Hallo Laserdisc- und DVD-Fans, liebe Filmfreunde!

Es war einfach wieder großartig! Und die Betonung liegt dabei definitiv auf "groß". Denn nach einem ganzen Wochenende im Pictureville Cinema in Bradford sehen die Bilder in den Stuttgarter Kinos vergleichsweise klein dagegen aus. Das sind eben die Risiken und Nebenwirkungen, die wir besonders dann zu spüren bekommen, wenn wir gerade frisch vom "Widescreen Weekend" heimgekehrt sind. Wie immer waren die Tage in einem der besten Kinos der Welt atemberaubend und haben großen Spaß gemacht. Vor wenigen Wochen wurde dort auch die Technik auf den neuesten Stand gebracht. So kann das "Pictureville" jetzt nicht nur digital mit einer Auflösung von 4K projizieren, sondern auch den neuen Dolby Surround 7.1 Sound nutzen. Demonstriert wurde die neue Technik mit der Aufführung von Ron Fricke's spirituellem Knock-Out SAMSARA. Gefilmt mit 65mm Negativfilm, gescannt mit einer Auflösung von 8K und gemastert sowie projiziert mit der maximal möglichen Auflösung von 4K dürfte SAMSARA die neue Referenz in Sachen Bildqualität darstellen. Der Film wird Ende August auch in die deutschen Kinos kommen und wir sind schon jetzt gespannt auf die Präsentation auf der gekrümmten Bildwand der Karlsruher Schauburg. Das Hauptaugenmerk des diesjährigen "Widescreen Weekend" lag jedoch auf dem 3-Streifen Cinerama-System, das in diesem Jahr seinen 60. Geburtstag feiert.

Höhepunkte waren hierbei die Technicolor-Druckkopien von THIS IS CINERAMA, HOW THE WEST WAS WON und THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF THE BROTHERS GRIMM. Beide Filme demonstrieren in eindrucksvoller Weise die verblüffende Bildwirkung der Cinerama-Projektion. Wer jetzt gerne auch im Heimkino ein bisschen das

Gefühl von Cinerama erleben möchte, für den hatten Dave Strohmaier und Randy Gitsch die passende Antwort. Denn Dank der unermüdlichen Tatkraft der beiden Amerikaner wird es im September die beiden Filme WINDJAMMER und THIS IS CINERAMA erstmals auf DVD und BD geben. Beide Filme wurden komplett restauriert und mit jeder Menge an Bonusmaterial ausgestattet. Dazu gibt es auf den BD-Versionen wie bereits bei HOW THE WEST WAS WON die "Smile-Box"-Version, mit der ein Cinerama-Effekt auch auf einer Heimanlage simuliert werden kann. Beide DVD/BD-Combos sind regionalcodefrei und können selbstverständlich wie immer über uns bezogen werden. Sobald die Preisverhandlungen unter Dach und Fach sind werden wir Ihnen die Preise in unserem Newsletter mitteilen.

Wer glaubte, dass er mit der Ton-technik im eigenen Heimkino bereits am Ende angekommen sei, den dürfte das neue Tonsystem aus dem Hause Dolby aufhorchen lassen: "Dolby Atmos" bedient bis zu 64 einzeln angesteuerte Lautsprechergruppen. Entsprechende Steuerdaten sind auf einem entsprechenden DCP enthalten – vorausgesetzt natürlich, dass der Film in "Dolby Atmos" abgemischt wurde. Noch gibt es fast keine Kinos mit dem neuen System, das mit Pixars BRAVE getestet werden soll. Doch glaubt man den Aussagen und Ohren derjenigen, die dieses System bereits gehört haben, so dürfte "Dolby Atmos" alles bisher Dagewesene in den Schatten stellen und könnte den Ton im Kino von Grund auf revolutionieren. Bei einem Siegeszug des Systems wird dann sicher auch irgendwann eine Heimversion verfügbar sein. Sie sehen also: es bleibt spannend.

Erst Inzest in Wien, dann Action in Stuttgart

Passend zu dem jüngst ergangenen Urteil zum Thema Geschwisterliebe entpuppte sich Film Nummer 1 als Inzest-Drama, bevor es dann mit den Marvel-Helden im Film Nummer 2 auf den Stuttgarter Schlossplatz ging.

TABU - ES IST DIE SEELE EIN FREMDES AUF ERDEN (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

Verleih: Camino (Filmagentinnen)
Land/Jahr: Österreich, Deutschland, Frankreich, Luxemburg 2011
Regie: Christoph Stark
Darsteller: Lars Eidinger, Peri Baumeister, Rainer Bock
Kinostart: 31.05.2012

Zu Beginn des 20. Jahrhunderts erzwingt die junge Grete Trakl, eine begabte Pianistin, die Erlaubnis, ihrem Bruder Georg in die Metropole Wien zu folgen. Georg versucht sich dort am Studium der Pharmazie, während, Grete nimmt Unterricht bei Musikprofessor Albert Brückner. Was noch niemand ahnt: die Geschwister Georg und Grete verbindet eine innige Liebesbeziehung. Es ist eine bedingungslose Liebe, die nicht sein darf. Georg, der sich mehr als Dichter denn als Apotheker sieht, verarbeitet die selbstzerstörerische Liebe in seinen Versen. Grete drängt ihn, mit ihr in eine gemeinsame Zukunft nach Australien zu gehen. Um sich und auch Grete zu schützen zwingt Georg seine Schwester, ihren 20 Jahre älteren Professor zu heiraten. Grete greift zu einer letzten Verzweiflungstat, um ihren Bruder zu behalten... Christoph Stark erzählt in seinem depressiven Film die Geschichte des berühmten Expressionisten Georg Trakl. In seinen ebenso verstörenden wie leidenschaftlichen Gedichten steht seine Schwester Grete stets im Mittelpunkt. Stark erzählt dabei nicht nur von einer Geschwisterliebe, sondern vor allem von einer Liebe, die nicht sein darf. Dank seiner großartigen Darsteller gelingt es ihm, das Publikum auf die Seite der Liebenden zu ziehen. Ob diese Liebe allerdings in Wirklichkeit jemals ausgelebt wurde oder nur in den Gedichten Trakls existiert, weiß niemand so genau. Laut Presseheft war das für die Macher des Films auch nur von untergeordneter Bedeutung: "Filmisch gesehen ist dies eine dramatische Metapher, die größte Hürde für eine Liebe, die keine Erfüllung finden darf", erklärt Produzent Arno Ortmaier. Die Kameraarbeit in CinemaScope (Bogumil Godfrejow) mit ihren oft dunklen Bildern und der erdfarbenen Tönung visualisiert die deprimierende, ausweglose Situation der Protagonisten perfekt. Die aus dem Off zitierten, bildgewaltigen Verse Trakls tun ein übri-

ges. TABU ist kein Film, den man sich an einem herrlich sonnigen Nachmittag anschauen sollte, sondern eher an einem stürmischen Herbsttag. Denn – ohne damit zuviel zu verraten – ein Happy-End ist dieser Liebe nicht gönnt.

MARVEL'S THE AVENGERS (1:1.85, 3D, DD 5.1 + 7.1)

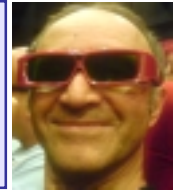

OT: The Avengers
Verleih: Walt Disney
Land/Jahr: USA 2012
Regie: Joss Whedon
Darsteller: Robert Downey Jr., Chris Evans, Mark Ruffalo, Scarlett Johansson, Samuel L. Jackson, Gwyneth Paltrow
Kinostart: 26.04.2012

Die Welt steht wieder einmal vor einer unglaublichen Katastrophe: Thors Bruder Loki besitzt dank eines magischen Würfels unbegrenzte Macht und möchte sich die Erde Untertan machen. Das ruft Nicky Fury und seine Friedensorganisation S.H.I.E.L.D. auf den Plan. Doch um die Welt vor Lokis Macht zu retten bedarf es mehr als nur eines Helden – sondern gleich sechs davon! Iron Man, Thor, Black Widow, Hulk, Captain America und Hawkeye, genannt die "Avengers", werden von Fury rekrutiert. Gemeinsam sollen sie dem Feind den Wind aus den Segeln nehmen... Leider erliegt das 140 Minuten lange Spektakel zum Ende hin dem Verlangen, alles in einer gigantische Materialschlacht münden zu lassen. Trotz dem halben Dutzend Superhelden wirkt das dann genauso ermüdend wie Michael Bays TRANSFORMERS. Bis es allerdings soweit ist nutzt Joss Whedon in seinem Film wenigstens ein bisschen komödiantisches Potenzial. Denn zwischen den Marvel-Helden ist nicht immer alles Friede Freude Eierkuchen. Da gibt es immer wieder feine, gut platzierte Rivalitäten. Insbesondere Robert Downey Jr. in der Rolle des Iron Man überzeugt hier noch am ehesten. Er ist in seiner Rolle nicht so steif wie seine Kollegen (was vielleicht an seinen Erfahrungen in der Rolle des Sherlock Holmes liegen mag) und sorgt für ein paar herzhaftes Lacher. Dazwischen gibt es aber leider zuviel langweiliges Geschwätz, so dass man stets versucht ist, den schnellen Vorlauf zu aktivieren. Stoppen muss man dann allerdings wieder bei jeder Sequenz, die im schwäbischen Stuttgart spielt und für die eigens in den USA der Schlossplatz nachempfunden wurde. Das weckt Erinnerungen an Bilder, die vor ein paar Wochen durch das World Wide Web gegangen sind und bei den Stuttgartern für höchstes Amusement gesorgt hat. Nichtsdestotrotz enttäuscht der unnötigerweise auf 3D aufgepöpelte AVENGERS mehr als das er unterhält.

Flüchtlingsdrama

Lauer Mittwoch: es gab nur einen einzigen Film, dafür aber viel Sonne.

DIE FARBE DES OZEANS (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

Verleih: Movienet (24 Bilder)

Land/Jahr: Deutschland, Spanien 2011

Regie: Maggie Peren

Darsteller: Sabine Timoteo, Friedrich Mücke, Hubert Koundé, Alex Gonzalez

Kinostart: 17.05.2012

Während ihres Urlaubs auf den Kanaren wird Nathalie mit einer humanitären Katastrophe konfrontiert: vor ihren Augen erreicht ein überladenes Boot aus Afrika die Küste. Zola und seinem kleinen Sohn Mamadou eilt sie zu Hilfe, viele andere Afrikaner sterben. Jose, der zuständige Polizist, hat solche Dramen schon zur Genüge mit ansehen müssen und rät Nathalie, sich nicht weiter einzumischen. Zola und seinem Sohn droht die Abschiebung, aber sie können fliehen und nehmen Kontakt zu Nathalie auf. Gegen den Rat ihres Freundes, sich nicht weiter um die Flüchtlinge zu kümmern, beginnt Nathalie den beiden zu helfen. Mit furchtbaren Konsequenzen... Was kann man als Einzelner gegen die Flüchtlingsströme aus Afrika tun? Wie definiert man die Richtigkeit des Handelns? Gibt es ein Gutes im Schlechten? Mit ihrem Drama versucht Regisseurin Maggie Peren diesen Fragen auf den Grund zu gehen. Und das in gleich mehrfacher Hinsicht. So gibt es in ihrem Film nicht nur die Flüchtlingstragödie, mit der sich eine deutsche Touristin konfrontiert sieht. Auch der Polizist Jose, der erbarmungslos versucht, jeden einzelnen Flüchtling wieder zur Rückkehr zu zwingen, hat ein großes Problem: seine Schwester ist kokainsüchtig und bittet ihn ständig um Hilfe. Auch er sieht sich mit der Frage konfrontiert, ob er helfen soll oder nicht. Seine existenziellen Fragen beantwortet der Film am Ende nur unvollständig. Und das ist auch gut so. Denn nur so kann er den Zuschauer dazu bewegen, über die akuten Probleme vor den Küsten Europas, die eine direkte Folge der Globalisierung darstellen, weiter nachzudenken. Maggie Peren möchte mit ihrem Film aufrütteln. Und genau das schafft sie auch. Wenn auch zugegebenermaßen mit ein paar wenigen dramaturgischen Schwächen (z.B. die Beziehungsprobleme der Protagonistin, die hier irgendwie fehl am Platz wirken).

THE LUCKY ONE – FÜR IMMER DER DEINE

(1:2.35, DD 5.1)

OT: The Lucky One

Verleih: Warner

Land/Jahr: USA 2012

Regie: Scott Hicks

Darsteller: Zac Efron, Taylor Schilling,

Blythe Danner

Kinostart: 26.04.2012

Das Foto einer jungen Frau rettet Sergeant Logan Thibault das Leben. Denn als er sich bei seinem Einsatz im Irak ein paar Schritte von seinem Trupp entfernt, um es aus dem Staub aufzuheben, schlägt eine Granate hinter ihm ein. Für Logan ist klar: die Frau auf dem Foto ist sein Schutzengel. Wieder zurück in den USA und noch immer traumatisiert, beginnt er nach der Frau zu suchen. Er findet sie tatsächlich. Beth, geschieden und Mutter eines kleinen Sohnes, ist Besitzerin einer Hundezucht. Weil er nicht imstande ist, den wahren Grund für sein Auftauchen zu sagen, nimmt Logan die offene Stelle bei Beth an. Im Lauf der Zeit entwickelt sich zwischen den beiden eine zarte Liebesbeziehung. Doch Beths Ex-Mann findet das gar nicht gut... Bereits der deutsche Untertitel "Für immer der Deine" lässt es erahnen: hier steht ganz und gar die Romanze im Mittelpunkt des Geschehens. Und mehr noch: die Romanze läuft nach altbewährtem Muster ab. Fast so, als gehörte sie zum "Pilcher"-Franchise. Tatsächlich jedoch handelt es sich um eine Bestsellerverfilmung nach Nicholas Sparks. Regisseur Scott Hicks lässt sich keine Chance entgehen, kräftig auf die Tränendrüse zu drücken. Ist es nicht herzig, wie Ex-Teen-Star Zac Efron sich um den kleinen Sohn seiner Arbeitgeberin kümmert? Ganz nebenbei repariert er auch noch ihre Motorjacht, liest Philosophie-Bücher und spielt perfekt Klavier. Da kann kein Mädel widerstehen. Wenn sich dann Taylor Schilling alias Beth endlich auf den schönen Mann einlässt, dann passiert das natürlich fein säuberlich unter der Dusche – bekleidet natürlich. Das anschließende Liebesspiel beginnt mit intensivem Abtropfen, bevor es nach einer unendlich langen Zeit dann endlich daran geht, die nassen Klamotten auszuziehen. Keine Sorge: es herrscht Sommer, so dass eine Erkältung nicht zum Zuge kommt! Am Ende trägt das Drehbuch (und vermutlich auch die Romanvorlage) dann derart dick auf, dass man nur noch den Kopf darüber schütteln kann, auf welcher eleganten Weise man sich des eifersüchtigen Ex-Mannes entledigt. Das Zielpublikum (Frauen jeden Alters) wird sich darüber aber ganz bestimmt nicht den Kopf zerbrechen, sondern mit der auf- und abflammenden großen Liebe mitfiebern und für großflächigen Einsatz von Papiertaschentüchern sorgen. Bei all dem Kitsch und den Klischees, die Scott Hicks hier abliefern, muss man trotz allem aber ein gutes Wort für die Kameraarbeit von Alar Kivilo einlegen: seine Bilder sind perfekt.

BUCK – DER WAHRE PFERDE-FLÜSTERER (1:1.85, DD 5.1)

OT: Buck

Verleih: NFP (Filmwelt)

Land/Jahr: USA 2011

Regie: Cindy Meehl

Darsteller: Buck Brannaman, Robert Redford

Kinostart: 31.05.2012

Robert Redford nahm in als Berater mit in sein Team, als er DER PFERDE-FLÜSTERER inszenierte: Buck Brannaman. Heute reist der Pferdeexperte quer durch die USA und gibt interessierten Menschen Unterricht im richtigen Umgang mit Pferden. Cindy Meehl porträtiert in ihrem Dokumentarfilm diesen außergewöhnlichen Menschen, den die Pferde zu verstehen scheinen. Buck erzählt von seiner extrem schweren Kinderzeit, in der er und sein Bruder regelmäßig von ihrem Vater verprügelt wurden. Erst nach dessen Tod begann er in der Obhut seiner Pflegeeltern ganz allmählich aus sich herauszukommen. Die Liebe zu den Pferden verdankt er seinem Stiefvater, der ihm alles beigebracht hat. Dabei macht Buck auch unmissverständlich klar, dass in den meisten Fällen das Pferd ein Spiegelbild seines Halters darstellt. Macht ein Pferd Probleme, so ist das ein deutlicher Hinweis darauf, dass es auch Probleme im Privatleben des Pferdehalters gibt. Meehls Film zeigt auch, dass Buck Brannaman kein Gott ist: einem der Problempferde, das zu ihm gebracht wird, kann er nicht mehr helfen. BUCK ist eine gelungene Dokumentation mit Humor und noch mehr Gefühl.

AMADOR UND MARCELAS ROSEN (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

OT: Amador

Verleih: Alamo (Filmagentinnen)

Land/Jahr: Spanien 2010

Regie: Fernando León de Aranoa

Darsteller: Magaly Solier, Celso Bugallo, Pietro Sibille

Kinostart: 07.06.2012

Den Abschiedsbrief für ihren Freund Nelson hat sie schon geschrieben, als Marcela bemerkt, dass sie schwanger ist. Sie zerreisst ihn wieder und bleibt bei Nelson. Die Schwangerschaft hält sie geheim. Weil dem Paar die Einkünfte aus dem Verkauf von gestohlenen Rosen bei weitem nicht ausreicht, um ein normales Leben zu führen, tritt Marcela eine Stelle als Pflegerin bei dem bettlägerigen Amador an. Der erweist sich als etwas eigenbrödlerisch, ist dafür aber auch sehr weise. Marcelas Schwangerschaft bleibt ihm nicht verborgen. Auch Amador hat seine Geheimnisse, von denen er ein paar mit ihr teilt. Die beiden beginnen sich gegenseitig zu respektieren. Mit seinen weisen Worten hilft Amador Marcela, ihr unglückliches Leben neu zu ordnen. Doch dann passiert etwas Unerwartetes... Während Amador im Bett liegend ein Puzzle zusammensetzt, sagt er zu Marcela, dass das Leben selbst wie ein Puzzle sei. Es käme nur darauf an, die einzelnen Teile richtig zusammenzusetzen. Und jeder trage die Einzelteile schon immer in sich. Fernando León de Aranoas Spielfilm ist ein Drama der leisen Töne, das auch mit feinem Humor nicht spart. Die gebürtige Peruanerin Magaly Solier spielt die Rolle der Marcela sehr einfühlsam und nuanciert. Ihr Unglücklichsein und ihre Unsicherheit spiegeln sich wunderbar in ihren Augen. Der Regisseur über seinen Film: "Es geht es in erster Linie um das Leben, darüber, wie selbst der Tod manchmal nicht reicht, um es aufzuhalten. Alle Entscheidungen, die getroffen werden, fallen im Namen des Lebens. Das Leben ist der eigentliche Protagonist der Geschichte: der Motor, der Anfang und das Ende, und die Notwendigkeit. Ich meine damit das Leben mit seiner Mischung aus Hoffnung und Schuld, Schmerzen und Bedürfnissen."

Aranoa ist ein bemerkenswert ruhiger und schön fotografiertes Film gelungen.

Exploration

Mit einem Kammerspiel ging für mich die Pressewoche zu Ende. Zu Ende? Jawoll! Denn jetzt geht es ab nach Bradford, um endlich einmal wieder Großformatkino zu bestaunen.

JASMIN (1:1.85, Stereo)

Verleih: Camino

Land/Jahr: Deutschland 2011

Regie: Jan Fehse

Darsteller: Anne Schäfer, Wiebke Puls

Kinostart: 14.06.2012

Es gibt nur einen Tisch und eine Küchenzeile in jenem Raum der psychiatrischen Anstalt, in welchem sich zwei Frauen gegenüber sitzen. Die Eine, Jasmin, hat ihr kleines Kind getötet und versucht, auch sich das Leben zu nehmen. Die Andere, Dr. Feldt, ist vom Gericht mit einem psychiatrischen Gutachten beauftragt. In vier Sitzungen an unterschiedlichen Tagen versucht die Reifere der Jüngeren ihr gesamtes bisheriges Leben zu entlocken – bis hin zu jenem verhängnisvollen Tag, an dem Jasmin ihre schlimme Tat beging. Die anfängliche Verweigerung Jasmins weicht im Laufe der Sessions einem Vertrauen, das sie der Psychologin entgegenbringt. Mit gleich sieben parallel laufenden Kameras hat Jan Fehse sein psychologisches Kammerspiel eingefangen. Es gelingt ihm dadurch, das Psychodrama atmosphärisch dicht zu gestalten. Großen Anteil am Gelingen seines Experiments haben die beiden großartigen Darstellerinnen, die beide jede Menge Theatererfahrung haben. Nur so war es möglich, ganze Dialogkomplexe in nur einem einzigen Take abzdrehen. Dabei basiert das Drehbuch von Christian Lyra auf dessen intensiven Recherchen. So vereint JASMIN Tatsachen aus mehreren real existierenden Fällen. Jan Fehses Film hat vermutlich kein großes wirtschaftliches Kinopotenzial und landet daher sicher schnell im Spätprogramm eines TV-Senders. Dort allerdings wird das Kammerspiel bei weitem nicht die Intensität erreichen wie in einem ganz dunklen Kinosaal.

Ausnahmekünstler trifft auf Familiendrama

Warum nur habe ich nach meiner Rückkehr aus Bradford stets das Gefühl, dass wir hierzulande nur Kino im Briefmarkenformat haben?

AI WEIWEI: NEVER SORRY (1:1.85, Stereo)

Wolfram Hannemanns

Film-Blog

OT: Ai Weiwei: Never Sorry
Verleih: DCM
Land/Jahr: USA 2012
Regie: Alison Klayman
Kinostart: 14.06.2012

Er ist so etwas wie Chinas Antwort auf Joseph Beuys: Ausnahmekünstler Ai Weiwei. Mit seinen teils spektakulären und extrem einfallsreichen Kreationen verblüfft er die Kunstwelt und feiert in allen Kunsthallen der Welt große Erfolge. Doch als chinesischer Staatsbürger hat er es nicht einfach. Schon gar nicht, wenn er seine Kunst für politische Aussagen verwendet. Aussagen, die sich gegen das totalitäre Regime im eigenen Land richten. Regisseurin Alison Klayman hat über einen Zeitraum von zwei Jahren den Künstler beobachtet. Sowohl bei seiner Arbeit wie auch als Privatmann sowie als politischer Aktivist. So ist ein interessantes Porträt des Menschen entstanden, der im vergangenen Jahr plötzlich wie vom Erdboden verschwunden war um nach einiger Zeit wieder aufzutauchen – jetzt allerdings mundtot. Die Dokumentation, in der sich Weggefährten, Kuratoren, Galeristen, Mitarbeiter und Freunde äußern, zeigt an seinem Beispiel auch gleichzeitig die Macht des Internets. Als das Regime seinen Blog stoppte, wich er auf Twitter aus, um seine Botschaften mittels seiner großen Zahl von Anhängern zu verbreiten.

SIMON (1:2.35, DD 5.1)
OT: Simon Och Ekarna / Simon And The Oaks
Verleih: farbfilm (24 Bilder)
Land/Jahr: Schweden, Dänemark, Deutschland, Norwegen 2011
Regie: Lisa Ohlin
Darsteller: Bill Skarsgård, Helen Sjöholm, Stefan Gödicke
Kinostart: 28.06.2012

1939 in Schweden. Der kleine Simon ist ein Träumer, der sich am liebsten in seinem Baumhaus in einer alten Eiche versteckt und seiner Phantasie freien

Lauf lässt. Seinem Vater ist das ein Dorn im Auge, will er ihn doch lieber zu einer praktischen Tätigkeit erziehen. Nur seiner Mutter verdankt er es, dass er auf eine höhere Schule gehen darf. Dort schließt er Freundschaft mit Isak, der aus einer reichen jüdischen Familie stammt. In Isaks Haus fühlt sich Simon viel wohler als zuhause, ermuntert ihn doch Iaks Vater sogar, sich für Musik zu interessieren. Während Simon noch grübelt, warum er eigentlich gar nicht in seinen Familie passt, bricht der Zweite Weltkrieg aus und fördert als Folge ein Geheimnis ans Tageslicht: Simon wurde adoptiert und ist eigentlich der Sohn eines deutschen Juden... Lisa Ohlin verfilmte den Bestseller Marianne Fredriksson zwar mit teilweise wunderschönen Bildern (Kamera: Dan Laustsen), aber leider ziemlich sperrig. Das Familienepos macht nicht ganz klar, worauf es eigentlich hinaus möchte. Dafür werden Personen eingeführt, die zur Geschichte nichts beitragen und alsbald wieder verschwunden sind (z.B. Katharina Schüttler als Iza). Hier verwirrt das Drama den Zuschauer erheblich. Anzunehmen ist, dass sich Lesern des Romans möglicherweise die Zusammenhänge besser erschließen als dem Kinogänger. Immerhin darf der Film einen wunderbaren Score von Annette Focks auf seiner Habenseite buchen.

Seichte Salsa-Sauce
Rein pressetechnisch ist die Woche bereits gelaufen. Den letzten Film gab es heute. Ein hartes Stück Arbeit.

STREETDANCE 2 3D (1:1.85, 3D, DD 5.1)
OT: StreetDance 2 3D
Verleih: Universum (SquareOne)
Land/Jahr: Großbritannien, Deutschland, Italien 2012
Regie: Max Giwa, Dania Pasquini
Darsteller: Falk Hentschel, Sofia Boutella, George Sampson, Tom Conti
Kinostart: 07.06.2012

Ash ist StreetDancer mit Leib und Seele. Doch er schafft es einfach nicht, bei den angesagten Dance Battles auf einen grünen Zweig zu kommen. Da läuft ihm der junge Eddie über den Weg und bietet sich als sein Manager an. Die beiden machen sich in die Hauptstädte Europas, um eine StreetDance-Crew zusammenzustellen, mit der Ash gemeinsam beim großen Finale in Paris der rivalisierenden Crew "Invincible" entgegentreten kann. In Paris lernt er Eva kennen, die im Club ihres Onkels als Salsa-Tänzerin arbeitet. Ash hat eine Idee: warum nicht StreetDance und Salsa kombinieren? Jetzt muss er nur noch Eva von seiner Idee überzeugen... Schmunzelnd habe ich im Presseheft gelesen, dass sich die Macher vom ersten STREETDANCE 3D nach wie vor wundern, warum das Teil so enorm erfolgreich war. Und wundern darf man sich hier vollkommen zu Recht. Denn bereits die extrem einfache Strickweise des ersten Teils bot kein echtes Jubelpotenzial. Doch gerade als man dachte es gäbe nichts Schlechteres danach...kommt der zweite Teil. Die Story ist hier derart dünn, dass man sie glattweg als neuen Maßstab für seichte Sujets nehmen könnte. Aber es ist nicht nur die Story – auch die Darsteller sind extrem eindimensional. Der gebürtige Deutsche Falk Hentschel in der Rolle des Ash gibt ein derart farbloses Bild ab, dass man sich nur darüber wundern kann, welche Qualitäten seine Partnerin (die immerhin etwas Temperament zeigt!) wohl in ihm sieht und die die Kamera offensichtlich dem Zuschauer vorenthält. Der Mann ist eine echte Schlaftablette! Einzig noch Tom Conti in der Rolle eines französischen Club-Besitzers beweist, dass die Produktion tatsächlich auch ein kleines Etat für die Schauspieler gehabt haben muss. Auffallend: während des ganzen Films über machen sich die jungen Tänzer keine Gedanken über Geld. Finanzielle Probleme gibt es in diesem Film nicht. Wozu auch wenn man den ganzen Tag tanzen darf?

Adventures Of Teddy Ruxpin

Will Ryan , Phil Baroni

Come dream with Teddy Ruxpin and his wonderful friends as they set out in search of the long lost treasure of Grundo! The adventure begins when Teddy gets a hold of an old-fashioned treasure map and talks his very reluctant pal Grubby into joining him. Grubby isn't too sure he made the right choice once he realizes that the evil magician Jack W. Tweeg and his nasty associates the Bounders will be after them every step of the way, but there's no arguing with Teddy Ruxpin once he sets his mind on a goal! Things get even crazier when the M.A.V.O. (that's the Monsters and Villains Organization, of course!) gets on their tail, but Teddy and his friends never lose sight of what's important - and what's important is having fun! That's not a bit hard with people like absent-minded inventor Newton Gimmick, Leota the winged Woodsprite, Prince Arin and Princess Aruzia of Grundo, the adorably penguin-like Fobs and the wacky Woolly Whatsit on their side! Together, these humorous heroes embark on a 65-part adventure that brings them something far more valuable than mere gold in the end! What could that be? Code Of Silence (Blu-ray)

Chuck Norris, Henry Silva, Bert Remsen
From the director of The Fugitive comes a riveting, turbo-charged crime thriller starring international action star Chuck Norris („Walker, Texas Ranger“). Exploding with heart-stopping chases and lethal martial arts confrontations, it's a „daring“ (Washington Post) and „suspenseful“ (Box Office) adventure that pits an honest cop against two vicious crime lords - and his own department. Eddie Cusack (Norris) is a Chicago detective who plays by his own rules - a dangerous habit, especially when he breaks the force's „code of silence“ to blow the lid off a deadly police cover-up. Now an outcast, he receives little help from his embittered fellow officers when he's hurled into a blistering battle against rival drug kingpins. But Cusack is a one man army, waging war on the criminals with his razor-sharp wits, lightning-fast Karate moves and a special surprise: „Prowler“, a remote-controlled, rocket-equipped tank!

Father's Day (Blu-ray + DVD Combo) (Blu-ray)

Adam Brooks
The urban legend known as 'The Father's Day Killer' began some years after the demise of serial rapist/murderer Chris Fuchman. Since the 1970s, the use of contraceptives has tripled in North America alone and a generation of fathers fell asleep with the covers pulled tight, buttocks clenched. The story has become a fire-side cautionary ritual on camping trips, often used by fathers to warn their sons of the dangers of unplanned pregnancy. That deep seeded fear of penetration, violation and eventually death waned as the murder and rape of fathers continued to decline all over the world. Unfortunately those numbers didn't remain low, and it would seem that the legend is not yet complete.

The Flowers Of War

Christian Bale, Atsuro Watabe, Paul Schneider

From internationally celebrated director Zhang Yimou (Ju Dou, Raise The Red Lantern, Hero, House Of Flying Daggers) comes a story of love and war. The dangerous streets of Nanjing throw together a group of opposites - a flock of shell-shocked schoolchildren, a dozen seductive courtesans, and a renegade American (Academy Award® winner Christian Bale, The Fighter, The Dark Knight) posing as a priest to save his own skin, or so he thinks - all seeking safety behind a walled cathedral. Trapped by marauding soldiers, over the next few days the prejudices and divides between them will fall away as they unite around a last-ditch plan to protect the children from impending catastrophe.

Jean Grémillon During The Occupation: Eclipse From The Criterion Collection

Michele Morgan, Jean Debucourt, Jean Gabin, Charles Vanel, Pierre Brasseur
Though little known outside of France, Jean Grémillon is a consummate filmmaker from his country's golden age. A classically trained violinist who discovered cinema as a young man when his orchestra was hired to accompany silent movies, he went on to make almost fifty films-which ranged from documentaries to avant-garde works to melodramas with major stars-in a career that started in the mid-1920s and didn't end until the late 1950s. Three of his richest films came during a dire period in French history: Remorques, starring Jean Gabin, was begun in 1939 but finished and released after Germany invaded France, and Lumière d'été and Le ciel est à vous were produced during the occupation. These are character-driven dramas that reveal either a society on the precipice of doom or people breaking free of societal limitations; humane, entertaining, and technically brilliant, they show Grémillon to be one of cinema's true hidden masters. Jacques Prévert cowrote this atmospheric tale of the romantic trials of a tugboat captain, played by the iconic French star Jean Gabin. Le Havre: The Criterion Collection

Andre Wilms, Aki Kaurismaki, Aki Kaurismaki

In this warmhearted comic yarn from Aki Kaurismäki (The Match Factory Girl), fate throws the young African refugee Idrissa (Blondin Miguél) into the path of Marcel Marx (La vie de bohème's André Wilms), a kindly bohemian who shines shoes for a living, in the French harbor city Le Havre. With inborn optimism and the support of most of his tight-knit community, Marcel stands up to the officials doggedly pursuing the boy for deportation. A political fairy tale that exists somewhere between the reality of contemporary France and the classic French cinema of the past, especially the poetic realist works of Jean Duvivier and Marcel Carné, Le Havre is a charming, deadpan delight and one of the Finnish director's finest films.

Metropolitan: The Criterion

Collection (Blu-ray)

Carolyn Farina, Chris Eigeman, Edward Clements

One of the great American independent films of the 1990s, the surprise hit Metropolitan by writer-director Whit Stillman (Damsels in Distress) is a sparkling comedic chronicle of a middle-class young man's romantic misadventures in New York City's debutante society. Stillman's deft, literate dialogue and hilariously highbrow observations earned this first film an Academy Award nomination for best original screenplay. Alongside the wit and sophistication, though, lies a tender tale of adolescent anxiety.

The Saphead: Ultimate Edition

Buster Keaton, Edward Connelly, Beulah Booker, Edward Jobson

In his first starring role (and the film that launched his career), Buster Keaton stars in The Saphead as Bertie Van Alstyne, the spoiled son of a powerful Wall Street financier. Unable to escape the wealth and comfort that are foisted upon him, he pursues individuality in a series of comic misadventures in the speakeasies of New York, at the altar of matrimony, and even on the floor of the American stock exchange. The Saphead was instrumental in establishing Keaton as a bona fide star and greatly influenced his formulation of the Buster persona: a lonely, stone-faced soul thwarted by circumstance yet undauntedly resourceful and indefatigable in his struggle for love and survival within a chaotic world.

The Secret Diaries Of Miss Anne Lister

Susan Lynch, Anna Madeley, Maxine Peake

Maxine Peake stars in a profoundly moving drama based on the real diaries of Anne Lister: a landowning woman who defied the conventions of her 19th century life to great scandal... for Anne was a lesbian. Her affair with 'soul mate' Marianna Belcombe keeps society guessing but when it is announced that Marianna is to be married to the older, corpulent and wealthy Charles Lawton, Anne is distraught. And so she begins a string of relationships. But while Ann is a proud, strong and supportive partner in a time when lesbianism just isn't tolerated, can Anne's feelings for her ever match those she has for Marianna? Set in the small, elite world of high society, The Secret Diaries of Miss Anne Lister is an inspiring story of 'the first modern lesbian.'

A woman is brutally assaulted in an abandoned factory, and her assailant escapes into the darkness after dropping a wad of money. A few years later, a photographer specializing in schoolgirl panty shots meets his match when a mysterious femme fatale volunteers to be his new model. This woman used to be the „queen“ of the skin magazines, but she is also hiding a terrible secret and may be a wanted fugitive. Will the photographer escape her sexual grasp? Zoom Up: The Beaver Book Girl is a film spawned from the dark manga stories of Takashi Ishii, featuring women troubled by the psychological effects of sexual violence. The Beat Hotel 1957, Paris. The Latin Quarter. A cheap no-name hotel becomes a haven for a new breed of artists struggling to free themselves from the conformity and censorship of America. Called the Beat Hotel, it soon became an epicenter of the Beat generation. Alan Govenar's new documentary delves deep into this amazing place and time. Fleeing the obscenity trials surrounding the publication of Howl, Allen Ginsberg, along with Peter Orlovsky and Gregory Corso, happened upon the hotel in Paris's Latin Quarter and were soon joined by William Burroughs, Ian Somerville and Brion Gysin. Run by Madame Rachou, the Beat Hotel was a hotbed of creativity and permissiveness, where Burroughs finished Naked Lunch; Ginsberg began his poem Kaddish; Somerville and Gysin invented the Dream Machine; Corso wrote some of his greatest poems; and Harold Norse wrote a novella, aptly called The Beat Hotel. British photographer Harold Chapman's iconic photos and Scottish artist Elliot Rudie's drawings, interwoven with firsthand accounts, capture the Beats just as they were beginning to establish themselves, and bring The Beat Hotel to life.

Civilization: The West And The Rest With Niall Ferguson

Niall Ferguson

The West once ruled more than half the world. The religion it exported, Christianity, is still followed by a third of mankind. Above all, the way people live - or aspire to live - is unmistakably an invention of the West. All over the world, more and more humans eat a Western diet, wear Western clothes and live in Western housing. But are we living through the beginning of the end of the West's ascendancy? In this remarkable series, Niall Ferguson explains how by juxtaposing the West and 'the Rest', we can uncover the keys - the six killer applications - of Western ascendancy: the real explanation of how, for roughly five centuries, a clear minority of mankind managed to secure the lion's share of the Earth's resources.

The Devil's Needle And Other Tales Of Vice And Redemption (Blu-ray)

Tully Marshall, Norma Talmadge
In its continuing effort to showcase the great works of early cinema, Kino Classics launches a new series of Blu-ray and DVD releases dedicated to archival rarities — influential classics that have gone virtually unseen for decades. Presented in association with the Library of Congress, the films have been mastered in HD from the original film elements and are backed with newly commissioned musical scores. In some cases the films survive in less-than-perfect condition. But it is the mission of this series to preserve and promote these films in spite of their flaws, rather than allow them to disappear entirely from the cultural radar. Manchester United Season Review 2011/12

This year's season in review has been produced using all the SKY and BBC television camera angles and commentary, meaning you can relive this incredible season the way it originally unfolded. For the first time since the late 1960s, Manchester emerged as the capital of English football in 2011/12, as 19-times champions United were confronted by local rivals City in a local skirmish which spilled over into a battle for the Barclays Premier League title. Sir Alex Ferguson had seen off all challengers in the Premier League era, but he celebrated his 25th year at the Old Trafford helm with one of his sternest challenges yet: battling not only the inflated riches and ambition of City, but also overhauling his own squad and blooding a new generation of youngsters. United's twinkling talents dazzled in the early months of the campaign, but were slowed by a damaging home defeat to City and a crippling run of injuries. There were also harsh lessons in European and domestic cup competitions, but the Reds roared back in time-honored fashion to sprint for the line in an absorbing race for the league title. With big

On The Political Equator

This publication raises critical socio-political questions and offers insight into how cultural practitioners and organizations can engage publics in larger dialogue. It responds to the widening gap between wealth and poverty, the polarizing politics of fear and paranoia, and the radically conservative social agenda that has fundamentally impacted urban planning policy and legislation in the United States. These developments have led to increased privatization, the erosion of public culture, and the polarization of the individual and the collective. Against this backdrop, Latin America has begun to chart a very different course, an alternative future. Latin American governments, from Brazil to Colombia, have produced a paradigm shift in matters of urban development, seeking-like no other place in the world-to reconnect public policy, social justice, and civic imagination. Slought convened three leading thinkers concerned with these issues-mathematician, former mayor of Medellín, now governor of Antioquia Sergio Fajardo; ecologist and director of the Tijuana river estuary Oscar Romo; and architect and u

Patagonia Rising

Deep in the heart of Chile's Patagonia region flow two of the world's purest rivers, the Baker and Pascua. Fed by vast glacial systems, these untouched rivers drive biodiversity in rainforests, estuaries and marine ecosystems. They are also the life source for Patagonia's most tenacious residents: the Gauchos, the iconic South American cowboys who endure relentless winds and long winters on remote ranches in these river valleys. Now, five huge hydroelectric dams are planned for the two rivers. Promoted as "clean" energy, damming these major rivers would make floodplains out of river valleys, force ranchers off their land and wreak havoc on the massive ice fields and watersheds already under stress from global warming. Over the past century more than 45,000 large dams have altered the health of the planet's rivers with disastrous impacts that continue to unfold. This award-winning documentary captures the heated battle between those who wish to exploit the rivers, and those who wish to preserve the rivers and their surrounding lands, and as well the traditional lifestyle of its inhabitants. Texas Courthouses: The Golden Age

The Lone Star State's Beautiful Symbols of Justice, Independence & Heritage. With clock towers, turrets, domes and stained glass, Texas county courthouses are some of the most spectacular displays of Victorian architecture found anywhere in the United States. Visit these beautiful buildings and hear the stories behind them in Texas Courthouses: The Golden Age, a three-part documentary that previously aired on public television. See the Goliad County Courthouse and its „hanging tree“, the courthouse in Shelby County modeled after Irish castles and the Parker County Courthouse underneath which a secret tunnel was discovered during restoration. Visit some of the state's most monumental courthouses in Tarrant and Bell counties, as well as the distinct yellow courthouse in Harrison County. With more historic courthouses than any other state in the country, this is a unique and architecturally stunner
