of dozens of deaths, and this is a selling point for the skeptic in Mike. Despite the warnings of the hotel manager (Samuel L. Jackson, BLACK SNAKE MOAN), Mike resolves to stay in the haunted room. No one has lasted more than an hour in 1408, and Mike has his work cut out for him.

Korn - Live At Montreux 2004

In 1993 Korn formed out of the ashes of two California-based metal bands, going on to enjoy a lucrative career as one of the first bands to fuse hip-hop, funk, and heavy metal (helping to form the "nu metal" genre in the process). This live recording finds Korn performing in Montreux after sticking together for 11 years and recording numerous multimillion selling albums. The group made for an unusual addition to the Montreux line-up, but the band members perform with all the explosive energy that made their name, and the concert marks one of the final occasions on which founder member Brian Welch played with the band.

Emmanuelle Seigner - Dir. Julian Schnabel
Over 30 years after the release of Lou Reed's rock opera BERLIN, the legendary Velvet Underground singer took the album to the stage for the first time in a series of 2006 concerts. There to record the one-of-a-kind event was director Julian Schnabel (THE DIVING BELL AND THE BUTTERFLY), who helped bring to life this lurid love story of desolate lives in a divided Berlin. Antony, Sharon Jones, and Emmanuelle Seigner (as Caroline, the tale's tragic heroine) appeared in this moody rendering of one of rock & roll's underrated classics.

Joe Strummer: The Future is Unwritten

Filmmaker Julien Temple has spent much of his career documenting the music scene in England, including such seminal works as THE GREAT ROCK AND ROLL SWINDLE and THE FILTH AND THE FURY about the Sex Pistols. In 1976 he had originally set out to film about a different British punk band, the Clash; more than 30 years later, he directed THE FUTURE IS UNWRITTEN, a heartfelt film about one of the leaders of the Clash, his good friend Joe Strummer. Born John Graham Mellor in Turkey in 1952, Strummer, the son of a career diplomat, traveled a great deal as a child, eventually settling down in England, where he became an artist and a musician and took part in the mid-1970s squatters' movement in London. He soon formed the influential punk band the Clash with Mick Jones and later headed the band Joe Strummer and the Mescaleros before his tragic death in 2002 from congenital heart disease. Temple speaks with many of the men and women who knew Strummer, gathering them around a campfire in Brooklyn Bridge Park to pay tribute to the Strummerville campfires where Joe would meet with friends and discuss life, lo Musical & Performing Arts, Pop Music min.

History of Britain - The Complete Collection

In a collaboration between the BBC and the History Channel, Simon Schama's HISTORY OF BRITAIN is brought to full life. This set contains all fifteen 50-minute episodes, dating from 3500 BC right up until the 20th Century. Concentrating on the personalities and cultures that helped shape the nation, the transformation of Britain from a small island to a huge empire is emphatically covered. Made over a six-year period and filmed on 3 different continents, this documentary is a visually exciting history of one of the world's most interesting nations.

What are polar bears to do as the world becomes a hotter place? With the Arctic ice melting and the ocean level rising, their principle hunting grounds are being liquidated. What's more, other animals are creeping into their territory. This episode of NATURE, narrated by F. Murray Abraham (AMADEUS), follows the polar bears as they face a new rival from the North: the grizzly bear.

Outfoxed

In this scathing documentary from Robert Greenwald, the Fox News Channel comes under fire. First the film illustrates the way that its owner, Rupert Murdoch, has dominated the media, buying up TV stations, cable channels, and newspapers worldwide. Next, Fox's reporting tactics are looked at with a fine-tooth comb, revealing a clear pattern of nonobjective journalism. On talk shows and in other debate forums, hosts push conservative points of view. Former employees give anonymous interviews confessing that they were instructed to put a right-wing slant on their work. But the dominant message of the film concerns the mantra of „fair and balanced,“ which Fox uses to promote itself. By examining the way that Fox collects and reports news, this film shows that it is simply not fair and balanced. For instance, on Bill O'Reilly's talk show, he repeatedly tells guests to shut up rather than allowing them to disagree with his agenda. Layering of quick clips—so that we hear O'Reilly tell guests over and over to „shut up, shut up, shut up,“—is one of the most amusing tactics used in the film. But the reality is

Surfwise

One need not be a surfing fanatic to find something interesting in SURFWISE. Doug Pray's thought-provoking documentary about the legendary and unconventional Paskowitz family. The first family in surfing became famous for its large size, for earning countless trophies, and for its eccentric leader, Dorian „Doc“ Paskowitz. Once an admired figure in the medical community, Dorian decided while at the height of his success to leave it all behind, heading for a life on the beach. While traveling the world in search of the next great wave, Dorian met and married Juliette, who shortly began birthing their nine children. Born in quick succession and never placed in school, the kids were raised in the ocean and in an ever-moving camper. Though they seemed unconventional to outsiders, their atypical routine was actually highly controlled by Dorian, who wanted to raise his family the way animals live, free of the material world.
