Zurück in Mitteleerde

Mit großem Blockbuster-Kino startete heute die vorletzte Pressewoche des Jahres.

DER HOBBIT – EINE UNERWARTETE REISE (1:2.35, 3D, HFR, DD 5.1 + 7.1 + Atmos)

OT: The Hobbit: An Unexpected Journey

Verleih: Warner

Land/Jahr: USA 2012

Regie: Peter Jackson

Darsteller: Sir Ian McKellen, Martin Freeman, Richard Armitage, Christopher Lee, Elijah Wood

Kinostart: 13.12.2012

Nichts liebt er so sehr wie sein kuscheliges Zuhause. Doch als eines Tages Zauberer Gandalf bei ihm aufkreuzt und ihn zu einem Abenteuer einlädt, befindet er sich schon bald in Gesellschaft eines verwegenen Haufen von Zwergen, die ihr einstiges Zuhause wieder zurückerobern wollen. Da ist dann die Tatsache, dass er sein Taschentuch zuhause vergessen hat, noch das kleinste Problem... Eines ist klar: es bedarf schon an echtem Sitzfleisch, um Peter Jacksons erneuten Ausflug nach Mitteleerde zu überstehen. Denn mehr als 160 Minuten ohne Pause können Coach Potatoes nicht mehr aushalten – sind sie doch schon seit Jahren von der Werbeindustrie auf Werbeunterbrechungen im Fernsehen konditioniert. Doch wer sich in eine pausenlose Vorführung von DER HOBBIT wagt, der wird reichhaltig belohnt. Die Action in dieser Vorgeschichte zu der HERR DER RINGE Trilogie ist derart furios, dass eine Pause ihren adrenalin-treibenden Fluss extrem stören würde! Es ist unglaublich, was mittels modernster Computertechnik im Film inzwischen möglich ist. Da fliegen die Kameras quasi schwerelos durch die gigantische Szenerie, wie etwa in der Szene, in der die tapferen Gefährten gegen eine Überzahl greußlicher Gestalten antreten müssen. Neben solchen actiongeladenen Szenen haben die Drehbuchautoren allerdings auch den Humor nicht vergessen. Wenn der arme Bilbo beispielsweise von einem riesi-gen Troll kurzerhand als Taschentuch verwendet wird, dann darf gekichert und auch geschmunzelt werden – auch wenn das total ekelig ist. Darsteller, Musik, Kameraarbeit (hervorragend in 3D, speziell in dafür ausgestatteten HFR-Kinos) und Tonmischung lassen keine Wünsche offen. Keine Frage: DER HOBBIT wird die Kinokassen klingeln lassen und das Publikum bereits jetzt auf die Fortsetzung heiss machen.

Muttertag

Im ersten Film eine alles unter Kontrolle haltende Mutter, im zweiten eine an Alzheimer leidende – in der Presse war heute Muttertag.

STAUB AUF UNSEREN HERZEN

(1:1.85, 5.1)

Verleih: Movienet (24 Bilder)

Land/Jahr: Deutschland 2012

Regie: Hanna Doose

Darsteller: Susanne Lothar, Stephanie Stremler, Michael Kind

Kinostart: 17.01.2013

Kathi, alleinerziehend mit einem kleinen Sohn, versucht sich als Schauspielerin. Doch ihre langsame Art ist dafür leider kontraproduktiv. Ihrer Mutter Chris kommt das gerade recht. Denn die Lebensberaterin will die volle Kontrolle über ihre Tochter haben. Nicht ohne Hintergedanken hat sie die Wohnung unter ihrer Wohnung gekauft, in die Kathie mit ihrem Kind einziehen soll. Als plötzlich Kathis Vater wieder auftaucht, um sich mit seiner Ex, Kathis Mutter, wieder zu versöhnen, führt dies dazu, dass Mutter und Tochter ihren Konflikt nicht länger unterdrücken können... Hanna Doose inszenierte ihren Film ohne große Kinkerlitzchen, dafür aber umso authentischer. Das allerdings macht das Duell zwischen Mutter und Tochter zu einer Zerreißprobe für den Zuschauer. Will man das wirklich im Kino sehen? Wenn man auf Heile-Welt-Filme gepolt ist, dann sollte man STAUB AUF UNSEREN HERZEN tunlichst vermeiden. Ist man jedoch an psychologisch interessanten Themen interessiert und kann vielleicht sogar auf ähnliche Probleme aus dem eigenen

Umfeld zurückgreifen, dann bietet der Film mit Sicherheit eine große Menge an Wiedererkennungspotenzial. "Das geht anderen also genauso so," wird sicher einer der Gedanken sein, der sich dann manifestieren wird. Getragen wird der Film von einem überzeugenden Ensemble, allen voran Susanne Lothar als Mutter und Stephanie Stremler als Tochter.

VERGISS MEIN NICHT (1:1.85, DD 5.1)

Verleih: farbfilm

Land/Jahr: Deutschland 2012

Regie: David Sieveking

Kinostart: 31.01.2013

Vollkommen unvorbereitet trifft David Sieveking die Nachricht, dass seine Mutter an Alzheimer erkrankt ist. Der Dokumentarfilmer entschließt sich daraufhin, in die Heimat zu reisen und die ganze Angelegenheit im Film zu dokumentieren. Herausgekommen ist dabei ein sehr persönlicher, fast schon intimen Film nicht nur über Davids Mutter, sondern über die ganze Familie. Sein Vater, ein pensionierter Mathematiker, hatte sich seinen Ruhestand eigentlich ganz anders vorgestellt. Doch seit die 73-jährige Gretel an ihrer Demenzerkrankung leidet, bestimmt die Pflege seiner Frau seinen gesamten Tagesrhythmus. Was dies tatsächlich bedeutet, bekommt David am eigenen Leib zu spüren, als sich sein Vater eine Auszeit nimmt und in die Schweiz reist und ihm die Pflege der Mutter überlässt. Die Szenen, die er in seinem Film zeigt, sind manchmal zum Lachen komisch, jedoch bleibt einem dieses Lachen oft im Halse stecken angesichts der Tragödie, die über die Familie hereinbricht. Als David realisiert, dass er über seine Mutter, die nichts mehr weiß, eigentlich selber gar nichts weiß, wird in ihm der Wunsch geweckt, mehr über seine Mutter zu erfahren. Nach und nach beginnt David die gesamte Familiengeschichte aufzuarbeiten und macht dabei erstaunliche Entdeckungen. Es lässt sich natürlich schwer abschätzen, wieviel von dem, was David Sieveking in seinem Film zeigt, tatsächlich echt ist oder nicht. Zweifelsfrei leidet seine Mutter, der er diesen Film

Wolfram Hannemanns

Film-Blog

gewidmet hat, an der unheilbaren Krankheit. Doch sind seine Reaktionen und die Art und Weise, wie er mit seiner Mutter umgeht, echt oder für die Kamera inszeniert? Unabhängig davon gelingt es dem Film, für Gretel Sympathien aufzubauen und ermöglichen es dem Zuschauer, sich nicht nur in ihre Lage hineinzusetzen, sondern auch in die der Angehörigen.

Gruseln und Lachen

Heute gab es zwei Filme aus deutscher Produktion, aber aus vollkommen entgegengesetzten Filmgenres.

ZIMMER 205 – TRAUST DU DICH

REIN? (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

AT: 205 – Zimmer der Angst

Verleih: NFP (Filmwelt)

Land/Jahr: Deutschland 2011

Regie: Rainer Matsutani

Darsteller: Jennifer Ulrich, Julia Dietze, Inez Björg David

Kinostart: 28.03.2013

Um endlich auf eigenen Beinen zu stehen, entschließt sich die junge Katrin, Psychologie zu studieren. Im Studentenwohnheim bezieht sie ausgerechnet jenes Zimmer, dessen Vorbewohnerin auf mysteriöse Art und Weise verschwunden ist. Fast scheint es so, als würde der Geist der verschollenen Studentin nach wie vor Zimmer 205 bewohnen. Oder ist es nur in Katrins Einbildung, hervorgerufen durch ihre abgesetzte Medizin? Als jedoch plötzlich ausgerechnet jener Student, mit dem sie eine Nacht verbracht hat, unter geheimnisvollen Umständen in der Waschküche des Heims ums Leben kommt, beginnt Katrin mit Nachforschungen und begibt sich damit in tödliche Gefahr... Es ist ein Jammer, dass deutsche Genre-Filme fast immer am Drehbuch scheitern. Ein Jammer deshalb, weil eben alles andere souverän beherrscht wird. Wenn in Rainer Matsutanis Mystery-Thriller die Kamera beispielsweise auf ein Loch in der Wand zoomt, aus dem dickflüssiges Blut quillt, und dieser Zoom unmerklich übergeht in einen anderen, bei dem aus einer Waschmaschine heraus auf die Protagonistin gezoomt wird, die gerade Wäsche einfüllt, dann macht das richtig Spaß und generiert Spannung. Zu diesem Zeitpunkt ist man dann auch noch durchaus gewillt, über Logikprobleme hinwegzusehen. Doch im Verlauf des Films überwiegen diese leider und das Licht flackert einfach zu oft, als dass man sich darüber noch gruseln könnte. Wenigstens lässt es der Film weitgehend offen, ob man als Zuschauer nur die subjektive Wahrnehmung von Katrin sieht oder ob es sich um objektive Bilder handelt. Aber möglicherweise ist sich das Drehbuch hierin selbst nicht ganz schlüssig. Festzuhalten ist auf jeden Fall, dass derlei technische Handwerkskunst, wie sie hier gezeigt wird, ein weitaus besseres Drehbuch verdient.

SCHLUSSMACHER (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

Verleih: Fox

Land/Jahr: Deutschland 2012

Regie: Matthias Schweighöfer, Torsten Künstler

Darsteller: Matthias Schweighöfer, Milan Peschel, Catherine De Léan, Nadja Uhl, Heiner Lauterbach

Kinostart: 10.01.2013

Bringen Sie es nicht übers Herz ihre aktuelle Beziehung zu beenden? Kein Problem. Denn dafür ist Paul genau der richtige Mann. Im Auftrag einer Trennungsbüro bringt er es Ihrer

Beziehung mehr oder weniger schonend bei, dass es aus ist – und kümmert sich auch sonst um alles, was dazu gehört. So teilt er beispielsweise dem armen Toto nicht nur mit, dass seine Liebste mit ihm Schluss gemacht hat, sondern auch, dass er bitte sofort die Wohnung zu räumen hat. Damit aber hat Paul erst recht ein Problem. Denn um zu verhindern, dass sich das Sensibelchen Toto umbringt, muss er ihn fürs Erste bei sich aufnehmen. Und als ob das nicht schon genug wäre, macht auch noch Pauls Freundin mit ihm kurzerhand Schluss... "Liebe ist nichts für Feiglinge", sagt Toto irgendwann im Film zu Paul, der das zu diesem Zeitpunkt aber noch lange nicht nachvollziehen kann. Doch diese Erkenntnis wird ihn am Ende des Films auch noch ereilen. Aber vielleicht ist es ja dann bereits zu spät? Auch seine zweite Regiearbeit führt Matthias Schweighöfer wieder in die Welt der Komödie. Jedoch ist nicht immer alles so richtig lustig in diesem romantischen Road-Movie, das seine Protagonisten quer durch die Republik schickt. Immer wieder erliegen die Filmemacher der Versuchung, es genauso gut (oder besser: schlecht) zu machen wie ihre großen Vorbilder in Hollywood. Die wohl beleibte Dame ohne jedwedes Lächeln etwa, mit der Toto unfreiwilligerweise in der Disco anbandeln muss, könnte direkt aus BRAUT-ALARM entsprungen sein. Und die Landung mit dem Auto auf Drahtseilen in schwindelerregender Höhe ist ebenfalls typisch amerikanisch. Als ob es nicht auch typisch deutschen Humor gäbe. Und tatsächlich gibt es ihn – wenn auch nur für einen kurzen Moment: in Form des Comedy-Duos "Badesalz", das in die Uniformen einer Hotelrezeption schlüpft und mit englisch-hessischer Mundart zum Lachen animiert. Mehr davon und der Film wäre richtig gut geworden. So aber wirkt er nur halbgar. Dem Spiel von Schweighöfer und Kollege Milan Peschel tut das natürlich keinen Abbruch – sie meistern ihre Rollen bravourös.

Dienstag statt

Zum Abschluss der Woche ging es im Kino noch einmal richtig rund.

THE SAPPHIRES (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

OT: The Sapphires

Verleih: Senator

Land/Jahr: Australien 2012

Regie: Wayne Blair

Darsteller: Chris O'Dowd, Deborah

Mailman, Jessica Mauboy

Kinostart: 20.06.2013

Australien 1968. Noch immer gelten die Aborigines im eigenen Land als Menschen zweiter Klasse, als Fauna und Flora. Trotzdem träumen Gail, Cynthia und Julie von einer großen Karriere als Country & Western Trio. Bei einem lokalen Wettbewerb wird der Musiker und Manager David Lovelace auf die Mädchen aufmerksam. Da kommt eines zum anderen und die drei Girls – ergänzt durch die sehr hellhäutige Kay – gehen auf Tour. In Vietnam sollen sie die amerikanischen Truppen mit Soul-Musik begeistern. Liebe, Eifersucht und Ruhm werden zu ihren ständigen Begleitern... Hier ist es endlich – das Feel Good Movie der Saison, das so wunderbar in die Weihnachtszeit gepasst hätte, aber dem deutschen Publikum erst im Februar zugänglich gemacht wird. Die durch eine wahre Geschichte inspirierte Story hat alles, was einen guten Film ausmacht: Musik, Tanz, Gefühl, Drama und – ganz wichtig! – ein glückliches Ende. Vom großartigen Darsteller-Ensemble beeindruckt insbesondere Chris O'Dowd als Entdecker und Manager der Aborigines-Sängerinnen. Eine exzellente Auswahl an Soul-Klassikern wird den Musikliebhaber begeistern (und zum Kauf des Soundtrack-Albums animieren).

JESUS LIEBT MICH (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

Verleih: Warner

Land/Jahr: Deutschland 2012

Regie: Florian David Fitz

Darsteller: Jessica Schwarz, Florian David Fitz, Henry Hübchen, Hannelore Elsner

Kinostart: 20.12.2012

Gerade eben noch hat Marie ihre eige-

ne Hochzeit platzen lassen, da läuft ihr Jeshua über den Weg. Die Gute kann natürlich nicht ahnen, dass es sich um Jesus handelt, der sich kurz vor dem Tag des jüngsten Gerichts (ein Dienstag übrigens) noch einmal die Menschen auf der Erde anschauen möchte. Prompt verliebt sich Marie in den Beau – und er in sie. Ob das vielleicht die Welt retten könnte? Florian David Fitz, als Drehbuchautor und Hauptdarsteller mit VINCENT WILL MEER sehr erfolgreich, gibt mit der Romanverfilmung von David Safier sein Regie-Debüt – und erleidet damit leider gleich eine Bruchlandung. Der Film wirkt wie eines der vielen Event-Movies der privaten TV-Kanäle. Sprich: ein kleines bisschen Feeling, etwas mehr visuelle Effekte mit Peng! und ganz viel Klamotte. Wäre da nicht Marcel Barsottis fulminanter Score gewesen, ich wäre in arge Versuchung geraten, die Pressevorführung rechtzeitig zu verlassen. Seine Filmmusik hält einmal mehr Stand mit den besten Scores aus Übersee und verleiht dem misstratenen Film wenigstens noch Anstand und Würde. Fitz gibt sicherlich einen Bilderbuch-Jesus und Nicholas Ofczarek einen herrlich schmierigen Teufel ab, aber das genügt einfach nicht für einen richtigen Kinofilm. Aber Schwamm drüber – beim nächsten Mal wird es bestimmt richtig gut.

Der einsame Held

Blickt man auf die Pressewoche, so hat man nicht gerade das Gefühl, dass bald schon Weihnachten ist: acht weitere Screenings warten auf mich.

JACK REACHER (1:2.35, DD 5.1 + 7.1)

OT: Jack Reacher

Verleih: Paramount

Land/Jahr: USA 2012

Regie: Christopher McQuarrie

Darsteller: Tom Cruise, Rosamund Pike, Richard Jenkins, Werner Herzog

Kinostart: 03.01.2013

Das Blutbad, das ein Scharfschütze am helllichten Tag unter zufällig ausgewählten Passanten anrichtet, ist für die ermittelnden Kriminalbeamten schon innerhalb kürzester Zeit aufgeklärt. Die

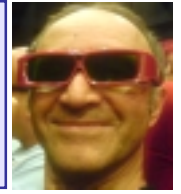

Indizien führen alle zu dem ehemaligen Armee-Scharfschützen James Barr. Doch anstatt ein Geständnis abzulegen, verlangt er nach einem gewissen Jack Reacher. Offensichtlich soll ihn der große Unbekannte entlasten. Doch der scheint wie vom Erdboden verschollen zu sein. Umso überraschter sind die Cops, als er plötzlich leibhaftig vor ihnen steht. Schon einmal hatte der ehemalige Militärpolizist gegen den Scharfschützen ermittelt – ohne Erfolg. Gemeinsam mit der Anwältin Helen Rodin macht er sich daran, den Fall zu lösen. Und der erscheint plötzlich nicht mehr so einfach und trivial wie anfangs gedacht. Nicht nur Reacher, auch die Anwältin schweben jetzt in Lebensgefahr... Die Skepsis, mit der ich in diese Pressevorführung ging und die das Ergebnis des zuvor gesichteten Trailers war, erwies sich als unbegründet. Vielmehr entpuppte sich JACK REACHER als handwerklich vorzüglich gestalteter Action-Thriller, der sich darüber hinaus auch noch wohltuend von ähnlichen Filmen abhebt. Denn anders als bei der Konkurrenz brennt diesem Film an keiner Stelle die Sicherung durch. Die Inszenierung läuft sehr entspannt ab und – jetzt kommt's! – Tom Cruise und Rosamund Pike steigen nicht ins Bett. Allerdings sei auch gesagt, dass sich Tom Cruise (seines Zeichens Produzent des Films) in der

Wolfram Hannemanns

Film-Blog

Rolle des Jack Reacher als der einsame und über alles erhabene, durch und durch gute Held inszenieren lässt. Eine Rolle, in der er sich sichtlich gefällt. Der Spannung tut das aber keinesfalls einen Abbruch und der Unterhaltungswert ist stets gegeben. Bild- und vor allem tontechnisch mangelt es an Nichts. Regisseur Christopher McQuarrie weiß die Surrounds auch wirklich effektiv zu nutzen. Interessant ist die Besetzung des Bad Guys mit Star-Regisseur Werner Herzog. Offensichtlich versucht er jetzt das Loch zu füllen, das Klaus Kinski hinterlassen hat. Und wer könnte das besser als sein erklärter Lieblingsfeind. Dass die Amerikaner den Start des Films aufgrund des neuerlichen Amoklaufs an einer amerikanischen Grundschule verschoben haben, ist verständlich.

Frauenpower und Alkoholprobleme

Nach dem Hochgefühl, das mir der erste Film verursachte, wurde ich vom zweiten Film schnell wieder auf den Boden geholt.

WILLKOMMEN IN DER BRETAGNE

(1:1.85, DD 5.1)

OT: Bowling

Verleih: Alamode

Land/Jahr: Frankreich 2011

Regie: Marie-Castille Mention-Schaar

Darsteller: Mathilde Seigner, Catherine Frot, Firmine Richard

Kinostart: 31.01.2013

Als die Personalmanagerin Catherine ihre Stelle in einem Krankenhaus im bretonischen Carhaix antritt, macht das die Belegschaft bereits misstrauisch. Denn Catherines große Aufgabe besteht darin, das Krankenhaus rentabel zu machen. Das Problemkind ist ausge-rechnet die Entbindungsstation – es gibt einfach zu wenig Geburten. Trotz ihrer heiklen Aufgabe gelingt es Catherine, mit den Frauen dieser Station ein freundschaftliches Verhältnis aufzubauen und wird von ihnen sogar in das örtliche Bowling-Team aufgenommen. Als jedoch von oberster Management-Ebene beschlossen wird, die Entbindungsstation zu schließen, kippt die gute Stimmung. Aber Bretonen wären keine Bretonen, wenn sie einfach kampflos aufgeben würden... Mit dem etwas unglücklich gewählten deutschen Titel möchte der deutsche Verleiher vermutlich suggerieren, dass es sich um eine ähnlich herzhaft Komödie wie WILLKOMMEN BEI DEN SCH'TIS handelt. Aber weit gefehlt. In Marie-Castille Mention-Schaars Komödie (entstanden nach einer wahren Geschichte) geht es nur vordergründig um die Eigenheiten der Bretonen, deren markanteste Eigenschaft die Sturheit ist. In seinem Grundaufbau könnte der Film so etwas wie Frankreichs Antwort auf den vorzüglichen WE WANT SEX (ebenfalls nach einer wahren Geschichte entstanden) sein. Und es ist ein richtig hübsche Antwort dazu. Sturheit und vor allem Frauenpower zahlen sich aus – so die klare Botschaft des im Original schlicht BOWLING betitelten Films. Es macht großen Spaß, gemeinsam mit dem sorgfältig ausgewählten Ensemble gegen die Schließung der Entbindungsstation aufzubegehren. Großen Anteil daran hat die Filmmusik von Erwann Kermorvant, der mit großem Orchester und an schottische Klänge erinnernden bretonischem Einschlag für große Emotionen sorgt. Auch flicht die Regisseurin immer wieder nette kleine Pointen in ihre Geschichte ein wie etwa den extrem neurotischen Fahrlehrer, bei dem Catherine ihre Fahrprüfung ablegen muss. WILLKOMMEN IN DER BRETAGNE ist Kino mit hohem Wohlfühlfaktor, nach dem man liebend gerne Bäume ausreißen möchte!

FLIGHT (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

OT: Flight

Verleih: Studiocanal

Land/Jahr: USA 2012

Regie: Robert Zemeckis

Darsteller: Denzel Washington, Don Cheadle, Kelly Reilly, John Goodman

Kinostart: 24.01.2013

Flugkapitän Whip Withaker ist es zu verdanken, dass nur sechs von mehr als Hundert Passagieren einen verheerenden Flugzeugabsturz nicht überlebt haben. Whitaker, der die Absturzursache auf Materialmängel schiebt, wird routinemäßig zum Gegenstand einer Untersuchung. Was bislang noch niemand weiß: Whitaker hat ein Alkoholproblem und hatte auch am Tag des Unglücks Alkohol im Blut. Um diesen Makel nicht öffentlich machen zu müssen, versucht er, dem Alkohol abzuschwören. Doch er scheitert und kommt schließlich an einen Punkt, an dem er sich entscheiden muss: soll er mit der Lüge weiterleben oder soll er sich seinen eigenen Dämonen stellen? - Dass sich hinter Robert Zemeckis neuestem Film nichts weiter verbirgt als ein Alkoholiker-Drama, versteht der Regisseur während der ersten halben Stunde sehr gut zu kaschieren. Da schildert er mit viel Liebe zum Detail und unter brachialem Bild- und Tonaufgebot den katastrophalen Flugzeugabsturz, bei dem Flugkapitän Whip Whitaker das Schlimmste gerade noch verhindern kann. Was sich daran anschließt, gibt sich in der Inszenierung leider recht bieder und wirft die Frage auf, warum für dieses Drama weitere zwei Stunden benötigt werden. Als willkommene Abwechslung gibt es zwei kurze Auftritte von John Goodman mit Vollbart, Sonnenbrille und kurzer Hose, der den skurrilen Kumpel von Whitaker mimt. Das ist zwar ganz lustig, wirkt aber im Gesamtkonzept wie ein Fremdkörper. Fazit: den langen Weg eines Trinkers bis hin zu seiner Läuterung haben andere Filme schon wesentlich packender inszeniert (erinnert sei an Billy Wilders THE LOST WEEKEND). Zemeckis' Film hingegen ist da fast schon langweilig.

Wolfram Hannemanns

ENDE DER SCHONZEIT (1:1.85, DD 5.1)

Verleih: farbfilm (24 Bilder)

Land/Jahr: Deutschland, Israel 2012

Regie: Franziska Schlotterer

Darsteller: Hans-Jochen Wagner, Brigitte Hobmeier, Christian Friedel

Kinostart: 14.02.2013

Ein Bauernhof im Schwarzwald 1942. Seit zehn Jahren sind Emma und Fritz verheiratet, aber nach wie vor kinderlos. Die Arbeit bestimmt den Alltag, Zeit für Zärtlichkeiten gibt es nicht. Eines Nachts entdeckt Fritz beim Wildern den jungen Albert im Unterholz. Er nimmt ihn mit auf den Bauernhof und gewährt im Unterschlupf, wohl wissend, dass Albert ein Jude ist. Emma geht auf Distanz, aber Fritz findet Gefallen an Albert und lässt ihn heimlich auf dem Hof arbeiten. Eines Tages bittet er ihn um einen Gefallen: Albert soll an seiner Stelle Emma schwängern, damit endlich ein Stammhalter nachkommt. Anfangs noch zögern willigt Albert schließlich ein. Dann jedoch passiert etwas Unvorhergesehenes: Emma verliebt sich in den Juden... Die Bilder wirken farblos und matt und der Bauernhof wird von einer deprimierender Stimmung dominiert. Regisseurin Franziska Schlotterer und Kameramann Bernd Fischer visualisieren nicht nur die Beziehung zwischen den Eheleuten perfekt, sondern gleichzeitig auch die drückende Stimmung im Dritten Reich, die bis ins letzte Bergdorf reicht. Erzählt wird die tragische Geschichte rückblickend aus der Sicht von Albert, der Anfang der siebziger Jahre von seinem vermeintlichen Sohn Bruno in einem israelischen Kibbuz zur Rede gestellt wird. Es ist eine jener schon so oft erzählten Geschichten, für die offenbar gerade deutsche Filmemacher prädestiniert sind sie zu erzählen. Und sie ist ziemlich vorhersehbar – auch für ungeübte Kinogänger. Womit dann eigentlich nicht mehr viel bleibt, was den Film interessant machen und ihn von einem durchschnittlichen Fernsehfilm unterscheiden würde.

Schwedenkrimi weit unter Potenzial

Meine Lektion für heute: nicht alles, was aus Schweden kommt, ist automatisch gut. Zum Glück gab es zuvor noch einen guten Film.

SIGHTSEERS (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

OT: Sightseers

Verleih: MFA

Land/Jahr: Großbritannien 2012

Regie: Ben Wheatley

Darsteller: Alice Lowe, Steve Oram,

Eileen Davis

Kinostart: 28.02.2013

Der Mutter gefällt es gar nicht, als Tina zusammen mit ihrem neuen Freund Chris mit dessen Wohnwagen auf Tour geht. Doch Tina findet es klasse, endlich einmal einen Freund zu haben und die über fürsorgliche Mutter hinter sich lassen zu können. So steht einem erotischen Urlaub im englischen Yorkshire nichts mehr im Wege. Was Tina jedoch noch nicht ahnt: Chris ist ein Serienkiller... Die triste braune Landschaft dominiert die Bilder in Ben Wheatleys neuem Film. Weitaus zurückhaltender als in seinem Film KILL LIST präsentiert er zwei ganz normale Menschen, die Gefallen am Morden finden. Chris' Opfer haben den Tod verdient – so zumindest seine Meinung. Denn wenn jemand einfach Abfall auf den Boden wirft oder sich über das Häufchen des kleinen Hündchen Poppy aufregt, dann sieht er einfach rot. Tinas Gründe hingegen sind ganz egoistischer Natur: sie eliminiert Konkurrentinnen. Augenzwinkernd und mit einer großen Portion schwarzen Humors schildert der Film den Wettkampf im Morden, dem Tina und Chris schon bald verfallen sind. SIGHTSEERS macht Spaß und ist durch den eigenwilligen Umgang mit Bild und Ton, die nicht immer korre-spondieren, darüber hinaus auch noch interessant anzuschauen.

SIGHTSEERS war der Eröffnungsfilm des Fantasy Filmfest 2012 und hielt auch einer erneuten Sichtung nach wie vor Stand.

DER HYPNOTISEUR (1:2.35, DD 5.1)

OT: Hynotisören

Verleih: Prokino (Fox)

Land/Jahr: Schweden 2012

Regie: Lasse Hallström

Darsteller: Mikael Persbrandt, Lena

Olin, Tobias Zilliacus

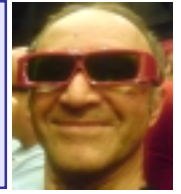

Kinostart: 21.02.2013

Als eine Familie fast komplett einem unbekanntem Mörder zum Opfer fällt, überlebt nur der Sohn. Weil dieser im Koma liegt, soll der in Ungnade gefallene Arzt und Hypnotiseur Erik Bark Kontakt mit ihm aufnehmen. Mit Erfolg: unter Hypnose erzählt der Sohn von einem Brief. Hat ihn seine wie vom Erdboden verschwundene ältere Schwester verfasst? Während sich der ermittelnde Kriminalbeamte auf die Suche nach der Schwester macht, geschieht ein weiteres Unglück: Eriks kleiner Sohn wird entführt. Die Forderung des Entführers: er darf nicht weiter Hypnotisieren, sonst stirbt der kleine Benjamin... Schwedenkrimis sind in. Oder sie waren es zumindest eine ganze Zeit lang. Jetzt springt auch Regisseur Lasse Hallström auf diesen Zug auf. Mit der Bestseller-Verfilmung DER HYPNOTISEUR von Lars Kepler jedoch scheint er sich den falschen Stoff gegriffen zu haben. Denn der überlange Film langweilt leider mehr als das er unterhält. Das liegt insbesondere an der extrem konventionellen Inszenierung sowie an den Ungereimtheiten in der Geschichte. Die macht es sich ziemlich einfach: wenn die Mutter verrückt ist, dann ist es der Sohnemann selbstverständlich auch. Und der ist dann sogar so verrückt, dass er aus dem Koma erwacht und von Null auf Hundert loslegt, als wäre nichts gewesen. Alle Welt weiß zudem, dass in einem Entführungsfall immer Polizisten im Hause des Entführten verweilen, um eingehende Erpresseranrufe abzufangen. Warum im vorliegenden Fall diese Polizisten nur am allerersten Tag vor

Wolfram Hannemanns

Film-Blog

Ort sind und sich danach in Luft auflösen, versteht vermutlich nur der Drehbuchautor. Ein weiteres Manko ergibt sich durch die Besetzung. So wird beispielsweise Mikael Persbrandt (KOMMISSAR BECK) für die Rolle des Erik Bark weit unter seinem Potenzial eingesetzt. Es bleibt rätselhaft, warum sich Lasse Hallström nach vielen internationalen Erfolgen ausgerechnet mit diesem sehr durchschnittlichen Krimi wieder in seiner schwedischen Heimat zurückermeldet.

Amerikanische Geschichte(n)

ZERO DARK THIRTY (1:1.85, DD 5.1)

OT: Zero Dark Thirty

Verleih: Universal

Land/Jahr: USA 2012

Regie: Kathryn Bigelow

Darsteller: Jessica Chastain, Jason Clarke, Joel Edgerton, Jennifer Ehle, Mark Strong, Kyle Chandler, Edgar Ramirez, Taylor Kinney, Scott Adkins, Mark Duplass, Chris Pratt, Harold Perrineau jr., Frank Grillo, James Gandolfini, Stephen Dillane

Kinostart: 31.01.2013

Zwei Jahre nach dem Anschlag auf das World Trade Center geht der CIA ein Fang ins Netz, der offenbar über Informationen verfügt, die direkt zu Osama Bin Laden führen. Agentin Maya Lambert heftet sich an den Fall, der sie mehrere Jahre auf Trab halten und durch viele Länder führen wird... Vermutlich wird man Kathryn Bigelows teilweise minutiös genaue Inszenierung der fieberhaften Jagd nach Osama Bin Laden in den USA mit vollkommen anderen Augen betrachten als hierzulande. Wenn der Film mit der ausführlichen Schilderung einer Folter beginnt, durch die der CIA Informationen be-kommen möchte und dann damit endet, dass der Leichnam von Bin Laden von der CIA-Agentin positiv abgenickt wird, wird in Amerika niemand auf den Gedanken kommen, dass Folter schlecht wäre. Schließlich hat man ja den Übeltäter dadurch in seinem Versteck entdeckt. Bigelow stellt hier weder die Frage nach der Rechtmäßigkeit einer Folter noch danach, ob denn nun tatsächlich Bin Laden erschossen wurde oder nicht irgend jemand anderes. Auch wenn es zu Beginn des Films auf einer Schrifftafel heisst, dass der Film auf authentischen Protokollen beruht, so darf man doch gesichert davon ausgehen, dass die Öffentlichkeit mit Sicherheit nicht die ganze Wahrheit erfahren wird. Seit es die gefälschten Fotos im Irak-Krieg gibt, ist man zumindest hierzulande nicht uneingeschränkt gewillt, alles zu glauben. Auch die Folter als Mittel zum Zweck wird bei deutschen Zuschauern mit Sicherheit auf breite Ablehnung stoßen. Von einer Regisseurin wie Kathryn Bigelow hätte man sich eine wesentlich bessere und kritischere Aufarbeitung des Stoffes gewünscht. So bleibt ihr Film aber leider sehr oberflächlich und teilt die Welt auf ganz einfache Art und Weise in Gut und Böse ein. Auch dramaturgisch lässt der überlange Film zu wünschen übrig. Die Unterteilung in verschiedene Kapitel beispielsweise macht keinen Sinn. Immerhin hat der Film mit Jessica Chastain in der Rolle der erbarungslosen CIA-Agentin Maya Lambert die optimale Besetzung aufzuweisen.

LINCOLN (1:2.35, DD 5.1 + 7.1)

OT: Lincoln

Verleih: Fox

Land/Jahr: USA 2012

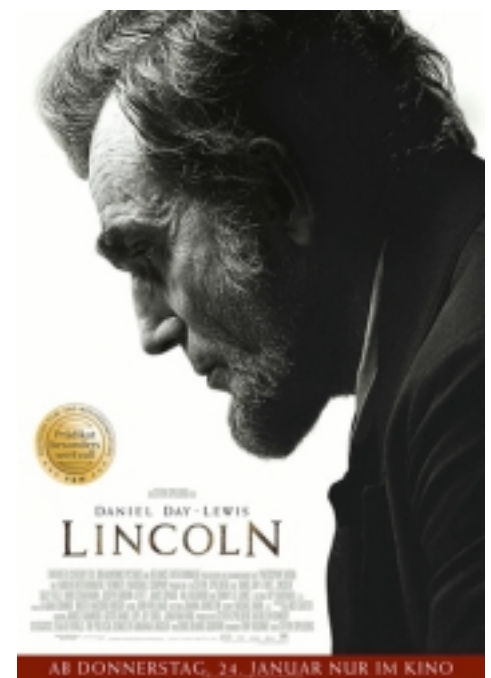

Regie: Steven Spielberg

Darsteller: Daniel Day-Lewis, Sally Field, David Strathairn, Tommy Lee Jones

Kinostart: 24.01.2013

1865. Während seiner zweiten Amtspe-

riode als Präsident der Vereinigten Staaten von Amerika will Abraham Lincoln nicht nur die Sklaverei abschaffen, sondern auch den Bürgerkrieg beenden. Doch um den Zusatzartikel in die amerikanische Verfassung aufzunehmen, fehlen ihm noch 20 Stimmen. 20 Stimmen, für die er kämpfen wird... Mit "History in the Making" könnte man Steven Spielbergs Biopic überschreiben. Das zweifelsfrei hochkarätig besetzte Epos ist freilich speziell für Amerikaner von großem Reiz. Ob der Film auch ein Publikum in Deutschland finden wird, wird sie zeigen. Der Film zeigt die letzten Monate im Leben des Abraham Lincoln, zeigt ihn als geschickten Taktierer, aber auch als Vater und Ehemann. Er endet mit dem tödlichen Attentat, das Lincoln endgültig unsterblich machte.

Ben 10: Destroy All Aliens

The biggest franchise in Cartoon Network's history is taking Ben 10 to another level with the DVD release of the original CG animated movie Ben 10: Destroy All Aliens. This DVD includes the all-new movie plus over 2 hours of special features with behind-the-scenes, original artwork, commentaries and more. In the movie ten-year-old Ben Tennyson is back from summer vacation. He jumps at the chance to go to the Total Alien immersion training program, but total immersion means he can never turn human again. Stuck in his alien form, Ben becomes the target of a new evil alien, engaging in a deadly cross-world battle where nothing is as it seems. Complete your Ben 10 DVD collection with the Ben 10: Destroy All Aliens DVD.

Bugs Bunny's Easter Funnies (Repackage)

Oh, no! The Easter Bunny is (pardon the expression) sick as a dog. Is there anyone who can take over those basket-busting, hippity-hoppity Easter morning rounds while the bunny recuperates? Well, there's the Easter Funny Bunny - Bugs Bunny. But Sylvester, Pepe Le Pew, Foghorn Leghorn and a particularly pesky duck all want to get in on the act. In Bugs Bunny's Easter Funnies, newly animated sequences weave together classic Looney Tunes cartoons (Including Academy Award winner Birds Anonymous, For Scent-Imental Reasons and Knighly Knight Bugs) showcasing the wascally wabbit and pals doing what they do best: Being funny! Alas, only one character can be the Easter Bunny's replacement. Can you guess who? Have you ever heard a rabbit go „Quack“?

Hanna-Barbera Christmas Classics Collection

This is a manufactured on demand disc that was created using a DVD-R disc. It should play in all standard DVD players. A dog and a mouse head for the North Pole to deliver a lost letter. Hanna-Barbera superstars lend a helping hand to the world's friendliest ghost. The greediest boy in the world discovers the magic of giving. What could three such different tales have in common? Hanna-Barbera and Santa Claus, that's what! Hanna-Barbera assembled its mightiest talents of pen and voice to produce one of its first forays into prime-time animated Christmas specials, A Christmas Story, the tale of Goober and Gumdrop's quest to save Christmas for one little boy. Dick Van Dyke narrates The Town That Santa Forgot, based on Charmaine Severson's beloved poem „Jeremy Creek“ about the confusion created by a gargantuan wish list. Casper's First Christmas sees Casper facing a Christmas Eve eviction when he receives holiday help from the likes of Yogi Bear, Boo-Boo, Huckleberry Hound, Snagglepuss, Quick Draw McGraw, Augie Doggie and Doggie Daddy.

It's The Easter Beagle, Charlie Brown: Deluxe Edition (Repackage)

The characters prepare for Easter morning, when, according to Linus, the „Easter Beagle“ will arrive and hand out Easter eggs to everybody. Nobody believes him, and they all go on their way. Lucy schemes to find all the eggs in the annual Easter Egg Hunt by planting all the eggs and recording their positions; Peppermint Patty and Marcie try to make Easter eggs, but Marcie instead fries, roasts, toasts, waffles, and finally makes soup from them. Fortunately for everybody (except Charlie Brown and Lucy), the Easter Beagle (played by Snoopy) arrives and hands out eggs (the ones Lucy planted for the egg hunt) to everyone. He runs out of eggs, so he gives Charlie Brown the basket.

Listen To Me, Girls. I Am Your Father!: The Complete Collection

Whoever said little girls grow up in the most delightful ways wasn't Yuta Segawa! But since his sister Yuri raised Yuta by herself after their own parents' deaths, what kind of brother would Yuta be if he didn't take in her three children when Yuri and her husband disappear? Of course, the fact that Yuta's a nineteen year old college student, living in a tiny apartment, with three girls, two of whom aren't related by blood, is bound to cause some issues. Especially when the eldest girl, Sora, is harboring a secret crush on him and would be quite happy if Yuta's social life revolved around the „family“, while middle sister Miui is starting to make noises about „older men“ as well. Did we mention that it's a really, REALLY small apartment? Add Raika, the girl Yuta actually likes, as a smoldering fuse and the question isn't IF Yuta's home sweet home is a powderkeg, but rather one of when it's going to explode and how often! Some family ties bind, others may need restraining orders in Listen To Me, Girls. I Am Your Father!

Qwaser Of Stigmata: Collection Two

The relationship between a Qwaser and his Maria, the woman who provides him with the sustaining soma that he needs to fuel his elemental powers, is already a strange and twisted one, but as the battle for the High Circuit escalates to a insane crescendo, a completely unexpected question arises: Can exposure to beings with superpowers actually be contagious? The answer could prove deadly as Miyuri goes through a most unexpected transformation! Meanwhile, Mafuyu finds herself even more conflicted over her relationship with Sasha as he slowly recovers from his strange amnesia, while Elizabeth fears having to choose between Shin'ichiro and her friends. As new waves of adepts attack, the milk of human kindness alone won't be enough to nip tragedy in the bud, and the survival of each pairing may ultimately depend upon the courage within each maiden's breast! Disaster looms as the seal is breeched and the lightning of the gods escapes the bottle at last in Qwaswe Of Stigmata: Collection 2!

17 Girls

This French film, based on real events that took place in Gloucester, Mass., in 2008, has been relocated to Lorient, a shabby port city on the Brittany coast and the hometown of the filmmakers, who are sisters. The movie takes you inside the dreamy collective mentality of bored, mildly rebellious girls who look with horror at the lives of their mostly working-class parents. A core group makes a pact to have babies simultaneously and bring up their children together. The inner circle widens, and in short order 17 girls are pregnant.

28 Hotel Rooms

Marin Ireland, Chris Messina

In this sexy, surprising romance, a man and a woman meet each other in a hotel while they are both traveling on business. Flirtation leads to a feverish night of sex that both find hard to forget. Although she's married, and he has a girlfriend, their intense attraction turns a seemingly casual one-night stand into a continual series of passionate hotel trysts, uniting them in a profound and unconventional relationship. Unfolding as a collage of moments-some sexy, some innocent, some profound, some silly - 28 Hotel Rooms is an intimate portrait of an affair in which two people wrestle with the intoxication of sex and the confusion of loving more than one person.

Eddie Murphy, Nick Nolte, Frank McRae, James Remar
48 Hours Jack Cates (Nick Nolte, Hotel Rwanda, Cape Fear) and Reggie Hammond (Eddie Murphy, Shrek, Dr. Dolittle) would never be friends... but they're about to be partners. Cates is a hard-nosed cop out to avenge the deaths of two fellow officers. Hammond is a smart-aleck felon, out to retrieve the stash of Cash still hidden from his last job. In order to bring the killers to justice, Cates has to find their ex-partner - Reggie. The catch? Hammond is in the slammer. Now, Cates must use his pull to get Reggie a 48-hour parole... and make him his temporary partner. Director Walter Hill sends Nolte and Murphy on a wild ride, setting the standard for the ultimate buddy-cop thriller. As the boys race the clock, they discover they have only one thing in common: they'd both kill to find the bad guys... if they don't kill each other first! Another 48 Hours Times may change... but these guys don't! Eddie Murphy (Shrek, Dr. Dolittle) and Nick Nolte (Hotel Rwanda, Cape Fear) are back on the streets in this smash sequel. Kelly McGillis, Jodie Foster

What are the limits of justice? Of social responsibility? The Accused takes a powerful and thought-provoking look at human nature and individual moral conscience, and a judicial process that treats the victim like a criminal. - Jodie Foster gives an Oscar-winning performance as the hard-living, fiercely independent Sarah Tobias, who is gang-raped in the back of a neighborhood bar. But that is only the beginning of her ordeal. Now Sarah finds herself battling the legal system, not once but twice, as she and her attorney (Kelly McGillis) go after both her attackers and the onlookers whose cheering fueled and encouraged the assault.

Alfie is not really a bad sort. It's just that he has overwhelming desire for the opposite sex. You might say that „birds“ are irresistible to him, sort of second nature. With Michael Caine in the title role, Alfie is a ribald and wild comedy, filled with sex and sin. For those who want to be entertained, Alfie is charming, delightful and quick-moving. For those who want more, there is beneath the surface a lingering tragedy, simply and poignantly told, about the taker and the taken.

All's Well That Ends Well: Shakespeare's Globe Theatre

Janie Dee, Sam Crane

Helena loves the arrogant Bertram, and when she cures the King of France of his sickness, she claims Bertram as her reward. But her new husband, flying from Helena to join the wars, attaches two obstructive conditions to their marriage - conditions he is sure will never be met. All's Well That Ends Well grinds the romantic against the realistic at every turn and brilliantly reverses all the usual expectations of Shakespearean comedy. Some of Shakespeare's most inventive language gives life to not just his single-minded heroine and her churlish lover, but a fantastic cast of frauds, cynics, sentimentalists and buffoons. Featuring Olivier-award winning actress Janie Dee as the Countess of Roussillon, Sam Crane as Bertam and Ellie Piercy as Helena.

The Bad News Bears

Walter Matthau, Vic Morrow

A classic comedy about growing up! A major surprise as one of 1976's top-grossing films, The Bad News Bears is a movie about children that is refreshing, utterly believable, and quite cleverly funny. Walter Matthau is at his absolute best as the grumbling, beer-guzzling former minor-league pitcher who gets roped into coaching a band of half-pint misfits somewhat loosely called a team. With this bunch in uniform, it's impossible to get caught up in the suburban competitive spirit that drives other adults to extremes of parental discipline. So, instead, the Bears have a good time.

Badlands: The Criterion Collection

Martin Sheen, Sissy Spacek, Warren Oates
Badlands announced the arrival of a major talent: Terrence Malick (Days of Heaven). His impressionistic take on the notorious Charles Starkweather and Caril Ann Fugate killing spree of the late 1950s uses a serial-killer narrative as a springboard for an oblique teenage romance, lovingly and idiosyncratically enacted by Martin Sheen (Apocalypse Now) and Sissy Spacek (Carrie). The film also introduced many of the elements that would earn Malick his passionate following: the enigmatic approach to narrative and character, the unusual use of voice-over, the juxtaposition of human violence with natural beauty, the poetic investigation of American dreams and nightmares. This debut has spawned countless imitations, but none have equaled its strange sublimity.

Barefoot In The Park

Jane Fonda, Mildred Natwick, Robert Redford, Charles Boyer

Master of Broadway comedy Neil Simon adapted his hit play about a conservative young lawyer and his off-the-wall bride for this warm film classic. - Robert Redford is Mister Straight. Jane Fonda is his new wife, who dedicates her life to the pursuit of fun. As the ecstasy of the honeymoon gives way to the reality of setting up housekeeping in a five-flight walk-up, the harmony of marriage turns to comical discord. The mother-in-law complains meekly. The middle-aged Lothario upstairs flirts. Joy turns to anguish. There is little doubt that the young people will kiss and make up by the end of the picture, just as there's little doubt that the mother and the neighbor will find each other. Fonda and Redford make a wonderfully successful comedy team.

The Bay

Kether Donohue, Kristen Connolly, Will Rogers, Christopher Denham, Frank Deal

Two million fish washed ashore. One thousand blackbirds dropped from the sky. On July 4, 2009 a deadly menace swept through the quaint seaside town of Claridge, Maryland, but the harrowing story of what happened that Independence Day has never been told - until now. From Oscar-winning director Barry Levinson and the producers of Paranormal Activity and Insidious comes this nerve-shredding tale of a small town plunged into absolute terror. The authorities believed they had buried the truth about the tragedy that claimed over 700 human lives. Now, three years later, a reporter has emerged with footage revealing both the cover-up and an unimaginable killer: a mysterious parasitic outbreak. Told from the perspective of those who were there and saw what happened, The Bay unfolds over 24 hours through people's iPhones, Androids, 911 calls, webcams, and whatever else could be used to document the nightmare in Claridge.

Bigfoot's Wild Weekend

When skeptical tabloid reporter Harlan James (Chase Carter) is given the assignment of investigating a string of encounters involving Bigfoot (portrayed by D.T. Carney, Dead Things), he sets out on an extraordinary adventure. After talking to a few witnesses, Harlan soon learns that Bigfoot isn't a scary monster but rather a beer-drinking, panty-stealing party animal! But Harlan isn't the only one trying to track down the world's most elusive creature. He'll have to compete with Chester Scroggins (Ron Blackwell, Showboys), a hillbilly hell-bent on revenge, as well as a group of rival hunters looking to claim a bounty. With the aid of a local sheriff (David Novak, Super Shark) and a beautiful television reporter (Nicole Parsneau), Harlan sets out to get to the heart of the story before it's too late. Skewering everything from tabloid trash to small-town intrigue, Bigfoot's Wild Weekend is a crazy off-the-wall comedy filled with beer, babes (in-and out-of their bikinis), and Bigfoot!

Strong performances and ingenious special effects help The Blob transcend the schlock sci-fi and youth delinquency genres from which it originates. Made outside of Hollywood by a maverick film distributor and a crew whose credits mostly comprised religious and educational shorts, The Blob helped launch the careers of McQueen and composer Burt Bacharach, whose bouncy title song is just one of this film's many unexpected pleasures.

The Brady Bunch Movie

Michael McKean, Jean Smart, Shelley Long, Gary Cole

They're back to save America. Break out the double knits and roll out the Astroturf, because the Bunch is back in a groovy, good-time „romp for all ages“ (Bonnie Churchill, National News Syndicate). Mike (Gary Cole) and Carol (Shelley Long) have just one week to come up with $20,000 in back taxes or they'll lose their house to a scheming neighbor (Michael McKean). To make matters worse, Marcia gets a swollen nose on date night, Cindy's addicted to tattling, and Jan's hearing a psychotic inner voice crying „Marcia, Marcia, Marcia!“ Of course, these are the Bradys, and when the kids enter a talent contest with a $20,000 purse...well, let's just say, „It's a Sunshine Day!“ With appearances by Florence Henderson, Barry Williams, Ann B. Davis, Christopher Knight, and dreamy ex-Monkee Davy Jones, The Brady Bunch is „an absolute laugh riot from beginning to end“ (Barry Ze Van, Channel America).

Brewster's Millions

Helen Walker, June Havoc
Dennis O'Keefe stars in this 1945 version of the novel by George Barr McCutcheon. Former serviceman Monty Brewster learns that a wealthy unknown uncle has died, leaving him eight million dollars. A stipulation in the will demands that he spend the first million in just two months or forfeit the entire inheritance. He also isn't allowed to tell his army buddies or fiancée about the terms of the will. Desperate to get rid of the money, he starts businesses and makes deliberately bad investments. But things go awry as the ventures begin earning rather than losing money. This airy farce is kept deftly aloft by its first rate cast and director Allan Dwan (Heidi, Sands of Iwo Jima) at the helm.

Bullet Collector

An intense drama of an adolescent adrift in an uncaring world, Bullet Collector is the powerful debut of Russian director Alexander Vartanov. A unique and visually striking work, the film examines the traumas of a wide-eyed 14-year-old boy, struggling to cope with a terrible home life dominated by an angry mother and a stepfather who can't stand the sight of him. His school routine is plagued by brutal attacks from bullies, and his life becomes even more nightmarish after he is sent to a hellish reform school. Losing himself in an elaborate fantasy world where he is loved by a beautiful girlfriend and able to defeat his oppressors, the boy finds the reality of his situation continually shocking him back to a very different life. But is he actually just a timid teen destined for abuse, or will he gain the strength to fight off his attackers? Recalling the world of Antoine Doinel in Truffaut's The 400 Blows, this unsettling, moody masterpiece updates that classic by giving it a distinctly Russian flavor.

The Complete Adventures Of Flash Gordon

Jean Rogers, Priscilla Lawson, Buster Crabbe, Charles Middleton, Frank Shannon
Blast off to the golden age of adventure with the original cosmic crusader! Cartoonist Alex Raymond's intrepid interstellar invader took the comics page by storm in 1934 - and, two years later, he made the leap to the silver screen in the smiling person of Olympic swimmer-turned-actor Buster Crabbe. The original 13-episode serial, Flash Gordon: Space Soldiers, introduced Flash (Crabbe), his winsome platinum blonde girlfriend Dale Arden (Jean Rogers) and visionary scientist Dr. Alex Zarkov (Frank Shannon) as they save the earth from evil Emperor Ming The Merciless (Charles B. Middleton) with the help of Ming's daughter Princess Aura (Priscilla Lawson). It was a hit at the box office and spawned a pair of equally electrifying sequels: Flash Gordon's Trip to Mars (1938) and Flash Gordon Conquers the Universe (1940). You'll find all three of these killer serials between the sturdy covers of this collector's edition Video-Book package, complete with a gorgeously illustrated booklet that fleshes out Flash's multimedia odyssey and includes original Alex Raymond cartoons. This set belongs in every sci-fi lover's collection.

The Dead Zone

Christopher Walken, Martin Sheen, Tom Skerritt, Herbert Lom, Brooke Adams, Colleen Dewhurst, Anthony Zerbe, Nicholas Campell
Christopher Walken stars in this tense, gripping adaptation of Stephen King's best-selling novel, The Dead Zone. One fateful night, Johnny Smith (Walken) smashes head-on into an enormous truck. For five long years, Johnny is plunged into a deep coma. When he awakens, he discovers that his youth, his career and his fiancée, Sarah (Brooke Adams), have all been lost. But Johnny has gained something - extraordinary psychic powers allowing him to see visions of the past, present and future. In episode after episode, Johnny is propelled into horror-filled, supernatural experiences. Desperately, Johnny seeks seclusion, but a moral decision must be made - should he use his powers to change the future of mankind? Martin Sheen gives a chilling portrayal as a sinister, psychotic Senate hopeful aspiring to the U.S. Presidency.

If you were a famed mystery playwright with a devastating string of recent flops, what would you do for a can't-miss thriller script? Beg for it? Pray for it? Kill for it? Get smared in Deathtrap, the fiendishly funny film version of Ira Levin's Broadway hit starring Michael Caine as the blocked writer, Cyan Cannon as his loving, naive wife and Christopher Reeve as a former student who's written a play so flawless „even a gifted director couldn't ruin it.“ Gifted director Sidney Lumet and screenwriter Jay Presson Allen pack this movie's insidious hairpin twist with such drop-dead wit and delightful dread that you'll stop laughing...only long enough to gasp in surprise.

Die Screaming, Marianne: Remastered Edition (Blu-ray)

Alan Curtis, Susan George, Judy Huxtable, Leo Genn, Barry Evans, Christopher Sandford, Anthony Sharp, Kenneth Hendel, Paul Stassino

With the death of her mother, Marianne (Susan George, Straw Dogs) stands to inherit a rather substantial family fortune as soon as she turns 21. Not only is there a vast sum of money involved, there are also certain incriminating documents that her father, a corrupt judge (Leo Genn, A Lizard In A Woman's Skin), does not want getting out. And with her money-hungry half-sister chomping at the bit, will Marianne even live to see her 21st birthday? An early outing for British blood baron Pete Walker (Nightmare, The Confessional), Die Screaming Marianne is a psychological thriller that deals with jealousy, murder, incest and explores the paranoia of being surrounded by a family that cannot be trusted.

Doctor Who: The Ark In Space - Special Edition

Elisabeth Sladen, Tom Baker, Ian Marter

The Tom Baker Years: 1974- 1981. The Fourth Doctor's first trip in the TARDIS brings him, with Sarah Jane and a very skeptical Harry Sullivan, many thousand years into the future to Nerva, a space station in Earth's orbit. The Doctor is amazed to discover that Nerva is nothing less than an ark for the human race. Having evacuated Earth when the solar activity threatened all life on the planet, these few hundred survivors have been drifting in suspended animation for thousands of years. Even more perplexing is the discovery that someone has sabotaged Nerva's vital systems. The Doctor reactivates the systems, and one by one, the human race begins to awake from its enforced deep sleep. The future of humankind appears secure until the Doctor learns that the larvae of the Wirrn, a hostile insect race, are also aboard. Excuse Me For Living

Wayne Knight, Robert Vaughn, Christopher Lloyd, Jerry Stiller
Excuse Me For Living is the story of Dan Topler (Tom Pelphrey, As the World Turns), a rich, smart, suicidal twenty-something who dropped out of medical school to pursue his own drug habit. Well provided for and a bit coddled, he refuses to grow up or get happy. After a suicide attempt on the George Washington Bridge lands him in an upscale rehabilitation clinic, Dr. Jacob Bernstein (Robert Vaughn, Coronation Street) takes him under his wing. The doctor issues these commands: obey the no-drugs rules, and join the geriatric temple men's group he leads - or face incarceration. Despite Dan's negative attitude attending the seniors' club, he finds he's among accomplished men and becomes engrossed with their lives. Meanwhile, Dan's prep school friends continue to lure Dan to bacchanals. Dan's addiction and tired mind can't resist the drugs, booze, and women, until he becomes smitten with Laura (Melissa Archer - One Life to Live), Dr. Bernstein's daughter. Resolving to turn his life around, he confronts his friends and begins to listen at his group sessions, eventually realizing he has more to offer and to lea

Hard Romanticker

Based on director Gu Su-yeon's autobiographical novel, Hard Romanticker is a spectacularly violent gangster movie that delivers its story with equal amounts of style and carnage. Dripping James Dean-like cool, bleach blond Gu (Shota Matsuda) is a young, cocky Korean-Japanese hoodlum living in Japan. When someone „accidentally“ kills the grandmother of a ruthless rival thug, Gu soon finds himself on the receiving end as he becomes the target for bloody, even deadly, revenge. And it doesn't help that the police are on his tail as well. What's a snarly, cigarette-puffing thug to do? With tons of ultra-violence, rampaging youths and nihilistic retribution, Hard Romanticker is a sort of a modern-day A Clockwork Orange - yakuza style.

In Our Nature

Jena Malone, John Slattery, Zach Gilford
When Brooklynite Seth (Zach Gilford, Friday Night Lights) takes his girlfriend Andie (Jena Malone, Into the Wild, The Hunger Games: Catching Fire) to his family's weekend house in upstate New York for a romantic getaway, they are unexpectedly joined by his estranged father Gil (John Slattery, Mad Men), and his much-younger new girlfriend, Vicky (Gabrielle Union, 10 Things I Hate About You). The women carefully negotiate emotional minefields as they persuade father and son to share the house for the first time since the summer vacations of Seth's childhood. This unexpected family reunion in the great outdoors, fraught with tensions old and new, pushes them all to realize the bonds of family are always stronger and stranger than expected. From the producers of Meek's Cutoff and Wendy And Lucy, In Our Nature is a candid, delicately observed family portrait of couples at a crossroads.

The Intouchables (Blu-ray + UltraViolet) (Blu-ray)

Anne Le Ny, Francois Cluzet, Omar Sy
When Driss, an ex-con from the projects, is hired to take care of an eccentric French aristocrat named Philippe, his newfound job quickly becomes an unpredictable adventure. Speeding a Maserati through Paris, seducing women and paragliding over the Alps is just the beginning, as Driss turns the often humorous world of upper-class Parisian society upside-down. As this unlikely duo overcome adversity of every flavor in this true story, they also shatter their preconceptions of love, life and each other. Based on the #1 international best-selling book, „You Changed My Life.“

Keep The Lights On

Thure Lindhardt, Julianne Nicholson, Zachary Booth

Keep the Lights On chronicles an emotionally and sexually charged journey of two men in New York City through love, friendship, and addiction. Documentary filmmaker Erik (Thure Lindhardt) and closeted lawyer Paul (Zachary Booth, Damages) meet through a casual encounter, but soon find a deeper connection and become a couple. Individually and together, they are risk takers - compulsive, and fueled by drugs and sex. In an almost decade-long relationship defined by highs, lows, and dysfunctional patterns, Erik struggles to negotiate his own boundaries and dignity while being true to himself. Director Ira Sachs's fearlessly personal screenplay is anchored by Lindhardt, who embodies Erik's isolation and vulnerability with a gentle presence. Harrowing and romantic, visceral and layered, Keep the Lights On is a film that looks at love and all of its manifestations, taking it to dark depths and bringing it back to a place of grace.

Yancy Butler, Elisabeth Rohm, Robert Englund, Jonas Talkington

The crocs are back... and they're bigger, badder and more brutal than ever. After the deadly predators' last vicious attack, the government prevented their extermination. Sealed away in a nature preserve, they've been growing to record size, awaiting their next chance to feast on human flesh. Now, when a high school swim team takes a wrong turn directly into the crocs hunting grounds... dinner is served. As the teens race to avoid the hungry reptiles, they become caught in a showdown between a rogue game warden (Yancy Butler, Witchblade) and a demented poacher (Robert Englund, A Nightmare on Elm Street). It's the last serving of hysterical horror in a finale that shows terror is best served raw.

Lapland Odyssey

Quirky, laugh-out-loud funny and totally unpredictable, this action-packed Finnish road movie is an absolute charmer. Set in the dark, snow covered and frozen landscape of northern Finland, the story starts in a completely normal fashion: a young woman named Inari get frustrated that her good-for-nothing boyfriend Janne won't even get off his ass to buy the only thing she wants: a TV cable box. So she makes an ultimatum: either a converter box by morning or she's moving out. This propels Janne, along with his two hapless and equally lazy friends, out of the house and into a series of increasingly crazy misadventures, all in the quest of getting that elusive cable box. They soon encounter gun-shooting Russians, some very mean reindeer, Inari's vengeful former boyfriend, a watery oasis filled with topless water polo-playing beauties, and a naked run through the snow. All the while the police are on their heels. Reminiscent of the wacky characters that seem to inhabit Aki Kaurismäki films, this comedy, filmed at breakneck speed, is an absolute delight.

Dana Andrews, Gene Tierney, Vincent Price, Judith Anderson, Clifton Webb

Film noir, a classic film style of the '40s and '50s, is noted for its dark themes, stark camera angles and high-contrast lighting. Comprising many of Hollywood's finest films, film noir tells realistic stories about crime, mystery, femme fatales and moral conflict. A definitive film noir classic, Laura tells the shocking story of a Park Avenue society beauty murdered in her apartment, which brings Detective Mark McPherson (Dana Andrews) to New York's most elegant neighborhood. As he tries to get inside the head of the victim, Laura Hunt (Gene Tierney), he also questions the men in her life - the acerbic critic Waldo Lydecker (Clifton Webb) and playboy fiancé Shelby Carpenter (Vincent Price). Lulled by her stunning portrait, fine liquor and classical music, McPherson doesn't know he's in for a heart-stopping shock with the sudden appearance of a woman who seems to be Laura herself. Steeped in suspense, heightened reality and witty sophistication, Laura leads to a shocking climax.

This movie is extremely alarming, an expression which here means „a thrilling misadventure involving three ingenious orphans and a villainous actor named Count Olaf (Carrey) who wants their enormous fortune.“ It includes a suspicious fire, delicious pasta, Jim Carrey, poorly behaved leeches, an incredibly deadly viper, Meryl Streep, and the voice of an impostor named Jude Law. The only things that could make such a spectacle more upsetting are special features, such as commentary by me or outtakes involving nervous laughter. The Life And Death Of Colonel Blimp: 2 Disc Edition - The Criterion Collection

Deborah Kerr, Roger Livesey, Roland Culver, Vincent Holman, David Hutcheson, James Knight, Nevil Mapp, James McKechnie, Spencer Trevor

Considered by many to be the finest British film ever made, The Life and Death of Colonel Blimp, by Michael Powell and Emeric Pressburger (The Red Shoes), is a stirring masterpiece like no other. Roger Livesey dynamically embodies outmoded English militarism as the indelible General Clive Candy, who barely survives four decades of tumultuous British history (1902 to 1942) only to see the world change irrevocably before his eyes. Anton Walbrook (The Red Shoes) and Deborah Kerr (Black Narcissus) provide unforgettable support, he as a German enemy turned lifelong friend of Blimp's and she as young women of three consecutive generations - a socially committed governess, a sweet-souled war nurse, and a modern-thinking army driver - who inspire him. Colonel Blimp is both moving and slyly satirical, an incomparable film about war, love, aging, and obsolescence shot in gorgeous Technicolor.

Following a motorcycle accident that leaves a charismatic member (Jean Dujardin, The Artist) of their group in an intensive care unit, a close-knit circle of friends embark on their annual summer getaway to Cap Ferrat in the southwest of France. Staying at wealthy family man Max's (François Cluzet, Tell No One, The Intouchables) spacious vacation home, the sunny beachside idyll quickly becomes the backdrop of heated tensions and outbursts among the old acquaintances as the little white lies just beneath the surface of their relationships reach a boiling point. Featuring an all-star cast including Marion Cotillard (The Dark Knight Rises, La Vie en Rose) and Gilles Lellouche (Point Blank, Mesrine) and a soundtrack of classic hit songs, director Guillaume Canet's follow-up to his smash-hit Tell No One is a touching, poignant, and inspiring dramatic comedy about owning up to the truths that define a life.

The Loneliest Planet

Hani Furstenberg, Gael Garcia Bernal

Alex (Gael Garcia Bernal, Y Tu Mama Tambien, The Motorcycle Diaries) and Nica (Hani Furstenberg, Campfire, Yossi & Jagger) are young, in love and engaged to be married. The summer before their wedding, while backpacking in the Caucasus Mountains in Georgia, they hire a local guide to lead them on a camping trek. Venturing into the stunning wilderness, the trio's peaceful adventure takes a dark turn as a subtle rift opens between Alex and Nica, quickly widening until it threatens to undo everything the couple believed about each other and themselves. - Along with their ever-present guide, the young travelers find themselves journeying not only into a landscape that's both overwhelmingly open and frighteningly closed, but also into the farthest depths of their own understanding. - A unique examination of the parameters of love, The Loneliest Planet is a tale of betrayal, identity, failure, and the ambiguities of forgiveness.

The Longest Yard

Burt Reynolds, Ed Lauter, Eddie Albert, Mike Conrad

First Down...And Ten Years To Go... In this rough-and-tumble yarn, actually filmed on-location at the Georgia State Prison, the cons are the heroes and the guards are the heavies. Eddie Albert is the sadistic warden who'll gladly make any sacrifice to push his guards' semi-pro football team to a national championship. Reynolds plays one time pro quarterback Paul Crewe, now behind bars for leading State Police on a wild chase in a „borrowed“ car. He agrees to organize a prisoners' team to play the guards. The warden intercedes to assure that his goon squad will meet only passive resistance from Crewe's Mean Machine. But the license to pound on their hated guards is a big incentive for murderers and thieves to learn strategy.

Love Story

Ali MacGraw, Ray Milland, John Marley
Love means never having to say you're sorry. Everyone loves Love Story! One of the most romantic movies ever made also remains one of the most enduringly popular. This heartfelt 1970 tale of the love of a lifetime - the most successful Paramount movie up to that time - received seven Academy Award® nominations (including Best Picture) and won one for Francis Lai's magnificent score. As filming was underway on Love Story, the filmmakers knew they had something special - so special that Erich Segal was simultaneously shaping his best-selling novel from his own screenplay. Stars Ryan O'Neal and Ali McGraw each received Academy Award® nominations and became overnight movie sensations for their poignant portrayals of a young couple who cross social barriers, marry, and ultimately face the greatest crisis of all.

Claudio loves Hero and Hero Claudio and nothing seems capable of tearing them apart. Claudio's friend Benedick loves Beatrice and Beatrice Benedick, but (because neither will admit it) nothing seems capable of bringing them together. Only the intrigues of a resentful prince force Benedick to prove his love for Beatrice - by killing his best friend. Driven along by a romance all the more charming for being unacknowledged, Much Ado About Nothing is a miracle of comic and dramatic suspense and gives us, in the bantering Beatrice and Benedick, one of Shakespeare's wittiest, most lovable pair of lovers. Featuring Eve Best ('sublime' The Times) as Beatrice and Charles Edwards ('gives a superb performance' The Daily Telegraph) as Benedick.

Nevada Smith is a rugged innocent boy born in the 1890s during California's gold rush days to a Native American mother and white father. When he finds his parents have been murdered by vicious killers, he sets out to track them down. While the film is a western, and has plenty of action, it is also a powerful and revealing study of the regeneration of a man. In this case a long gunslinger who is so blinded by his compulsion that it obscures any other motive for living. Steve McQueen's dynamic presence as Nevada Smith is memorable.

Obscure Object Of Desire (Blu-ray)

Angela Molina, Carole Bouquet, Fernando
Rey, Julien Bertheau

Luis Bunuel's final film explodes with eroticism, bringing full circle to the director's lifelong preoccupation with the darker side of desire. Bunuel regular Fernando Rey plays Matthieu, an urbane widower, tortured by his lust for the elusive Conchita. With subversive flare, Bunuel uses two different actresses in the lead role- Carole Bouquet, a sophisticated French beauty and Angela Molina, a Spanish coquette. Drawn from Pierre Louys' 1898 novel, "La Femme et le Pantin", That Obscure Object of Desire is a dizzying game of sexual politics punctuated by a terror that harkens back to Bunuels brilliant surrealist beginnings.

The Odd Couple

Walter Matthau, Jack Lemmon

Neil Simon has a special genius for finding the great hilarity in ordinary people doing everyday things. Like two divorced men who decide to share a New York apartment. That's the premise of The Odd Couple, though there's nothing odd in the casting of two Oscar-winning talents like Jack Lemmon and Walter Matthau. The two veteran funny men work together with the precision timing of a vaudeville team, but always with bright spontaneity. Lemmon plays fussy Felix, fastidious to a fault. He proves that cleanliness is next to insanity. Matthau is Oscar, who wreaks havoc on a tidy room with the speed and thoroughness of a tornado. An enduring and endearing picture, with the intelligence one usually misses in comedies.

Once Upon A Time In The West

Henry Fonda, Claudia Cardinale, Jason
Robards, Charles Bronson, Woody Strode,
Gabriele Ferzetti, Keenan Wynn, Jack Elam,
Lionel Stander, Frank Wolff, Paolo Stoppa

Sergio Leone's monumental picture, here in its original form, ranks among his most admirable achievements. In the dying days of the Old West, a struggle to control water in a dusty desert town embroils three hard-bitten gunmen in an epic clash of greed, honor and revenge. Henry Fonda stars in his most sinister role as Frank, a hired killer who ruthlessly slays an entire family. Jason Robards plays Cheyenne, an infamous bandit framed for slaughter. And Charles Bronson is The Man, a mysterious loner determined to exact vengeance for a grudge he refuses to divulge. An influence on countless directors, Leone's masterpiece is considered among the greatest Western's ever made.

Edward Furlong, Anthony Edwards, Clancy Brown, Jared Rushton

Sometimes dead is better. But the shocking terror that plagued Ludlow, Maine, in Pet Sematary is still very much alive in this heartstopping sequel to the 1989 hit film written by Stephen King. After the death of his wife, veterinarian Chase Matthews (Anthony Edwards, TV's „ER“) and his 13-year-old son Jeff (Edward Furlong, Terminator 2: Judgment Day) move to Ludlow to rebuild their lives. Antagonized by the neighborhood kids. Jeff befriends another outsider. Drew Gilbert, who lives in fear of his cruel stepfather Gus (Clancy Brown, Highlander). After Gus cold-bloodedly shoots Drew's beloved dog, the boys bury the body in the local Indian burial grounds - a place rumored to have the powers of resurrection. When evil is awakened, the boys realize that sometimes you should just let dead dogs lie.

Sabrina

Neuankündigungen DVD & Blu-ray Disc USA

Audrey Hepburn, Humphrey Bogart, William Holden, Walter Hampden, Martha Hyer, Joan Vohs, John Williams

Isn't it romantic . . . Sabrina is charming, humorous and aglow with some of Hollywood's greatest stars. Humphrey Bogart, William Holden and Audrey Hepburn star in a Cinderella story directed by renowned filmmaker Billy Wilder (Sunset Boulevard, Some Like It Hot). Bogie and Holden are the mega-rich Larrabee brothers of Long Island. Bogie's all work, Holden's all playboy. But when Sabrina, daughter of the family's chauffeur, returns from Paris all grown up and glamorous, the stage is set for some family fireworks as the brothers fall under the spell of Hepburn's delightful charms.

Greg Kinnear, Julia Ormond, Harrison Ford, John Wood, Nancy Marchand

A 10! And one of the 10 best of the year!" -Susan Granger, CRN International & American Movie Classics. Love is a funny thing. Especially when Harrison Ford, Julia Ormond and Greg Kinnear form the warmest, winningest romantic triangle ever. Directed by Sydney Pollack (Tootsie), Sabrina shimmers like a fairy tale come true. Ford plays Linus Larrabee, a busy tycoon who has no room for love in his appointment book. But when a romance between his playboy brother (Kinnear) and Sabrina (Ormond), daughter of the family chauffeur, threatens one of Linus' business deals, the CEO clears his schedule for some ruthlessness. He courts Sabrina, intending to drop her when the deal closes. Will „the world's only living heart donor“ discover his heart? Of course! But, like the best journeys, the fun isn't just the destination, it's the getting there.

Same Time Every Year

Herschel Savage, Ron Jeremy

It's that time of year again! Michael and a group of his male friends head off to a lawyer convention, leaving their wives home alone. Of course, these ladies aren't stupid and they know their men are just out having a „good time“ without them getting in the way. Picked up by a chauffeur (played by a young, slim Ron Jeremy), the boys head out to a sex resort for the weekend. The wives, on the other hand, have some sensational plans of their own... Low on plot and high on non-stop sex, Same Time Every Year stars many high profile adult stars like Ron Jeremy, Loni Sanders, Paul Thomas, Tiffany Clark and Herschel Savage. Fred J. Lincoln (the psychotic „Weasel“ from Wes Craven's classic, The Last House On The Left) directs this classic early eighties adult feature.

Samson And Delilah

Victor Mature, Hedy Lamarr, George Sanders

Journey through time to a gloriously extravagant Biblical setting of lust, violence, and betrayal in this meticulously restored Oscar-winning classic from legendary filmmaker Cecil B. DeMille. Victor Mature flexes his muscles through such scenes as Samson's barehanded battle with a lion, a single-handed assault on a thousand Phillistine soldiers and the spectacular climax where he pulls down the pagan temple. All that action makes the picture exciting. But it's the seductive lady with the scissors, inimitably played by Hedy Lamarr that truly makes it great entertainment.

Save The Last Dance

Julia Stiles, Sean Patrick Thomas, Terry Kinney, Fredro Starr
Sara (Julia Stiles) is a small-town girl with a big dream: to become a world-class ballerina. But when her mother suddenly dies, Sara must abandon her plans and join her estranged father (Terry Kinney) on Chicago's gritty South Side. A white girl in a predominantly black neighborhood, Sara feels out of place - until she is befriended by a black classmate, Chenille (Kerry Washington), and her handsome brother, Derek (Sean Patrick Thomas). Sparks fly between Sara and Derek, whose shared love for dance leads to romance. But as Sara and Derek's relationship grows, so does opposition from their families and friends. Now Sara and Derek face the biggest challenge of their young lives - to stay true to their dreams... and each other. Schizo: Remastered Edition (Blu-ray)

Stephanie Beacham, Lynne Frederick, John Fraser, John Leyton, Jack Watson
Schizophrenia: When the left hand doesn't know what the right hand is doing!. A classic '70s slasher film - and one of the first big hits of the VHS horror explosion of the early '80s - Schizo was British filmmaker Pete Walker's answer to Psycho, an erotic thriller that used pop psychology as a springboard for shocking acts of violence. Lynne Frederick (Vampire Circus) stars as a beautiful ice skater who, as a child, witnessed the gruesome murder of her mother. After Samantha marries, her close friends begin to be horrifically killed, one by one, and she is brought closer to an inevitable confrontation with the murderer. Upon its original UK release, more than a minute of violent footage was censored by the British Board of Film Classification. Even so, the critics were shocked by the gruesomeness that remained. The Sunday Telegraph called Schizo „very entertaining... if you like street accidents.“ This

Sci-Fi Trash-O-Rama Triple Feature (Creature Of Destruction / UFO Target Earth / The Flying Saucer Mystery)

Buckle-up for a trashy thrill-ride as this collection of Sci-Fi's Tarnished Gold escapes before your startled eyes! Creature Of Destruction (1967) is certainly one of Larry Buchanan's most distinguished efforts. A great cast includes monster movie veteran Les Tremayne and Beach Party regular Aron Kincaid - there's even a great song inspired by the then popular Batman tv series! The monster is laughable, so don't say we didn't warn you! Flying Saucer Mystery (1950) gives you a peek at the early UFO scare catching fire in country at the time. Scientists with incredibly straight faces give out the unwashed truth about flying saucers and visitors from outer space. UFO - Target Earth (1974) is one funky little movie in which a noted researched delves too deep into the mystery of alien visitations in a backwoods rural community and begins to fall victim to his own investigation. This one looks like it was filmed on LSD.

The Score

Angela Bassett, Robert De Niro, Marlon Brando, Edward Norton
Three generations of acclaimed actors team up in The Score, an intriguing crime thriller that marks the first time that legendary Oscar®-winners Robert De Niro and Marlon Brando have shared the screen. Also starring Oscar®-nominee Edward Norton, The Score wowed critics and audiences alike. When expert safecracker Nick Wells (DeNiro) decides it might be time to settle down with his girlfriend Diane (Oscar®-nominee Angela Bassett) and stick to his legitimate business, running a jazz nightclub in Montreal, his friend and partner Max (Brando) has other plans. Heavily in debt to a crime boss, Max needs Nick to pull one last heist: help novice thief Jack Teller (Norton) steal a scepter worth $30 million from the House of Customs. Tempted by the $6 million payday, Nick reluctantly agrees to do the job. But what starts out as a safe bet turns into a high risk gamble when a clash of egos threatens to bring them all down. Featuring performances by jazz greats Cassandra Wilson and Mose Allison, The Score is one of the smartest, most entertaining crime capers ever filmed, with surprises at every turn.

Return to a place of insanity and blood-curdling chills in this shocking sequel to one of the most surreal and gruesome horror films ever created. Heather Mason (Adelaide Clemens) and her father (Sean Bean) have always tried to stay one step ahead of the malevolent forces intent on their destruction. But on the eve of her 18th birthday, a dangerous revelation leads her deeper into a demonic world that threatens to trap her in a nightmarish landscape forever. Based on the hugely popular video game series and written and directed by Michael J. Bassett (Deathwatch), it's a psychological trip into absolute terror unlike anything you've ever known.

The Six Million Dollar Man: Season 3

Lindsay Wagner, Richard Anderson, Lee Majors, Martin E. Brooks, Monte Markham

Grievously injured in the crash of an experimental aircraft, Colonel Steve Austin's shattered body is covertly rebuilt via the miracle of modern science known as bionics. Equipped with atomic-powered limbs that make him „better, stronger, faster“ than the average mortal, Austin (Lee Majors) can now run at speeds exceeding 60 miles per hour, overturn cars with ease, and spot an encroaching enemy from over a mile away. Under the watchful eye of OSI director Oscar Goldman (Richard Anderson), Steve repays his debt to the taxpayers by taking on perilous missions of a highly classified nature.

Familiar faces and exciting new foes dominate The Six Million Dollar Man's riveting Season 3. Back from the dead is Jaime Sommers (Lindsay Wagner), who can't remember her bionic soul mate. Emotions frayed, Steve keeps busy by retrieving the Liberty Bell and a feral child raised by wolves. Later, Austin goes mano a mano with the legendary Bigfoot in a clash for the ages. Reconnect with the bionic man in this 6-DVD set featuring all 21 uncut episodes and bonus features including the two-part premiere of The Bionic Wo

Sleeper (Blu-ray)

Diane Keaton, Woody Allen

Drawing on the great tradition of silent comedy, Sleeper is Woody Allen's first film to tame his verbal wit and showcase his emerging skill with visual and physical comedy. Starring Diane Keaton (directed by Allen for the first time), Sleeper is „a bizarre mixture of New York neuroses, splendidly lunatic sight gags, Alice-in-Wonderland illogic, and too-funny-to-be-painful satire“ (Los Angeles Herald-Examiner)! When cryogenically preserved Miles Monroe (Allen) is awakened 200 years after a hospital mishap, he discovers the future's not so bright: all women are frigid, all men are impotent, and the world is ruled by an evil dictator...a disembodied nose! Pursued by the secret police and recruited by anti-government rebels with a plan to kidnap the dictator's snout before it can be cloned, Miles falls for the beautiful - but untalented - poet Luna (Diane Keaton). But when Miles is captured and reprogrammed by the government - to believe he's Miss America! - it's up to Luna to save Miles, lead the rebels, and cut off the nose...just to spite its face.

Stella Days

Martin Sheen, Stephen Rea

A small-town cinema in rural Ireland becomes the setting for a dramatic struggle between faith and passion, Rome and Hollywood, and a man and his conscience. Stella Days is the story of Father Daniel Berry (Martin Sheen, The Departed, Apocalypse Now, The West Wing), a story about the conflict between love and duty, hope and faith, and the excitement of the unknown and the security of the familiar. It encapsulates the dilemma of Ireland in the mid-1950s, perched on the cusp of the modern but still clinging to the traditions of church and a cultural identity forged in very different times.

The Thieves

Gianna Jun

In order to let things cool down from their latest heist, Popeye and his group of thieves go to Macau on a job. But the mastermind behind this job is none other than Popeye's old partner Macau Park, who escaped with 68kg of gold several years ago on their last job together. Macau Park brought Chinese thieves as well but little did they know what Macau Park planned for each one of them. His plan takes an unexpected turn when Popeye brings Pepsi, a genius safe-cracker and old flame of Macau Park, to settle the old score. The thieves' target is a $20 million diamond known as 'Tear of the Sun', kept safely away in a casino, brought there to be sold by a notorious Chinese fence. While working together to steal this fabled diamond, they all have their own agenda to keep the diamond for themselves. But who will succeed and live to see another day?

Veronica Mars: The Complete First Season (Repackage)

Francis Capra, Kristen Bell, Tessa Thompson, Sydney Tamiia Poitier, Enrico Colantoni, Jason Dohring, Teddy Dunn, Percy Daggs III

A little bit Buffy. A little bit Bogart. A dash of Nancy Drew. Veronica Mars takes the best and brainiest of the American culture of crimesolving and adds a unique vision of its own - brooding, edgy, darkly funny and just plain dark - to become one of the hottest, sleekest series of the new century. Veronica (Kristen Bell) is an outcast in a trendy SoCal beach town. Once she ran with Neptune High's in crowd. But she's on the outside after her best friend is murdered and her sheriff father accuses the wrong man as the perp: the dead girl's billionaire father. Dad loses his job, Veronica loses her popularity and both struggle to build a detective agency and new lives. E-mail scams, cults, car thefts - you name it, Veronica investigates it. But her obsession is the murder of her friend. And she'll take any risk to solve it.

Who knocked on Veronica's door at the end of Season 1: Duncan? Logan? Someone even more surprising?..I was hoping it would be you," the teen sleuth said. Now you can see who rated that rare Veronica smile, then uncover the newest mystery to envelop the town of Neptune. It begins when Veronica misses the bus - a school bus that minutes later plunges off a cliff into the Pacific. It may be a tragic accident. Or suicide. Or murder. It may (or may not) be tied to Lilly Kane's murder. But you know Veronica's on the case, even when other mysteries lead to danger and double crosses, even when her love life takes a couple of dives onto the pool deck, even when... well, wait and find out. Season 2: New characters, new revelations, same drop-dead dialogue and dead-on cool. Return to Mars. It's everything you like about Neptune.

The Virginian: The Complete Season Seven

John McIntire, James Drury, Jeanette Nolan, Doug McClure

Set on The Shiloh Ranch in the Wyoming Territory in the 1880s, The Virginian is the story of the foreman of the ranch, known as The Virginian (James Drury), and his quest to maintain an orderly lifestyle at Shiloh. The Virginian was the first 90 minute television western, airing in prime time on NBC from 1962-1971. The stellar cast from Season Seven includes James Drury, Doug McClure, John McIntire, Jeanette Nolan and David Hartman. Based upon Owen Wister's great 1902 novel of the American West, The Virginian was set in the semi-mythical town of Medicine Bow, Wyoming in the 1890s and chronicled the lives and relationships of the people who came west and settled the wild land.

Wagon Train: The Complete Season Six

John McIntire, Frank McGrath, Denny Miller

Inspired by the classic western film Wagonmaster, directed by John Ford (The Searchers, Stagecoach), Wagon Train debuted on Wednesday, September 18, 1957 on the NBC Television Network. Following the stories of a wagon train as it leaves Missouri on it's way to California, each episode focuses on a personal story of courage and perseverance of not just the main cast, but of the westward-bound emigrants as they made the perilous journey from the banks of the Mississippi to the Pacific shores. In the face of great odds, their uplifting, heart-warming, and at times heart-breaking stories tell the tale of how the west was truly won. They were hard-working people, determined and driven by the promise of rich fertile land and the freedom and prosperity that it would bring. But to get there they would have to make the hardest trip of their lives and to succeed they would need strong, knowledgeable people to lead the way.

For $1,000 a day, vacationers can indulge whims at the theme park called Westworld. They can bust up a bar or bust out of jail, drop in on a brothel or get the drop on a gunslinger. It's all safe: the park's lifelike androids are programmed never to harm the customers. But not all droids are getting with the program. Michael Crichton (Jurassic Park, Twister) wrote and made his directing debut with this futuristic thriller that heralded moviemaking's future as the first feature to use digitized images. Richard Benjamin and James Brolin portray pals confronted by a simulated reality turned real. And Yul

Loretta Young
One of Hollywood's brightest stars, Loretta Young announced her retirement from film in 1953, and promptly signed a contract with Proctor & Gamble and the National Broadcasting Corporation (NBC) to produce and star in her own dramatic anthology television series, The Loretta Young Show. The show ran for eight seasons from 1953 to 1961, making Young one of the first major Hollywood stars to build a successful career in the fledgling medium of television. She won the first of her three Emmy Awards in 1953, becoming the first actress to win both an Oscar and an Emmy.

Howard Vernon, Annouchka, Nadine Pascale, Pierre Escourrou
In a small lakeside town, young women are disappearing without a trace. The superstitious locals blame „The Lake of Ghosts“, because of the lake's haunting past, but the town's mayor (Howard Vernon) seems reluctant, or powerless to take any action. When another woman is found dead near the lake, with her throat ripped out, a reporter comes to town and soon discovers that the lake harbors a terrible secret dating back to World War II. It is then a group of local Resistance fighters take action against a troop of Nazi zombie soldiers invading their town, as they have come back from the dead. And now, whenever the waters at Zombie Lake are disturbed, the dead will rise!

BMF: The Rise And Fall Of A Hip-Hop Drug Empire

In 15-years the Black Mafia Family, or BMF as they were called, made close to 300 million dollars trafficking cocaine from Atlanta to Los Angeles. In the Hip-Hop music industry they created a front company called BMF Entertainment, which was a perfect mix of drugs, violence, and street cred that makes their story Hip-Hop's version of the Godfather. This film explores the story of the 15-year investigation by the DEA, FBI and an elite drug task force called HIDTA, which resulted in 41 defendants across the country being charged in one of the largest drug conspiracy cases ever.

Since their formation in 1968 Led Zeppelin had barely put a foot wrong. By 1971 they were being tagged „best band in the world“ by Rolling Stone magazine, and when „Stairway to Heaven“ from their redoubtable forth hit the decks and the airwaves that November, many doubted whether even the mighty Zep could reach any higher, but if '73's Houses of the Holy hinted at the band treading water, 1974 found them beginning to record what was to become arguably the most ambitious release of the bands career.

Lauritz Melchior: The Art Of The Heldentenor In Opera And Song - Volume 1 & 2

The voice of Danish tenor Lauritz Melchior (1890-1973) has come to be regarded as the standard by which all other Wagnerian tenors are judged. „Without him we would have a limited notion how well Wagner's tenor roles can sound,“ wrote J.B. Steane about this Danish singer who singularly defined the category heldentenor (the type of „heroic tenor“ voice needed to sing Wagner's most demanding tenor roles). Astounding vocal power and stamina, beauty and evenness of tone, accuracy of intonation, perfect legato - these are the qualities which come together in Lauritz Melchior, as in no other tenor before or since. In addition, he possessed a robust sense of humor and unique personal charm which endeared him to a large and diverse public. This program devoted to Melchior's appearances on The Voice of Firestone further reveals the tenor as a consummate artist and a thoroughly engaging personality.

The Move: The Lost Broadcasts

The Move were formed in 1965 by bassist-vocalist Chris 'Ace' Kefford who was the original leader. However he was soon usurped by the multitalented guitarist, singer and songwriter Roy Wood who undoubtedly one of Rock music's true polymaths. He composed all the group's UK singles and, from 1968, also sang lead vocals on many songs. The music got better and better as Roy Wood progressed as a songwriter, but when Carl Wayne left in 1970 he was replaced by Jeff Lynne, late of massively under-rated band The Idle Race, and the dynamic of the band changed forever. The final line-up of 1972 was the trio of Wood, Bev and Jeff Lynne, who transitioned the group into the Electric Light Orchestra.

Beauty Is Embarrassing: The

Neuankündigungen DVD & Blu-ray Disc USA

Wayne White Story

For more than 30 years, Wayne White has made an indelible mark on the creative world. As a designer, painter, puppeteer, sculptor and musician, White created images and ideas that are an integral - yet sometimes subconscious - part of the pop-culture lexicon. Part biography, part live performance, Beauty Is Embarrassing tells the irreverent and inspiring story of this one-of-a-kind visual artist and raconteur. The film traces White's career from his stint as an underground cartoonist in New York's East Village to his big break as a designer, puppeteer and voice-over actor on Pee-wee's Playhouse (for which he won three Emmys), as well as his work animating music videos for The Smashing Pumpkins („Tonight, Tonight“) and Peter Gabriel („Big Time“). At its core, Beauty Is Embarrassing shows what it takes for one uniquely talented, profanely hilarious and utterly uncompromising artist to make it in America.

Big Cats: Secret Lives

For 30 years, John Varty has translated his passion for the natural world into a series of remarkable relationships with some of the most dangerous creatures on earth - living with them in the wild, on their own terms . . . and on their own turf. Nine Lives will track his journey from a kid who grew up killing as many big cats as he could . . . to a pioneer of conservation and ecotourism on the same game reserve where his family had been hunting predators for almost 100 years. Along the way, Nine Lives will tell the story of his most intimate relationships with big cats: a wild mother leopard, an abandoned lion cub, two adopted leopard cubs and his current project - bringing two captive-bred tiger cubs to Africa and teaching them to survive in the wild. Over time, Varty would be accepted into one of nature's most exclusive clubs . . . the private lives of apex predators, eventually at very close range. He would live with - and make films about - some cats for years - creating a remarkable chronicle of wildlife behavior and a new kind of intimacy between human and predator.

Bully

Here are the facts: Thirteen million kids will be bullied in the U.S. this year, making bullying the most common form of violence experienced by young people in the nation. Three million students will be absent each month because they feel unsafe at school. Thirty percent of children who reported being bullied said they sometimes brought weapons to school. School personnel are reported to notice or intervene in only one out of every twenty-five incidents. Fifty percent of the time, when an upstander intervenes in bullying, the bullying stops within ten seconds. Bullying is a serious problem, and the solutions belong to us all. The Bully Project, the social outreach campaign inspired by the film, has screened Bully for more than 250,000 educators and students nationwide, in a supported educational context, including curriculum and professional development tools to enrich the experience. Chartres And The Spirit Of The Middle Ages

For over 1,000 years pilgrims have been flocking to Chartres. It is not the city which attracts them, but the Cathedral of Notre Dame. Then as now it fascinates people, albeit for different reasons. When it was built people saw it as a holy place, a place which promised blessing, hope and relief from the trials and tribulations of life. At that time the faithful understood its message immediately, for them the cathedral was a picture book. For people in the 20th century it is an over-dimensional edifice of stone, a closed book. They have to learn to decipher laboriously, letter by letter, what it has to say. The vibrant pictorial language and the fascinating architecture of this church recreate a vivid portrait of an age which was named the Dark Middle Ages because, for such a long time, very few people had any knowledge or understanding of it. No building is better able to cast light upon this darkness than this cathedral.

Detroit's story has encapsulated the iconic narrative of America over the last century: the Great Migration of African Americans escaping Jim Crow; the rise of manufacturing and the middle class; the love affair with automobiles; the flowering of the American dream; and now . . . the collapse of the economy and the fading American mythos. With its vivid, painterly palette and haunting score, Detropia sculpts a dreamlike collage of a grand city teetering on the brink of dissolution. These soulful pragmatists and stalwart philosophers strive to make ends meet and make sense of it all, refusing to abandon hope or resistance. Their grit and pluck embody the spirit of the Motor City as it struggles to survive postindustrial America and begins to envision a radically different future.

The Devil Came On Horseback

An up-close, honest, and uncompromising look at the crisis in Darfur, The Devil Came On Horseback exposes this on-going tragedy as seen through the eyes of one American witness.

Using the exclusive photographs and first hand testimony of former U.S. Marine Captain Brian Steidle, the film goes on an emotionally charged journey into the heart of Darfur, Sudan, where in 2004, Steidle became witness to a genocide that to date has claimed over 400,000 lives. As an official military observer, Steidle had access to parts of the country that no journalist could penetrate. Unprepared for what he would witness and experience, Steidle returned to the U.S. armed with his photographs, intent on exposing the images and stories of lives systematically destroyed. A 2007 world premiere at the Sundance Film Festival, this astonishingly propulsive and dramatic film from award-winning filmmakers Annie Sundberg and Ricki Stern (The Trials of Darryl Hunt) is a heartfelt account of what this particular American witness saw and, just as important, what he did afterward.

Joe Frazier: When The Smoke Clears

Joe Frazier

Smokin' Joe Frazier is considered one of the greatest heavyweights of all time. This film brings to life his remarkable story, including intimate interviews with Joe shortly before his death in November 2011. Born in poverty in the rural South, he moved to Philadelphia and trained as an amateur boxer. After winning the Olympic Gold, he turned pro and became a huge star. His matches with Muhammad Ali and George Foreman were billed as the greatest matches of the 20th century. The story isn't only about boxing. In America in the '60s and '70s, politics affected everything - including sports. Muhammad Ali's refusal to be drafted for the Vietnam War contrasted with Frazier's apolitical stance. Their bitter rivalry became a metaphor for the bitter divisions convulsing the United States. Spectacular archive footage of the matches, interviews with key players in the story and unparalleled access to the man himself make this historic film truly a main event not to be missed.

Hitler's Forgotten Nazis

Fearing, superbly well trained and ruthlessly dedicated to realizing their Führer's monstrous dream of German world superiority, the Waffen-SS looms large in military histories of the 20th century's most harrowing conflict. However, what most of these accounts fail to mention is that, by war's end, more than half of these elite commandos were not even German! Hitler's Forgotten Nazis provides a powerfully insightful new look at the ferocious „foreign fighters“ who swelled the ranks of the SS. Hailing from every part of German-occupied Europe, not to mention North Africa, the Middle East and India, this group eventually numbered upwards of 535,000 men. What motivated these soldiers to place their lives on the line for a racist Reich that despised them? And how did they interact with the ethnically „pure“ officers and troops of the Wehrmacht? This startling 4-DVD Collector's Video-Book provides the answers to these and many other questions, shedding light on a long-suppressed aspect of the Nazi war machine! How To Survive The Plague

How To Survive A Plague is the story of the brave young men and women who successfully reversed the tide of an epidemic, demanded the attention of a fearful nation, and stopped AIDS from becoming a death sentence. This improbable group of activists bucked oppression and infiltrated government agencies and the pharmaceutical industry, helping to identify promising new medication and treatments and move them through trials and into drugstores in record time. In the process, they saved their own lives and ended the darkest days of a veritable plague, while virtually emptying AIDS wards in American hospitals. - Theirs is a classic tale of activism that has since inspired movements for change in everything from breast cancer research to Occupy Wall Street. - How To Survive A Plague is „extraordinary, remarkable, and one of the most important documentaries in years or decades.“ -Andrew O'Hehir, Salon.

Manufactured Landscapes (Blu-ray)

Manufactured Landscapes is the striking new documentary on the world and work of renowned artist Edward Burtynsky. Internationally acclaimed for his large scale photographs of manufactured landscapes - quarries, recycling yards, factories, mines and dams - Burtynsky creates stunningly beautiful art from civilization's materials and debris. The film follows him through China, as he shoots the evidence and effects of that country's massive industrial revolution. With breathtaking sequences, such as the opening tracking shot through an almost endless factory, the filmmakers also extend the narratives of Burtynsky's photographs, allowing us to meditate on our impact on the planet and witness both the epicenters of industrial endeavor and the dumping ground of its waste. In the spirit of such environmentally enlightening hits as An Inconvenient Truth and Rivers And Tides, Manufactured Landscapes powerfully shifts our consciousness about the world and the way we live in it, without simplistic judgments or reductive resolutions.

CM Punk, The Miz, John Cena, Kane, Randy Orton, Big Show, Sheamus, Daniel Bryan, Wade Barrett

With WrestleMania 29 on the horizon, the last stop on the road to the biggest show of the year is the callous coliseum known as the Elimination Chamber. With the WrestleMania line up taking shape, the WWE and World Heavyweight Champions face the most daunting challenge in any championship reign - outlasting five other competitors in a barbaric steel chamber for the right to carry the title into the show of shows for a chance at immortality. In one of the most unpredictable matches of the year, two Superstars start in the middle of the ring and four pods open at random during the course of the match, adding another Superstar to the fray. Who will have the iron will to emerge victorious? Plus, several other rivalries begin to reach a boiling point as the entire Raw and SmackDown rosters aim to prove themselves worthy of the grandest stage.
