editorial

Hallo Laserdisc- und DVD-Fans, liebe Filmfreunde!

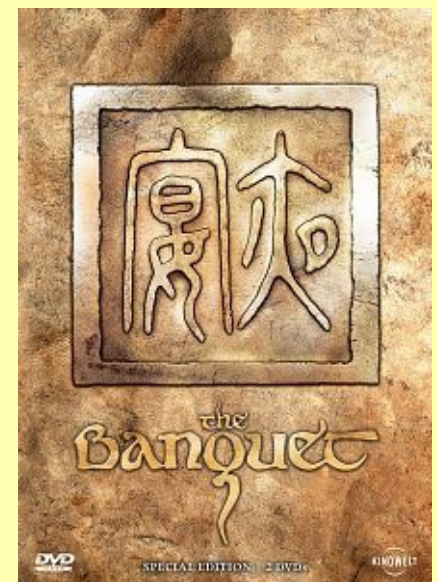

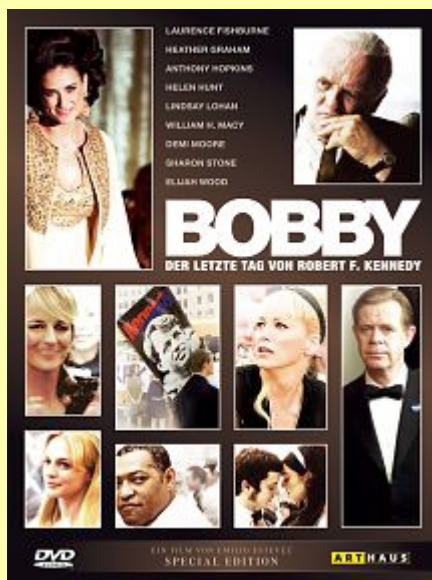

Herzlich willkommen zur neuen Ausgabe unseres Newsletters. Endlich läuft alles wieder in gewohnten Bahnen. Neuankündigungen aus Deutschland, den USA sowie Japan teilen sich einmal mehr die Seiten unter sich auf. Zur Auflockerung erzählt uns Anna etwas über Superhelden und Wolfram Hannemann ergänzt seinen Film-Blog durch einen ausführlichen Bericht über seinen Bollywood-Erlebnisse. Es gibt also jede Menge Lese-stoff, wenn Sie mögen. Bleibt im Editorial eigentlich nicht mehr viel zu schreiben. Doch irgendwo muss man ja auch seinen Frust loswerden. Und da eignet sich das Editorial eigentlich hervorragend. Denn was anfangs bei einem renommierten DVD-Label noch als ein Ausrutscher abgetan wurde, scheint sich zu einem wiederkehrenden Ärgernis zu entwickeln. Als Kinowelt im vergangenen Jahr Emilio Estevez' wunderbaren sechziger Jahre Film BOBBY auf DVD bannte, waren richtige Filmfans schockiert: BOBBY wurde im falschen Bildformat gemastert. Anstatt der korrekten 1:2.35 CinemaScope-Version musste man mit einer 1:1.78-Fassung vorlieb nehmen, die der künstlerischen Absicht des Regisseurs vollkommen quer läuft. Denn nichts passt besser zu den Sixties als das CinemaScope-Format, das hier ganz bewusst als ein Zeitkolorit verwendet wurde. Also ein Ausrutscher. Kann ja mal passieren. Weit gefehlt! Unlängst veröffentlichte Kinowelt den asiatischen Film THE BANQUET in Deutschland. Und schon wieder haben wir ein falsches Bildformat. Wieder wurde anstatt dem korrekten 1:2.35-Format ein 1:1.78 Bild gewählt, das nur einen Ausschnitt aus dem wohl komponierten CinemaScope-Bild dieses opulenten Werkes zeigt. Diese Tatsache als Ausrutscher zu bezeichnen, würde der Sache nicht gerecht werden. Schlamperei und mangelnde Sachkenntnis muss man hier leider unterstellen. Einst hatte der erst kürzlich verstorbene Filmregisseur Sydney Pollack in Skandinavien einen Gerichtsprozess begonnen und erfolgreich zu Ende geführt, in dem es darum ging, dass seine Filme im Fernsehen nicht im richtigen Bildformat präsentiert werden. Man wünschte sich, dass solche Prozesse auch im Bereich der DVD-Auswertung angestrebt würden. Kein Filmfan weltweit möchte seine Lieblingsfilme mit verstümmelter Bildkomposition sehen. Und das sehen die Filmema-cher sicherlich genauso. Um dem Ganzen noch die Krone aufzusetzen, verzichtete Kinowelt bei der Veröffentlichung von DER FUCHS UND DAS MÄDCHEN komplett auf die originale französische Tonspur! Liebe DVD-Labels in Deutschland: merkt Ihr eigentlich nicht, dass Ihr auf diese Art und Weise erheblich dazu beiträgt, dass eingeschworene Filmfans auf Eure DVDs verzichten und sich ausländische Versionen besorgen? Und von der Verstümmelung ganzer Filme im Hinblick auf FSK-Freigaben möchten wir hier erst gar nicht anfangen. Denn das ist ein Kapitel für sich und würde vermutlich eine komplette Ausgabe des Newsletters beanspruchen. Fazit: Deutschland – armes DVD-Entwicklungsland!

Bevor wir uns jetzt wieder schmolend in eine Ecke verkriechen, doch noch schnell der Hinweis auf unsere diesjährigen Betriebsferien – wie immer gekoppelt an das Fantasy Filmfest in Stuttgart. Wir haben vom 3. September bis einschließlich 21. September geschlossen. Wir danken bereits jetzt für Ihr Verständnis und wünschen viel Spaß bei der vorliegenden Lektüre!

Superhelden massenweise: die neue Vielgötterei

“In the absence of light, darkness prevails. There are things that go bump in the night, make no mistake about that. And we are the ones who bump back.” Diese Worte von Hellboy’s Ziehvater fassen zusammen, was uns Normalsterbliche an Superhelden fasziniert. Superheldenfilme haben Hochkonjunktur. Sequels und Prequels der Originalfilme gibt es wie Sand am Meer. Das Publikum scheint ihrer nicht müde zu werden, feiern sie doch enorme Erfolge an der Kinokasse. Verstehen Sie mich bitte nicht falsch, ich selbst bin auch ein super-hero-geek. Z. B. kenne ich alle drei “X-Men” Filme auswendig. Je mehr Mutanten, desto besser. Je mehr schöne Frauen in hautengen Kostümen und mit fantastischen Kräften, desto besser! Je mehr raue, sexy Männer mit Adamantiumklauen, desto besser!! Doch wieso ist das Superheldentum so ein Phänomen geworden? Weshalb rennen wir unablässig in jede neue Comicverfilmung? Um es zwei magische Stunden lang Sprüche klopfen und in Surround-Sound Krachen zu hören? Um vor einer Angelina Jolie oder einem Robert Downey Jr. dahin zu schmelzen? Ich behaupte: nicht nur.

Die ersten Superhelden-Comics entstanden in den 30er Jahren des 20. Jahrhunderts. Damals waren diese noch hauptsächlich für Kinder gedacht und auch die Serials der 40er, die die ersten Comicverfilmungen waren, wurden zunächst für die Jüngeren konzipiert. Deshalb hatten viele Superhelden Sidekicks mit kindlichen Attributen, so wie z. B. Batmans Robin. Doch nach dem 2. Weltkrieg verschwanden die Super Hero Serials aus den Kinos und in den Comics wurden die Helden ernster. Das Zielpublikum bestand plötzlich aus jungen Erwachsenen. Zwei Weltkriege hatten die Menschheit in hohem Maße traumatisiert. Die Comics spiegelten das Böse wider, in dem sie fast allmächtige Schurken erschufen, deren Ziel die Weltherrschaft war (wie Hitler oder Stalin in der Wirklichkeit). Doch die Comics zeichneten den Puls der Zeit nicht nur auf, sie boten natürlich auch die Therapie an: die Superhelden. Diese waren leuchtende, übermenschliche, gute Figuren die den “Megavillains” die Stirn boten und immer wieder aufs Neue die Menschheit retteten. Superman, der erste Superheld, hat sogar ganz offiziell den Auftrag, die Menschheit in ihrer Entwicklung zum Guten hin zu unterstützen und sie solange am Leben zu halten, bis sie es selbst schafft. Und seit Christopher Reeve zum ersten Mal über die Leinwand zischte, hat das Genre der Comicverfilmung Erfolg. Zwischen 1978 und heute hat es sicherlich auch ein paar Durstrecken gegeben, aber spätestens seit 2000, als der erste “X-Men”-Film in die Kinos kam, ist der Erfolg ununterbrochen. Zufall? Bestimmt nicht. Der Kalte Krieg ist zwar vorüber, aber die Menschheit plagen neue Sorgen. Politikern wird nicht mehr getraut, ihnen fehlen sowohl Charisma als auch Charme und Aussagekraft. Wenn ich mich in meinem Freundeskreis umhöre, dann ist die einheitliche Meinung: Politiker bewegen nicht wirklich etwas. Und wenn, dann machen sie die Dinge meist schlimmer. Wenn man sich aber von der Vernunft betrogen und verlassen fühlt, ist die nächste Richtung, in die man sich dreht, die des Glaubens. Doch auch dort erwarten uns, ob wir nun Juden, Christen oder Muslime sind, meist nur trockenes, altes Dogma, strenge Regeln und nur ein einziger Gott. Es scheint, als würde das nicht mehr reichen, um uns ausreichend Schutz zu bieten. Wir mögen zwar so manches Mal die indische Bollywood-Kultur, in der die Menschen ihre Leinwandgötter als reale Gottheiten begreifen, belächeln, doch unsere Liebe für Superhelden ist nichts anderes. Und auch wir begnügen uns keineswegs mit einem einzigen Gott. Nein, wir greifen direkt auf das Pantheon der alten griechisch-römischen Götter zurück, um uns aus der Misere zu flüchten. Ironman ist niemand anderer als Hephaistos in seiner Schmiede. Hulk ist eine neue Inkarnation des Ares, Superman ein Herkules, Storm von den X-Men besitzt Kräfte, mit denen sich einst auch Zeus schmückte und der Mutant Pyro ist kein geringerer als Prometheus.

Als Kind war ich fasziniert von den antiken Göttern. Den christlichen Gott empfand ich als relativ langweilig und rechthaberisch, die alten Götter und Helden aber als interessant, bunt und ... menschlich. So ist es mit den heutigen Superhelden. Wir können uns mit ihren Problemen identifizieren, aber wir blicken auch zu ihnen auf in einer Zeit, in der uns die Vorbilder allmählich ausgehen und die Welt immer bedrohlicher erscheint. Die Superhelden und -heldinnen auf der Leinwand sind das Licht geworden, das nicht nur im Film die Dunkelheit vertreibt, sondern auch in unserer Realität.

Man nimmt eben, was man kriegen kann.

Bollywood and Beyond

Das fünfte indische Filmfestival in Stuttgart

Ein persönlicher Erlebnisbericht von Wolfram Hannemann

Wenn nicht nur der lange rote Teppich vor den Stuttgarter Metropolkinos ausgerollt wird, sondern auch noch die fast lebensgroße Elefantenattrappe Stellung bezieht, dann stehen alle Signale deutlich auf "Bollywood". Bereits im fünften Jahr präsentierte sich das größte indische Filmfestival in der westlichen Hemisphäre vom 16. bis 20. Juli 2008. Fünf Tage lang also sollte mich nun wieder "Bollywood and Beyond", wie das Festival offiziell titeliert ist, in seinen Bann ziehen. Angesichts der vielen dunkelhäutigen Schönheiten, die auf dem roten Teppich in herrlich bunten Saris gekleidet flanierten, war das wahrhaftig kein Problem! Der Eröffnungsabend, der eigentlich schon am späten Nachmittag begonnen hatte, ist traditionell fast schon der festliche Höhepunkt des Festivals, das in den vergangenen Jahren immer wieder erfolgreich die Besucherzahlen steigern konnte. Darf man den Aussagen der Veranstalter Glauben schenken, so war allein in diesem Jahr gegenüber dem Vorjahr eine Steigerung um 30% zu verbuchen. Dem großen Andrang nach zu urteilen, muss das einfach stimmen. Der Eröffnungsfilm war restlos ausverkauft, ja sogar um 60 Plätze überbucht. Den Veranstaltern bereitete das aber keine größeren Probleme, denn man hatte mit Notsitzen bereits vorgesorgt. Stehen musste während des Film niemand. Bevor man sich jedoch in den Kinosaal begab, durfte man sich im Foyer des Kinos mit Sekt, Orangensaft oder sogar einem kräftigen Schluck Whiskey versorgen, während draußen auf dem roten Teppich die Stuttgarter Politprominenz das Festival feierlich eröffnete. Dafür sorgte auch ein indischer Chor, der auf den Stufen zum Eingang Stellung bezog und die Besucher musikalisch einstimmte. Den Höhepunkt der Eröffnungsfeier stellte das Hissen der indischen Flagge dar, die bis zum Ende des Festivals die Außenfront der Festivalkinos zieren sollte. Etwas verwundert war ich aber schon. Denn trotz der präsenten Politprominenz und des riesigen Andrangs vor dem Kino war es offensichtlich nicht gelungen, die Straße direkt vor dem Kino für einige Zeit zu sperren. Und so wurden die Reden der Promis und auch der Gesang des Chores von den vorbeifahrenden Autos recht unsanft gestört. Zuweilen entstand auch ein richtiges Verkehrschaos. Hier wäre es sicherlich wünschenswert, dass das eventuell beim nächsten Festival berücksichtigt wird. Doch weder das Verkehrschaos noch der plötzlich einsetzende Regen konnten mir oder auch den anderen Gästen nicht die Festivallaune trüben. Und so ging's dann mit großen Erwartungen in den Kinosaal. Aus vergangenen Jahren wusste ich: jetzt kommt nicht gleich der Film, sondern jetzt wird erst noch geredet. Die üblichen Verdächtigen kamen jetzt einer nach dem anderen auf die Bühne, um ihre vorbereiteten Eröffnungsreden zu schwingen. Neu war jedoch, dass man sich erstmals eine Moderatorin geholt hatte, die dafür sorgte, dass der Ablauf des Abends in geregelten Bahnen verlief. TV-Moderatorin Nadine Krüger, im schwarzen Abendkleid und mit langer blonder Mähne, wurde diese Aufgabe zuteil. Gekonnt moderierte sie den Abend in Deutsch und Englisch, jedoch hatte ich hier und da dann doch das Gefühl, eine Moderatorin auf Privatsenderniveau vor mir zu haben. Speziell dann, wenn der auf der Bühne vorgetragene Small-Talk etwas schlüpfriß und dadurch sehr peinlich wurde. Da wird sicherlich in den kommenden Jahren noch weiter daran gefeilt werden. Gut ist, dass in diesem Jahr ein Anfang gemacht wurde und die in den vergangenen Jahren absolvierte Eröffnungsshow mitunter recht improvisiert wirkte. Nachdem dann alle Redner – angefangen von Festivaldirektor Oliver Mahn über Stuttgarts OB Schuster bis hin zur indischen Botschafterin in Stuttgart – gesagt hatten, was zu sagen war, wurde es spannend.

Exotisch: die Festivalkinos in Stuttgart rüsten sich für Bollywood

Denn jetzt wurden der Regisseur, der Produzent und einer der Darsteller des Eröffnungsfilms auf die Bühne gebeten, um ihren Film vorzustellen. Regisseur Umesh Kulkarni versprach uns einen lustigen Film, bei dem wir auch gerne lachen dürfen und entschuldigte sich sogleich für die etwas schlechte 35mm-Filmkopie. Denn die war schon über viele Festivals gereist und wies schon etliche Gebrauchsspuren auf. Dann endlich hieß es "Vorhang auf!" und der Film begann. VALU – THE WILD BULL (1:2.35, DD 5.1 EX) erzählt die Geschichte eines Beamten, der in ein kleines Dorf abkommandiert wird, um dort einen wilden Bullen, der den Einwohnern das Leben schwer macht, einzufangen. Mit von der Partie ist sein Bruder, der darüber einen Dokumentarfilm drehen möchte. Doch das erweist sich als echter Knackpunkt. Denn fortan möchte jeder der Dorfbewohner vor der Kamera stehen und Filmstar werden... Alles in allem ist der Film mit seinen 123 Minuten Spiellänge etwas zu lang geraten. Auch erschloss sich den meisten Besuchern (mich eingeschlossen) der "Indian Sense of Humour" nicht wirklich. Aber das liegt wohl zum großen Teil an der Tatsache, dass wir die Sprache nicht verstehen. In einem Interview, das ich am Folgetag mit Regisseur Umesh Kulkarni führen durfte, erzählte er mir, dass sehr viel Humor in der Sprache versteckt ist.

VALU ist der erste Film, der auf Marathi gedreht wurde. Selbst die englischen Untertitel, die die Festivalkopie hatte, konnten dem witzigen Charakter der Dialoge nicht gerecht werden. VALU war ein Riesenerfolg im Marathi-sprechenden Teil Indiens. Dort, so verriet mir der 1976 geborene Umesh, lief sein Film mit 25 Kopien wochenlang vor ausverkauften Kinos. Viele Zuschauer sahen sich den Film gleich mehrfach an. Nicht schlecht für einen Debütfilm! Denn vor VALU hatte Umesh ausschließlich Dokumentarfilme gemacht. Und schon die wurden international mit Preisen bedacht. Ob ich denn seinen Film für zu lange empfand, wollte er von mir wissen. "Ehrliche Antwort?" fragte ich. "Ja, bitte!" Ich sagte ihm, dass ich den Film für etwas zu lange empfand. "Ja, das hat man mir jetzt schon des Öfteren gesagt", war sein ehrlicher Kommentar. Bestimmt wird's beim nächsten Filmprojekt besser! Das fast einstündige Gespräch war hochinteressant und ich habe viele Dinge erfahren, die mich erstaunten. So beispielsweise die Tatsache, dass Umesh von Tom Tykwers LOLA RENNT große Stücke hält! Ich hoffe, dass ich das vollständige Interview in einem späteren Newsletter präsentieren kann. Doch das Transkribieren ist eine echte Fleißaufgabe... Zum Abschluss des Eröffnungsabends wurden alle geladenen Gäste ins benachbarte Filmhaus eingeladen, wo uns ein leckeres indisches Buffet erwartete.

Eigentlich hatte ich mir für Tag 2 des Festivals gleich drei Filme vorgemerkt, die ich sehen wollte. Doch die Gelegenheit, Umesh Kulkarni interviewen zu können, hatte für mich dann doch Priorität. Und der verspätete sich zum Interviewtermin so erheblich, dass ich die ersten beiden Filme nicht wahrnehmen konnte. Umesh und seine Kollegen steckten im Stau fest. Wie jedes Jahr organisierten die Veranstalter für die Filmschaffenden aus Indien eine sogenannte Location Tour, auf der den Teilnehmern örtliche Sehenswürdigkeiten gezeigt wurden, die sich als Aufnahmeort für neue Filmprojekte eignen könnten. So blieb es für mich an diesem Donnerstag bei nur einem einzigen Filmbesuch. Doch der dauerte dafür fast vier Stunden. JODHAA AKBAR (1:2.35, DD 5.1 EX) unter Regie von Ashutosh Gowariker war ein farbenprächtiges Historienspektakel. Eine meiner Lieblingsschauspielerinnen des Bollywood-Kinos war in der Titelrolle zu sehen: Aishwarya Rai (dieses Mal unter ihrem neuen Namen Aishwarya Rai Bachchan – die Schönheit hatte im vergangenen Jahr ihren Kollegen Abhishek Bachchan gehehlicht). Die großen Schlachtengemälde, riesige Paläste, Festmahle und perfekt choreographierte Tänze waren ein echtes Fest für die Augen. Wie alle indischen Blockbuster war auch JODHAA AKBAR mit einer Pause ausgestattet. Die aber wurde von den Veranstaltern leider komplett ignoriert und die 213 Minuten (reduziert auf 204 Minuten wegen der Vorführgeschwindigkeit von 25 Bildern/Sekunde) wurden am Stück durchgespielt. Mir persönlich gefiel der zweite Teil des Films besser als der längere erste Teil. Teil 2 hatte mehr Drive und zog den Zuschauer dadurch mehr in das Geschehen hinein.

Es war Freitag geworden und trotz dem ich bereits zwei Pressevorführungen (siehe hierzu meinen Film-Blog in diesem Newsletter) am Vormittag bzw. über Mittag besucht hatte, konnte ich es kaum abwarten, wieder Bollywood-Atmosphäre zu schnuppern. Ich hatte mir zwei Filme vorgenommen. Im Vorfeld wurde bereits bekannt, dass der ursprünglich für den Abend vorgesehene Film TAARE ZAMEEN PAR (Regiedebüt des indischen Superstars Aamir Khan) nicht für das Festival freigegeben wurde und kurzerhand durch die anspruchsvolle Komödie HUM TUM ersetzt wurde. Für mich war das kein Beinbruch, denn Letzteren kannte ich auch noch nicht. Doch zunächst zum ersten Film an diesem Freitag Nachmittag: LOINS OF PUNJAB PRESENTS (1:1.85, DD 5.1). In ihm erzählt Regisseur und Darsteller Manish Acharya die Geschichte eines indischen Gesangswettbewerbs in New Jersey, der von der Firma "Loins of Punjab" veranstaltet wird. Das bunt zusammengewürfelte Häufchen von Nachwuchstalenten buhlt nach allen Regeln der Kunst um den ersten Preis. Und so mancher Teilnehmer und Teilnehmerin greift dabei tief in die Trickkiste – mit unangenehmen Nebenwirkungen. Eine herrliche Komödie! Ich habe mich dabei köstlich amüsiert. Tolle Schauspieler, klasse Musik und ein intelligentes Drehbuch bringen hier die Schwächen der Menschen beim Kampf um den Sieg perfekt auf den Punkt. Regisseur Manish Acharya, der persönlich anwesend war, hatte den kräftigen Publikumsapplaus verdient. Manish stand nach dem Film seinem Publikum Rede und Antwort. Meine Frage, ob wir denn hier nun den "Director's Cut" gesehen hätten, wurde mit einem "Ja" beantwortet. LOINS OF PUNJAB PRESENTS startet im Herbst in amerikanischen Kinos und wird zu einem späteren Zeitpunkt natürlich auch auf DVD erhältlich sein.

Komödiantisch ging es dann am Abend weiter. Denn jetzt stand Indiens Antwort auf HARRY UND SALLY auf dem Programm: HUM TUM (1:2.35, DD 5.1), den Regisseur Kunal Kohli im Jahre 2004 inszenierte und damit einen Riesenhit in seinem Heimatland landete. Vor dem Film richtete der Regisseur, der eigens aus Indien angereist war, das Wort an das Publikum und sagte, dass HUM TUM weniger mit

HARRY UND SALLY zu tun hätte als vielmehr mit Woody Allens DER STADT-NEUROTIKER! Kohli bekannte sich als großer Fan jenes berühmten amerikanischen Independent-Regisseurs. Jetzt war ich natürlich schon sehr gespannt auf das Interview, das mir Kunal Kohli am Samstagnachmittag geben würde. HUM TUM war bestes "Upper Class" Bollywood-Kino und bot mir ein Wiedersehen mit meiner absoluten Lieblings-Bollyqueen: Rani Mukherjee! Die verblüffende Ähnlichkeit der Story mit HARRY UND SALLY war unübersehbar. Aber sie war perfekt umgesetzt und hatte alle Ingredienzien, die man sich von zweieinhalbstündigem Bollywood-Entertainment wünscht: Liebe, Herz, Schmerz, Gesang und Tanz. Und das Publikum war an diesem Abend in bester Laune und begleitete die fetzigen Songs mit rhythmischem Klatschen. Ein Erlebnis, das es im Heimkino zuhause einfach nicht gibt. Nach dem Film stellte sich Kunal Kohli den Fragen des Publikums und musste sich gegen übereifrige weibliche Fans wehren, die ihn unbedingt auf der anschließenden Bollywood-Party als Tanzpartner gewinnen wollten!

Mein Samstagsprogramm begann bereits um 12 Uhr mit einer Vorführung von Navdeep Sings MONORAMA – SIX FEET UNDER (1:2.35, DD 5.1 EX), einem Thriller. Irgendwie kam mir das alles ziemlich vertraut vor und ich mutmaßte bereits, dass es sich hier um eine indische Version von CHINATOWN handelt. Und kaum hatte ich diesen Gedanken gefasst, da war im Film ein Fernsehgerät zu sehen, in dem genau dieser Hollywood-Film lief! Also alles kein Zufall – sondern mehr oder weniger eine Hommage auf einen amerikanischen Filmklassiker. Ich musste zugegebenermaßen in dieser Vorstellung gegen eine unbändige Müdigkeit ankämpfen. Das lag allerdings nicht an dem sehr gut gemachten und spannenden Film, sondern mehr an meinem Alter! Denn mit über 50 sollte man sich doch des Öfteren einen kleinen Mittagschlaf gönnen... Nun ja, macht aber nichts. Immerhin war ich so jetzt ausgeruht für das Interview, zu dem ich mich mit Kunal Kohli verabredet hatte. Der kam – wie könnte es auch anders sein – mit einer Stunde Verspätung zum Termin. Wieder hatte die Location Tour meinen persönlichen Terminplan durcheinandergebracht. Aber um einen Mann wie Kohli zu treffen, ist man gerne zu ein paar Zugeständnissen bereit. Der Mann mit einem Selbstbewusstsein, das für zwei reichen würde, gilt als ein echter Shooting Star unter den indischen Filmregisseuren. Mit seinen Filmen HUM TUM und FANAA landete er in Indien Riesenerfolge. Und seinen neuesten und vierten Film, THODA PYAAR THODA MAGIC würden wir am Abend noch zu Gesicht bekommen. Wie schon Umesh Kulkarni, so war auch Kunal Kohli ein sehr interessanter Gesprächspartner. Von beiden war zu erfahren, dass es mit Blick auf die indische Filmzensur einen Hoffnungsschimmer gibt. Offensichtlich wird die restriktive Haltung dieser Institution allmählich aufgebrochen. In nicht allzu ferner Zukunft dürfen dann wohl auch in indischen Filmen Küsse gezeigt werden – derzeit noch ein absolutes Tabuthema. Abgesehen von dieser Art der Zensur lässt sich Kunal stets vertraglich zusichern, dass er das letzte Wort über den “Final Cut” seiner Filme hat. Wie er auch sonst alles in seinen Filmen selbst bestimmt. Seien es die Darsteller, sein Kameramann, seine Crew oder die zu verwendenden Songs. Hier lässt sich Kunal von keinem anderen etwas vorschreiben. Sogar die englischen Untertitel seiner Filme schreibt er selbst. Kunal verwendet sehr gerne Storyboards (ganz im Gegensatz zu Umesh Kulkarni), um seine Filme zu inszenieren. Auch die Tanzeinlagen werden von ihm selbst unter Mithilfe eines Choreographen entwickelt. Ein echter Allrounder, der nichts dem Zufall überlässt. Ich fragte ihn nach den Pausen in indischen Filmen und erhielt die Antwort, dass diese bereits bei Entstehung des Drehbuchs berücksichtigt werden. Meist werden diese so in die Dramaturgie des Filme eingeflochten, dass der erste Teil des Films mit einem sogenannten “Cliffhanger” endet, also einem spannenden Höhepunkt. Von seinen vier Spielfilmen ist Rani Mukherjee in gleich dreien in der weibliche Hauptrolle zu sehen. Hier war ich natürlich ganz besonders daran interessiert zu erfahren, wie es denn ist, mit dieser Schönheit zu arbeiten. Kunal filmt sehr gerne mit ihr und die beiden haben ein gutes Verhältnis. Ob sie sich denn wie eine Diva am Set aufführen würde? “Nein – und wenn, dann sage ich einfach, dass sie damit aufhören soll, was sie dann auch machen wird!” kam prompt die Antwort zurück. Kunal bezeichnet sich selbst als totalen Filmfan und es vergeht kaum ein Abend, an dem er sich vor dem Schlafengehen noch mindestens einen Film anschaut. Und selbstverständlich nicht nur Bollywood. Vielmehr liebt er das internationale Kino und ist dort auch bestens bewandert. Etwa eine Stunde dauerte das Interview, das es auch noch zu transkribieren gilt. So wenig Zeit, soviel Interviews...

Im Anschluss an das Gespräch gönnte ich mir zur Abwechslung einen Dokumentarfilmblock. Denn auch diese Art des Filmemachens ist seit jeher fester Bestandteil von “Bollywood and Beyond”. Gezeigt wurden zwei Filme im Betacam-SP-Videoformat. ONE SHOW LESS erzählt in knapp 20 Minuten von einem kleinen Dorfkino irgendwo in Indien, das um sein Überleben gegen die übermächtige Multiplex-Konkurrenz kämpft. Also auch dort dasselbe Problem wie hierzulande. Der im Anschluss gezeigte Film LAYA PROJECT bot faszinierende Musik, vorgetragen zum Gedenken an die Opfer der großen Tsunami-Katastrophe. Der Produzent des Films war persönlich anwesend und hätte mit Sicherheit viele Audio-CDs mit der Musik aus seinem Film verkaufen können, hätte er welche dabei gehabt.

Inzwischen war es Abend geworden und im Foyer knallten wieder einmal die Sektkorken. Kunal Kohli wurde zur Deutschlandpremiere seines neuesten Films auf dem roten Teppich empfangen. Angeregt durch meine vielen Eindrücke der vergangenen Tage fand sich jetzt sogar meine Frau Beate zur Filmvorführung ein, um sich von Bollywood verzaubern zu lassen. Immerhin stand mit THODA PYAAR THODA MAGIC (1:2.35, DD 5.1) eine indische Version von MARY POPPINS auf dem Programm. Da konnte eigentlich gar nichts mehr schief gehen. Der mit tollen visuellen Effekte fast schon überbordende Familienfilm soll das Kind in uns allen ansprechen, das wir hoffentlich alle noch bewahrt haben. So Kunal bei seiner Ansprache vor dem Film. Auch wollte er die schöne Tradition von Filmen wie THE SOUND OF MUSIC (eines meiner persönlichen Lieblingsmusicals!) fortsetzen bzw. erneuern. Nach den überschwenglichen Reaktionen der Zuschauer scheint ihm das auch perfekt geglückt zu sein. Wieder wurden die mitreißenden Songs vom Publikum beklatscht. Vollkommen perplex saß ich im Saal, als jetzt erstmals bei einem Bollywood-Film die vorgesehene Pause eingehalten wurde! Hatte etwa meine Frage nach der Pause beim Gespräch mit Kunal dies bewirkt? Wie auch immer – ich fand es toll! Und einmal mehr durfte ich beim Anblick meiner Rani Mukherjee in der Rolle der von Gott gesandten Nanny dahin schmelzen.... Und wer genau hinsah, der konnte kurz vor dem Ende des Films noch das Filmplakat von HARRY UND SALLY (WHEN HARRY MET SALLY) entdecken. Ein schöner Insider-Gag. Nach Ende des Films, der vom Publikum mit Standing Ovations gefeiert wurde, stellte sich Kunal noch einmal den Fragen des Publikums. Und er genoss es sichtlich!

Viel Zeit zum Schlafen fand ich in der Nacht zum Sonntag nicht, denn mein erster Film stand bereits um 10 Uhr auf meinem Zeitplan. VIA DARJEELING (1:2.35, DD 5.1) von Armindan Nandy erwies sich als subtiler und spannend erzählter Thriller, der durchaus seinen Platz im "Fantasy Filmfest" haben könnte. Da treffen sich ein paar Menschen des Abends, um sich Geschichten zu erzählen. Dabei wird immer dieselbe Geschichte aus verschiedenen Blickwinkeln erzählt. Wahrheit und Fiktion verschwimmen unmerklich. Die Qualität der 35mm-Kopie hat mich begeistert. Kino vom Feinsten! Doch nichts konnte mich auf das vorbereiten, was es im Anschluss zu sehen gab: Shimit Amins CHAK DE! INDIA (1:2.35, D 5.1) mit Sha Rhuk Khan als in Ungnade gefallener Trainer der indischen, weiblichen Hockeymannschaft. Was für ein Film! Selten habe ich es erlebt, dass ein Kinopublikum bei einem Film derart mitfiebert wie bei diesem exzellenten Sportfilm! Gesangs- und Tanzeinlagen gibt es in diesem Werk nicht, wohl aber klasse Musik. Da sprang der Funke auf das Publikum über und es herrschte teilweise Stadionatmosphäre im Kino – und das meine ich im durchaus positiven Sinn. Einmal mehr wurde allen Anwesenden klar, dass ein solches Kinoerlebnis selbst im besten Heimkino nicht reproduziert werden kann. CHAK DE! INDIA habe ich als meinen persönlichen Lieblingsfilm bei diesem Festival auserkoren. Und ich durfte erneut staunen: auch hier wurde die vorgesehene Pause eingehalten! Toll!

Als vorletztes Filmereignis beim Festival gönnte ich mir indisches Arthouse-Kino. ORE KADAL – THE SEA WITHIN von Shyamaprasad war zeitgenössisches Drama ganz im Stil von italienischem Neo-Realismus a la Roberto Rossellini. Hier suchte man vergebens nach Song-and-Dance Einlagen, denn es ging um existenzielle Fragen. Kein einfacher Film und schon gar nicht nach CHAK DE! INDIA. Danach war eine längere Pause angesagt, die ich mit dem Einwerfen von Nahrung verbrachte. Sodann ging es zur Preisverleihung, die von einer fetzigen Tänzerinnengruppe aus Frankfurt in bester Bollywood-Manier umrahmt wurde. Die mit Geld dotierten Preise für den besten Kurzfilm, den besten Dokumentarfilm und den besten Spielfilm wurden überreicht. Letzterer ging an Richie Mehtas AMAL, den ich leider nicht gesehen hatte, von dem ich aber viel Gutes zu hören bekam. Die Preisträger wurden von einer Fachjury bestimmt. Im Gegensatz dazu wurde auch noch ein Publikumspreis vergeben. Denn nach jeder besuchten Vorstellung hatte man die Möglichkeit, mittels Stimmzettel dem eben gesehenen Film eine Note von 1 (sehr gut) bis 4 (nicht so gut) zu erteilen. Mittels dieser Stimmzettel sollte dann der Publikumssieger ermittelt werden. Eine schöne Sache, bei der es allerdings einen kleinen Haken gab. Denn nicht bei jedem Film waren entsprechende Stimmzettel vorhanden! Die Rede von Manipulation machte die Runde. Ob es nur ein Missgeschick seitens der Veranstalter war oder ob hier bewusst manipuliert wurde, sei einmal dahingestellt. ORE KADAL wurde nach Ende des Festivals offiziell als Publikumssieger gekürt – und das bei mäßig besuchtem Film.

Nach Ende der Preisverleihung wurde dann noch der Abschlussfilm präsentiert: SHOOT ON SIGHT (1:1.85, DD 5.1). Regisseur Jag Mundhra (zusammen mit seinem Produzenten persönlich anwesend) inszenierte einen über weite Strecken spannend erzählten Politthriller, der in London spielt und Bezug nimmt auf die Erschießung eines zu unrecht als Terrorist verdächtigten Moslems. Naseeruddin Shah spielt den ermittelnden Scotland Yard Mann – und er macht seine Sache sehr gut. Leider zeigte das Drehbuch ein paar Schwächen, indem es manchmal zu sehr in Hollywood-Manier abrutscht, um seinen Suspense zu bekommen. Alles in allem aber ein sehenswerter Film.

Auch wenn (wie jedes Jahr) organisatorisch nicht alles perfekt ablief, so war ich persönlich mit dem Endergebnis mehr als zufrieden. Der Festivalbesuch hat großen Spaß gemacht und ich freue mich jetzt schon wieder auf "Bollywood and Beyond" 2009.

Ost-West-Konflikt

Montag ist Kinotag...und ist damit ein Tag wie jeder andere ;-)

FRIEDLICHE ZEITEN (1:1.85, DD 5.1)

Man schreibt das Jahr 1968. In der 5-köpfigen Ost-Familie, die in den Westen geflohen ist, brodelt es. Geht Vater fremd oder ist Mutter nur psychomäßig schlecht drauf? Die beiden Mädchen Ute und Wasa schmieden Pläne, damit sich ihre Eltern endlich scheiden lassen, damit es Mutter wieder gut geht. Dabei wissen die beiden Grundschülerinnen noch gar nicht, was es bedeutet, sich scheiden zu lassen... Eine liebevoll erzählte Geschichte, in der es viel zum Schmunzeln gibt. Brillant: die Darstellerinnen der beiden Mädchen. Phantastisch: das stimmige Zeitkolorit mit Liebe zum Detail. Sogar der Film, den sich der Vater mit den Töchtern im Kino ansieht, ist aus der Zeit: Doktor Schiwago. Die friedlichen Zeiten brechen ab 11. September im Kino an.

Familienkrise in Bella Italia

NON PENSARCI (NICHT DRAN DENKEN) (1:1.85, DD 5.1)

Ein gehörnter Punk-Musiker kehrt aus Rom zurück in den Schoß der Familie. Doch dort ist es auch nicht einfacher angesichts der vielen Probleme, die in der Familie gären... Netter kleiner italienischer Film für Zwischendurch: ein bisschen tragisch, melancholisch, lustig. Ab 21. August in den Kinos.

Sex im Alter

Der heutige Film hat mich ziemlich mitgenommen....gut, dass heute Abend noch das Bollywood-Festival losgeht ;-) ...

WOLKE 9 (1:1.85, DD 5.1)

Schmetterlinge im Bauch und Sex im Alter - darf man das? Dieser Frage geht Andreas Dresen in seinem neuen Film nach. Da hat Inge nach mehr als 30 Jahren Ehe ganz unverhofft einen Seitensprung - und was für einen! Der werte Herr ist bereits 76 und noch ganz gut drauf. Die zur Routine gewordene Ehe mit Eisenbahnfan Werner wird in ihren Grundfesten erschüttert... Dresen bleibt mit seiner Digitalkamera ganz nah dran an seinen Personen. Und die wirken so authentisch, dass man gar nicht mehr glaubt, Schauspieler zu sehen. Alles wirkt echt - selbst die Dialoge. Und alles geht ohne Tabus. Angesichts der im Film gezeigten Nacktheit würden ihm die Amerikaner vermutlich das gefürchtete Triple-X verpassen ;-). Alles in allem lohnenswertes deutsches Kino für alle, die so etwas aushalten können. Kinostart: 4. September 2008

Derber Humor und Endzeitanimation

Mit etwas Verspätung die Freitagsscreenings...

YOU DON'T MESS WITH THE ZOHAN (LEG DICH NICHT MIT ZOHAN AN) (1:1.85, DD 5.1)

Bei einem Film mit Adam Sandler in der Titelrolle bin ich immer etwas skeptisch. Und meine Skepsis war dieses Mal berechtigt. Denn der Humor des Films verirrt sich allzu oft unter die Gürtellinie und kennt nicht allzu viele Tabus. Dabei könnte die Geschichte vom israelischen Top-Agenten, der untertaucht, um seiner Leidenschaft als Hair-Stylist nachzugehen, eigentlich richtig witzig sein. Doch bis auf ein paar gelungene Lacher bleibt der Humor amerikanisch derb. Leider. Ab 14. August im Kino.

WALL-E (WALL-E - DER LETZTE RÄUMT DIE ERDE AUF) (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

Das neueste Werk aus der Pixar-Schmiede hat richtig Spaß gemacht. Im Gegensatz zu RATATOUILLE gibt es hier so gut wie keine Durchhänger. Die Animation ist brillant wie immer und die Figuren sind mit viel Liebe zum Detail angelegt. Ben Burtt sorgt für den guten Sound, der für die Pixar-Filme zum Aushängeschild geworden ist. Und Thomas Newmans Filmmusik ist das Tüpfelchen auf dem „i“. Der Gang zum Kino lohnt sich hier definitiv. Der Film startet ab 25. September.

Hallo Scully...hier spricht Mulder!

Der Montag hatte ein Wiedersehen im Körbchen...

THE X-FILES: I WANT TO BELIEVE (AKTE X - JENSEITS DER WAHRHEIT) (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

Nach zehn Jahren ist es wieder soweit: die Hollywood-Studios graben die X-Akten wieder aus. David Duchovny und Gillian Anderson mimen einmal mehr das erfolgreichste FBI-Duo der TV-Geschichte. Und an beiden hat (beruhigenderweise) der Zahn der Zeit genagt. Aber daran liegt es wohl nicht, dass der Charme der alten TV-Serie nicht mehr greifbar ist. Das dürfte eher das Resultat des Drehbuches sein, das sich bemüht, eine fürs Fernsehformat passende Story auf Spielfilmlänge auszuweiten. Aber irgendwie war's dann doch ein bisschen nostalgisch. Obgleich der intensive Kuss zwischen Mulder und Scully und auch die Kuschszenen im Bett wie Fremdkörper wirkten. Da wünschte man sich dann doch wieder eine gewisse respektvolle Distanz zwischen den Helden... Den Film gibt's ab 24. Juli im Kino.

Belangloses und Gewalttätiges

Das heutige Film-Doppel war sehr kontrastreich....

DIE ENTDECKUNG DER CURRYWURST (1:1.85, DD 5.1)

Selten habe ich im Kino ein derart belangloses, maximal an Fernsehfilmniveau heranreichendes Machwerk gesehen wie diese Currywurst! Wenn Ihr Geld und Schuhsohlen sparen wollt, dann meidet diesen Film, der ab 11. September deutsche Leinwände verschandeln wird ;-) ...

GOMORRA (GOMORRHA) (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

Da lobe ich mir doch Film Nummer 2, der uns auf fast dokumentarische Art und Weise die Strukturen und das Regelwerk der Gomorrha vor Augen führt. Mehrere Geschichten sind hier ineinander verwoben. Und nicht alle gehen gut aus. Dafür sorgt der Body Count. Regisseur Matteo Garrone hat einen sehr mutigen Film geschaffen, dem er hoffentlich nicht selbst zum

Wolfram Hannemanns Film-Blog

Opfer fallen wird. Ebenfalls ab 11. September 2008 in deutschen Kinos.

Räuberballade und Kibbuz

Es wird zur Tradition: erst fürchterliches deutsches Kino und danach gutes internationales Kino als Ausgleich....

RÄUBER KNEISSL (1:1.85, DD 5.1)

Um es gleich vorweg zu sagen: dieser Film hat die schlimmste Filmmusik seit langer Zeit. Und auch sonst kann ich kaum ein gutes Haar lassen an Marcus H. Rosenmüllers bayrischer Räuberballade. Die spielt gegen Ende des 19. Jahrhunderts und basiert auf wahren Begebenheiten. Doch angesichts der Tatsache, dass sich Herr Rosenmüller offensichtlich nicht zwischen Komödie und Drama entscheiden kann, verwirrt der Film den Zuschauer. Und wenn dann am Schluss ein ganzes Heer dem bösen Buben auf die Pelle rückt, dann lässt BUTCH CASSIDY schön grüßen. Kinostart ist der 21. August 2008.

SWEET MUD (SWEET MUD) (1:1.85, DD 5.1)

Eine wunderschön erzählte, autobiografische Geschichte eines kleinen Jungen, der mit seiner psychisch labilen Mutter in den siebziger Jahren in einem Kibbuz in Israel aufwächst. Exzellent gespielt und vorzüglich fotografiert. Gute Filme aus Israel scheinen kein Einzelfall zu sein. Dieses Land hat sich zu einem anspruchsvollen Filmland gemausert. SWEET MUD gibt's ab 7. August in guten Kinos.

Donnerstag, 24. Juli 2008

Gruppentherapie

Skandinavien - das Land unbegrenzten schwarzen Humors....

KUNSTENA TENKE NEGATIVT (DIE KUNST DES NEGATIVEN DENKENS) (1:1.85, DD 5.1)

Eine Therapiegruppe wie aus dem Bilderbuch - schwerstbehindert und depressiv - besucht zusammen mit ihrer auf positives Denken geeichten Therapeutin ein potenziell neues Mitglied: den im Rollstuhl sitzenden Geirr, der sich tagaus und tagein apokalyptische Filme ansieht und sich mit Joints zu-dröhnt. Keine Frage, dass die Gruppe alles andere als freundlich von ihm empfangen wird. Im Verlaufe des ungemütlichen Beisammenseins jedoch wird schnell klar, dass es die „Normalen“ sind, die richtige Probleme haben... Regisseur Brad Breien serviert schwarzen Humor, der einem teilweise im Halse stecken bleibt. Und das nicht gerade zimperlich. Wer skandinavisches Kino mag und insbesondere Filme aus Norwegen schätzt, dem könnte dieses nur 79 Minuten lange Werk gefallen. Kinostart ist der 18. September 2008. Zuvor kann man den Film unter seinem englischen Titel THE ART OF NEGATIVE THINKING auf dem Fantasy Filmfest bestaunen.

Freitag, 25. Juli 2008

SciFi und Fantasy

Zum Wochenausklang gab es noch kurz zwei Mainstreamer...

BABYLON A.D. (BABYLON A.D.)

(1:2.35, DD 5.1)

Schon vom ersten Augenblick an wird klar, welcher Film hier Pate gestanden hat: CHILDREN OF MEN. Die Sets, die Aufnahmetechnik, die Musik und in Grundzügen auch die Story sind jenem in der nahen Zukunft angesiedelten Endzeitthriller entnommen. Nichtsdestotrotz gefällt BABYLON A.D., obgleich Vin Diesel in der Hauptrolle zu sehen ist. Mit einem „Schauspieler“ wie diesem bedarf es natürlich aus ausgefeilter Action-Szenen. Und die hat es hier wahrhaftig zur Genüge. Der Gang ins Kino ist durchaus lohnenswert. Der Film startet am 11. September in den Kinos.

FILM NUMMER 2 (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

Nachdem alle Journalisten vom Filmverleih dazu aufgefordert wurden, eine Stillschweigevereinbarung zu unterzeichnen, darf ich nicht allzu viel hier verraten - nicht einmal den Filmtitel. Nur soviel kann ich sagen: ein düsteres Fantasy-Epos aus deutscher Produktion mit einer sehr guten Filmmusik (Annette Focks), das dem Vergleich mit gängigen US-Produktionen durchaus Stand hält. Geplanter Kinostart ist der 9. Oktober.

Prometheus' Garden

Best known for his collaborations with rock iconoclast Frank Zappa in the 1970s (Dub Room Special, Baby Snakes, The Amazing Mr. Bickford), underground animator Bruce Bickford has influenced generations of artists with his startlingly original vision. Prometheus' Garden (28 minutes, 1988) is the only film over which Bickford maintained complete creative control. Inspired by the Greek myth of Prometheus, a Titan who created the first mortals from clay and stole fire from the gods, Prometheus' Garden immerses viewers in a cinematic universe unlike any other. The dark and magical images of this haunting film unfold in a dreamlike stream of consciousness revealing an unlikely cast of clay characters engaged in a violent struggle for survival. Like all Bickford films, Prometheus' Garden defies description and simply must be experienced. In Clay Animation, film scholar Michael Frierson writes: „Bickford offers us a visionary landscape, a hallucinogenic retreat into magical settings where figure and ground may transform into the other at any moment, enchanted settings in which modern technocrats are easy villain

Available for the first time - the digital series as a movie! It begins with a terrifying darkness, the sound of staccato breathing, spurts of weeping, and the horrifying screech of fingernails against metal. Someone is buried alive. Rick, a handsome, 20 year-old, is just one of the victims trapped in a coffin. Illuminated in the darkness by the flame of a cigarette lighter, the details of the scene come into focus as a night-vision camera, embedded in the corner of the coffin, captures his every move. On his left, an ominous warning: SAVE YOUR BREATH. Aiding the group above ground are two sleuths, siblings Melanie and Travis, each with a secret stake tied to the victims' fates. The duo will piece together information gleaned from found footage and online diaries hidden on the Web, in the ultimate race against time to unravel the mystery and discover the locations of the buried coffins before time runs out.

What if one of the greatest space adventures was really a hoax? When the head of NASA's manned Mars mission discovers that the capsule meant to carry the astronauts will suffer a catastrophic failure, he forces them to participate in a hoax by broadcasting their „Mission“ from a studio built in an abandoned air force base. Over many months, the astronauts are forced to film broadcasts on their progress. All is going well until they learn that the only way for the hoax to be maintained is for them to die upon re-entry. Their only chance for survival is to make a desperate attempt to escape. Throughout this period, an investigative reporter gets wind of the fact that something is amiss and slowly puts together the pieces of the mystery.

Carrie (Blu-ray)

Amy Irving, William Katt, Piper Laurie, Nancy Allen - Dir. Brian De Palma

Based on the best-selling Stephen King novel, Carrie „catches the mind, shakes it and refuses to let it go“ (Time Magazine)! Starring Sissy Spacek and Piper Laurie (in Oscar-nominated performances), John Travolta and Amy Irving, this ultimate revenge fantasy is „absolutely spellbinding“ (Roger Ebert), „outrageously witty“ (Los Angeles Times) and one of the all-time great horror classics! At the center of the terror is Carrie (Spacek), a tortured high-school misfit with no confidence, no friends... and no idea about the extent of her secret powers of telekinesis. But when her psychotic mother and sadistic classmates finally go too far, the once-shy teen becomes an unrestrained, vengeance-seeking powerhouse who, with the help of her 'special gift,' causes all hell to break loose in a famed cinematic frenzy of blood, fire and brimstone!

Chaplin: 15th Anniversary Edition

Kevin Kline, Milla Jovovich, Penelope Ann Miller, Diane Lane, Geraldine Chaplin, Anthony Hopkins, Dan Aykroyd, Robert Downey Jr. - Dir. Richard Attenborough
Robert Downey, Jr. captures the essence of comic genius Charlie Chaplin in a compelling, nuanced performance that earned him Oscar and Golden Globe nominations for Best Actor. Director Richard Attenborough's well-crafted portrait traces Chaplin's impoverished London upbringing, extraordinary success as an actor and director, his troubled marriages, scandalous affairs, shocking exile to Switzerland and his triumphant return to Hollywood. The huge star-studded cast includes Kevin Kline, Dan Aykroyd, Milla Jovovich, Diane Lane and Geraldine Chaplin (as her own grandmother), and Downey's astonishing mimicry of Chaplin's gait, gestures and accents complete a dazzlingly authentic portrait of one of cinema's first pop culture icons.

The Commitment / The Unborn (Double Feature)

Did you ever wish with all your heart to achieve some apparently unattainable goal? A group of high school graduates, led by Moss (Prangthong Chsnghom), do just that, embarking on a terrible journey into the unknown. Pushed by peer and parental pressure, they visit a mysterious shrine, offering gifts to a vengeful ghost, Kaew (Thitima Maliwan), and pledge their souls, rather than fail their entrance exams into prestigious universities. Their desires are met, but at a grim price. No one, least of all the skeptical Moss, believes that a mere slip of the tongue will lead to the death of her friends. The hateful spirit has some wishes of her own, and her demonic demands lead to a trail of doom and despair. The story begins when Por wakes up in a hospital, after being brutally beaten by a drug dealer, to find herself about to give birth. Frightened and confused, Por finds herself confronting strange and disturbing events. She hears the weird voice of a child she can't see but whose doll moves around by itself. She also has to deal with the appearance of a mysterious woman whom she has never met before.

Orson Welles' Don Quixote

Akim Tamiroff, Francisco Reiguera - Dir.
Orson Welles
The timeless tale of imagination and the human will comes to the screen like never before in Orson Welles' Don Quixote. Many of Welles' film projects remained incomplete at the time of his death, and for years the footage from this incomplete version remained locked away, unseen by the public. Finally a release undertaken by his assistant director, Jess Franco, unveils this unique vision of two men, Don Quixote (Francisco Reiguera, Major Dundee) and his companion Sancho Panza (Akim Tamiroff, Alphaville), whose journey through provincial Spain suddenly pits them against enemies both real and imagined in the modern world. An audacious, fascinating, and rarely-seen piece of film history, Don Quixote is essential viewing from one of the world's most revered and influential filmmakers.

Le Doulos: The Criterion Collection

Serge Reggiani
The backstabbing criminals in the shadowy underworld of Jean-Pierre Melville's Le doulos have only one guiding principle: „Lie or die.“ A stone-faced Jean-Paul Belmondo stars as enigmatic gangster Sillen, who may or may not be responsible for squealing on Faugel (Serge Reggiani), just released from the slammer and already involved in what should have been a simple heist. By the end of this brutal, twisty, and multilayered policier, who will be left to trust? Shot and edited with Melville's trademark cool and featuring masterfully stylized dialogue and performances, Le doulos (slang for an informant) is one of the filmmaker's most gripping crime dramas.

I Dreamt Under The Water

In this savagely poignant drama, replete with brute emotion and raw lust, a young man voyages through the dark heart of Parisian nightlife and the extremes of self-destruction. Angel-eyed Antonin - an aspiring musician - has been wallowing in unrequited love for his sexy, enigmatic band mate Alex. But when the object of his desire suddenly dies in his arms one drug addled night, he recklessly indulges the depths of his pain by descending into a seedy, nocturnal world of public gay sex and hardcore rounds as a rent boy. I'm Through With White Girls

Jay Brooks is that black guy who digs indie rock, graphic novels and dates white chicks. After a slew of bad break-ups, Jay gives up white women „cold turkey“ and goes on a mission: „Operation Brown Sugar.“ Jay doesn't fit the „brotha“ stereotype, however, so he fails miserably with the „sistahs.“ Then Jay meets Catherine, a misunderstood „Half-Rican Canadian“ who's as righteously quirky as he is. But to win her heart, Jay will have to figure out that his commitment issues go beyond race. An international festival favorite written by Courtney Lilly (Arrested Development, Everybody Hates Chris), I'm Through With White Girls is a fresh and funny romantic comedy that proves finding love begins with finding yourself.

The Killing Of A Chinese Bookie: The Criterion Collection

Seymour Cassel, Ben Gazzara, Morgan Woodward, Al Ruban, Timothy Agoglia Carey, Robert Phillips, John Red Kullers - Dir. John Cassavetes
John Cassavetes engages film noir in his own inimitable style with The Killing of a Chinese Bookie. Ben Gazzara brilliantly portrays gentlemen's club owner Cosmo Vitelli, a man dedicated to pretenses of composure and self-possession. When he runs afoul of a group of gangsters, Cosmo is forced to commit a horrible crime in a last-ditch effort to save his beloved club and his way of life. Suspenseful, mesmerizing, and idiosyncratic, The Killing of a Chinese Bookie is a thought-provoking examination of desperation and masculine identity. The Ladies And Gentlemen Fabulous Stains

Peter Donat, Diane Lane, Laura Dern, Cynthia Sikes, Janet Wright, Ray Winstone, David Clennon, Paul Simonon, John Lehne - Dir. Lou Adler

Recently orphaned Corrine „Third Degree“ Burns (a 14-year-old Diane Lane) enlists her cousin (Laura Dern) and sister (Marin Kanter) to launch a punk rock band, The Stains. Three rehearsals later, The Stains score the opening slot on a cross-country tour with aging metal act The Metal Corpses (led by Fee Waybill of The Tubes) and British punk rockers The Looters (real-life punk pioneers Paul Simonon from The Clash and Steve Jones & Paul Cook of The Sex Pistols). The Stains meteoric rise (and equally lightning-quick fall) owes more to TV exposure than to talent. Cynical commentary on teen angst and rampant consumerism, or prescient allegory for today's pop scene?

The monster supposedly harassed two families in the late 1960s, but since then few have seen the monster yet it can be heard in the swap at night. Actual interviews with area residents tell the tale. Kenji Mizoguchi's Fallen Women: Eclipse From The Criterion Collection

Isuzu Yamada, Machiko Kyo - Dir. Kenji Mizoguchi

Over the course of a three-decade, more than eighty film career, master cineaste Kenji Mizoguchi (Ugetsu, Sansho the Bailiff) would return again and again to one abiding theme: the plight of women in male-dominated Japanese society. In these four lacerating works of socially conscious melodrama - two prewar (Osaka Elegy, Sisters of the Gion), two postwar (Women of the Night, Street of Shame) - Mizoguchi introduces an array of compelling female protagonists, crushed or resilient, who are economically and spiritually deprived by their nation's customs and traditions. With Mizoguchi's visual daring and eloquence, these films are as cinematically thrilling as they are politically rousing.

Warner Bros. And The Homefront Collection

The Hollywood Canteen was a club for GIs where Joan Crawford might over-easy you some eggs and John Garfield might scrub out the frying pan. The movie Hollywood Canteen is a snappy, starchy salute to that World War II landmark. Dazzle the troops and modern fans in „a great big scrambled vaudeville show with enough talent to have made a dozen fine movies." Bette Davis, Humphrey Bogart, Errol Flynn, and Dinah Shore come out to play in the joyous World War II-era Thank Your Lucky Stars. A breezy, behind-the-Hollywood-scenes story about young talents hoping for a big break glitters with specialty numbers featuring Golden Era greats. Dig in! From immigrant lad to All-American success story, Irving Berlin showed his abiding love for his adopted country with, among other cultural accomplishments, decades of Broadway hits, the unofficial national anthem God Bless America and the World War II spirit-lifter This Is the Army. On stage it featured 350 real-life GIs, giving their singing-and-dancing all to raise nearly $2 million (then an astronomical sum) for Army Emergency Relief. On The Rumba River

Traveling up and down the majestic Congo river on a rickety boat, the young orphan Antoine „Wendo“ Kolosoy composed his first songs on a beat up old guitar. As his talent was revealed and his reputation grew, the government banned his music. Fearful the joyful rhythms would stir unrest. Wendo's first album, released in 1948, made him the superstar of Congolese Rumba. But as Congo suffered under the dictator Mobutu, he was reduced to beggarhood. In the late 1990s, older and wiser, Wendo made his comeback. Featuring stunning images and unforgettable music and interviews, this enjoyable film joins Wendo as he journeys across Congo, playing his joyful music and searching for old band-mates. On The Rumba River is „an eye-opening view into the spirit of the Congolese people, and a beautiful and warm-hearted portrait of a singer who seems at times the beating heart of a country“ (Chris Barsanti, Film Journal International). Rothko's Rooms

In the late 1940s and '50s Mark Rothko (1903-70) was one of the leading American artists who created wall-scale abstract paintings that filled the viewer's field of vision and became a form of environment. Rothko spoke of wanting the spectator to feel inside the pictorial space, enveloped in his canvases' luminous color and apparitional surfaces. Filmed on both sides of the Atlantic, this documentary, chronicling Rothko's life and charting the development of his work, fills the screen with his softly defined, rectangular clouds of color stacked symmetrically on top of one another: a visual language conceived to evoke elemental emotions with maximum poignancy. Now the brothers set out to break the record in speed climbing the 2,900 foot sheer cliff known as „The Nose“ of El Capitan in Yosemite Valley. Extreme sports don't come any more extreme than speed rock-climbing. In their attempt to set a world record, the Hubers compress a three-day ascent for regular climbers into less than three hours. Intensive practice and split-second timing are required, and one false step can bring fatal disaster. Wimbledon: 2008 Final - Nadal vs. Federer

The consistently heart stopping 6-4, 6-4, 6-7 (5-7), 6-7 (8-10), 9-7 classic began at 2.35 pm and, thanks to a couple of breaks for rain it ended at 9.15 pm with the 22-year-old from Mallorca dropping to the ground with his arms outstretched in celebration. With the win, Nadal matched Bjorn Borg's fantastic feat of winning the Grand Slams at the French Open and Wimbledon back-to-back and also prevented Federer from surpassing the five titles in a row Borg collected between 1976 and 1980. Conditions for the latest duel between tennis's two finest players could not have been more demanding. The rain, which delayed the start for 27 minutes, eventually cleared but the chill, gusting wind which accompanied it persisted throughout the match, blowing winning shots off course and making life even more difficult for the two competitors. That they coped so well spoke volumes for their skill and adaptability. The match is being proclaimed as the greatest Grand Slam finals of all time. The Spaniard, who had squandered two match points in a nerve-shredding fourth set tie-break, added a first All England Club title

Words For The Dying

A revealing cinema verite portrait of the former Velvet Underground musician, John Cale, in creative collaboration with Brian Eno. Director Rob Nilsson follows them to Moscow, London and Wales for the recording of a new album, Words For The Dying, built around four Dylan Thomas poems. This is not your typical „making of“ documentary. Once in Moscow, Nilsson discovered that Eno wanted no part of the filming. The film becomes a clash of wills as Nilsson tries to cajole Eno back into the project. It is a subtle interneccine battle, the camera crew tiptoeing through a minefield of bursting egos.

Workingman's Death

The toil of the workingman is the fascinating subject for this documentary from Austrian director Michael Glawogger. Taking five groups of workers from five different countries, Glawogger looks at the perils of being a coal miner in the Ukraine, a slaughterhouse worker in Nigeria, a sulfur miner in Indonesia, a ship-breaker in Pakistan, and a steel worker in China. This film provides viewers with an important perspective on the harsh treatment meted out to certain factions of the workforce.
